NORRIS WINS HIS SENATE RACE

Cubs Beat Robins, 3-2, in 11 Innings

40,000 See Blake Shade Vance.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

You never saw a ball game with as many chills and thrills as the one yesterday in which the Cubs whipped Dazzy Vance and the rest of the Brooklyn Robins, 3 to 2, in eleven innings. It was a gorgeous affair that sent away an overflow crowd of 40,000 gathering with excitement.

The victory put the Cubs a shade more than a full game ahead of the second Robins, who until recently had looked upon the National league's top berth as theirs, not to be snatched away by man or devil. It also lifted their margin over the highly respected New York Giants to four games.

Blake Pitching Hero.

Freddie Blake, the tough luck West Virginian, who has won only six games all year, and none since he beat the Robins on July 18, was the conquering hero. But if Freddie ever has said anything mean about the support which so frequently has faltered behind him, he'll have to take it back. Every man on the team was a whiz on the defensive and the offensive was almost as completely praiseworthy.

There is much to tell about the details of the day's triumph, and we'll attend to the narrative later on. Right now we want you to read how the winning run was put across in the eleventh.

English Starts Rally.

There were groans as Blair opened the eleventh with a gentle tap to Wright. Then up came Woody English, who Vance and his teammates frankly state is the most poisonous person in baseball in so far as their victory plans are concerned. Woody singled, his third hit of the afternoon, after which Cuyler singled to center for his third successive hit. English raced to third. Hack Wilson came up, expecting no favors from his old pal, Dazzy, and promptly was given an intentional walk, filling the bases.

Vance threw three straight wild ones to Stephenson and it looked like an anti-climax for a great ball game. No one likes to see a fine pitcher force in the winning run. Dazzy threw a strike and Stevie let it pass. Dazzy threw another strike and Stevie let it sing past without offering at it.

Stevie Ends It.

Here was a spot—the bases full, the winning run on third, a chance for a double play clear around the diamond and the count three balls and two strikes on the batter. Stevie was equal to the occasion. Dazzy rared back with everything he had and let fly, and Stevie smacked the ball for a single off Gilbert's glove, English scoring with the winning run.

Usually fans are inclined to forget the defensive play in their glee over a successful attack. But you couldn't have seen yesterday's battle without being greatly impressed with the defensive play, especially of the Cubs. Take the Robin eighth for instance:

Babe Herman, one of the craftiest hitters in baseball, led off the eighth with a triple, his fourth hit of the game and his third for extra bases. Babe at this point seemed a cinch to break up the ball game. The percentages of a man scoring from third with none out is terrific, as all baseball mathematicians know. There was Babe on third, rarin' to break the 2 to 2 tie. Bissonette walked. Wright grounded to Grimm, who threw to Hartnett. Herman backed up and was tagged, Hartnett to English to Hargrave, Blake tagged Babe in the run down, but the runner previously had been called out by Umpire Klem because he ran out of the line to avoid Hartnett.

Cuyler Throws Out Bissonette.

But runners still were on second and first with only one out. Lopez, the hard hitting young Robin catcher, next rammed a line single into right. No one thought that Bissonette could be kept from scoring from second. But they reckoned without Cuyler's arm. Ki threw out Del by an eyelash. It was a magnificent throw and a stellar bit of work by Hartnett, who took the shot and put the ball on Bissonette in lightning fashion. The final out was supplied when English tagged Bressler's mean bouncer and threw him out.

In the ninth the Robins had the bases full and couldn't score, and

POSSESSION AND USE OF LIQUOR IN HOME IS NOT AGAINST THE LAW

Miami, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Possession and use of intoxicating liquor in the home by the family and guests does not constitute a violation of federal law, Federal Judge Ritter ruled here today.

The court also held liquor may be manufactured in the home for the use of the family and guests. While manufacture is a technical violation, Judge Ritter decided, no warrant can be obtained to search a home without an affidavit the liquor is being sold, and, unless the latter is true, the home is free from search.

The ruling was given in dismissing a charge of possession and manufacture of liquor in the home of Mrs. Mary Finn of Miami.

LARGEST BEACON ARRIVES, PLACED ATOP BUILDING

The Lindbergh beacon, the gift of Elmer Sperry to the city of Chicago, arrived here yesterday and was raised to position 600 feet above Michigan avenue atop the Palmolive building. It is the most powerful beacon ever constructed, having a beam 500 miles in length.

The two billion candle power beacon weighs more than a ton. By its light pilots will be able to read a newspaper 50 miles away. The beam will be visible to pilots 300 miles away from Chicago. The beam would be visible 200 miles farther but at distances greater than 300 miles, due to the earth's curvature, it is at an altitude too great for airplanes to reach. The beacon will be dedicated during the national air races Aug. 23 to Sept. 1.

The Tung On sank in two minutes. The Lien Hsiang was disabled.

St. Louis Pair Vanish on Trip; Plot Is Feared

Defiance, Ohio, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Believed by police to be victims of St. Louis gangsters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kern, an aged and prominent St. Louis couple who had a $70,000 bank draft in their possession, were sought by authorities tonight after they left a railroad train here early today and mysteriously disappeared in an automobile.

Detectives were working on a theory that Mr. and Mrs. Kern were persuaded by glib tongued gangsters, impersonating good citizens, to quit the train and continue their journey from St. Louis to Toledo by automobile, and that they were kidnaped after they entered the automobile. The detectives' theory was that Mr. and Mrs. Kern then were robbed.

Kern, a St. Louis flour buyer, and his wife left St. Louis last night on a Wabash train. They had intended to use the money for a real estate transaction in Toledo today, but did not keep their appointment in the latter city.

Precautions Taken by Bank.

The money was withdrawn from a St. Louis bank yesterday. Kern first asked for his entire deposit of $90,000, and wanted it in $5,000 bills. J. Hugh Powers, vice president of the bank, and detectives there persuaded Kern, who is 70 years old, to take $70,000 in a negotiable bank draft instead.

When Kern left St. Louis word was sent to Toledo detectives to meet him on arrival and to endeavor to protect him. During the train trip he received two telegrams, one urging him to leave the train at Fort Wayne, Ind., to meet a group of persons. Mr. and Mrs. Kern did not act on that telegram, but spoiled the plans for a protective reception at Toledo by quietly leaving the train at Defiance.

Seen to Enter Auto.

Several persons saw the aged couple enter an automobile with three men. At that time they apparently were acting of their own will. No trace was found of them after the automobile, a sedan with an Illinois license, was driven away. Toledo detectives opened the investigation after the Wabash train arrived with the couple missing.

Toledo police found their first clew this afternoon in trying to locate the Kerns when it was learned that a Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kern had registered in the Hotel Secor here last Friday. It is believed they may have talked with members of the gang while here.

Maid Tells of Phone Call.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A maid in the home of Charles Kern today said Mr. and Mrs. Kern had left at 5:45 p. m. yesterday to catch a 6:30 o'clock train for Toledo. The maid added that at 3:45 a. m. today she received a long distance call from a man known to her and the Kerns as "Schultz," who previously had been a visitor at the home. She said Schultz asked whether the Kerns had left and by what route. She replied they had left, but she did not know by what road.

The maid described Schultz as a heavy set man of medium height, blonde, and about fifty years old. She said it was her understanding that Kern had an appointment today at a Toledo hotel.

PILES UP SAFE MARGIN OVER REGULAR G. O. P.

Ohio Wet Democrat Is Far Ahead.

[By the Associated Press.]

First comprehensive returns in yesterday's primary contests showed:

Senator George W. Norris, independent Republican leader in the senate, was leading in the race for renomination on the Republican ticket in Nebraska against William M. Stebbins, "regular" candidate.

Ohio Democrats gave a lead to a wet for the senate and a dry for governor. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, an advocate of repeal of the eighteenth amendment, had a majority of 18,000 over his closest rival in the five cornered senate race. George White, bearing indorsement of the Anti-Saloon league, led Stephen M. Young for the gubernatorial nomination.

Robinson Leading, 4 to 1.

Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic leader in the senate and running mate of Alfred E. Smith in 1928, had almost a four to one lead over Tom W. Campbell for the Democratic nomination in Arkansas.

In Alabama John H. Bankhead maintained a distinct advantage over Frederick I. Thompson for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Senator Heflin, the incumbent, must run as an independent. He was barred from the Democratic primary for his opposition to Alfred E. Smith.

In the Oklahoma run-off primary to select Democratic candidates for the senate and governor, Thomas P. Gore, former senator, was leading C. J. Wrightsman for the senate and William H. Murray had a big margin over Frank Butiram in the gubernatorial contest.

NORRIS LEAD PILES UP

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 12.—(AP)—United States Senator George W. Norris was piling up a steadily increasing plurality over his opponents as returns poured in from Nebraska's senatorial primary tonight.

Standard bearer of insurgent Republicanism, Norris had based much of his campaign on criticism of the Hoover administration, denouncing its tariff and farm relief measures.

Inasmuch as his principal opponent, William M. Stebbins, had the endorsement of the "regular" wing of the party, the primary was regarded by many political observers as a test of the administration strength in the farm belt.

Vote in Senate Contest.

Returns from 658 out of 2,030 precincts in the state showed:

Norris	35,103
Stebbins	24,734

Aaron Read, who filed for the Republican senatorial nomination as a wet candidate, but who virtually withdrew from the race a week ago, trailed with 2,161 votes.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, former Nebraska senator, was leading his dry opponent, Dr. Jennie Callfas, for the Democratic nomination by a margin of three to one. Dr. Callfas was running with the indorsement of the W. C. T. U.

Gov. Arthur J. Weaver had a margin of 38,000 votes for renomination in the returns from 623 of the 2,030 precincts over Harry O. Palmer of Omaha. The vote was: Weaver, 44,179; Palmer, 16,501.

Flyers Near Hunter Mark in St. Louis

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13 [Wednesday]. —(AP)— The endurance monoplane Greater St. Louis, piloted by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, was within nine hours of equaling the 544-hour record of the Hunter brothers at 12:11 a. m. today. All appeared well aboard.

Jackson and O'Brine expect to be recrowned kings of the endurance flyers today, but they don't intend to return to earth for the ceremonies, not for another two or three weeks, anyway, despite their immediate goal, that of dethroning Kenneth and John Hunter, the Illinois boys who set a 554 hour record at Chicago last month, was just over the horizon tonight.

"The voice of the little yellow and orange bungalow," as O'Brine has dubbed the endurance plane in speaking over the short wave length transmitter, served notice that the airmen have no thought of quitting the sky soon. The flyers expect to point their rugged ship toward a 1,000 hour record, or six weeks of sustained flight.

The flight has been backed only by the flyers themselves, who are using their own planes, and they have had hard sledding financially. Depending on public subscriptions, the flyers have at times faced a deficit. Only last week O'Brine ordered one of his automobiles sold to obtain money to keep the plane aloft.

Dr. Rongetti Sentenced to 1 to 14 Years

Dr. Amante Rongetti failed to win a new trial yesterday after his third conviction on a charge of causing the death of Miss Loretta Enders through an illegal operation. He was sentenced to imprisonment for 1 to 14 years for manslaughter after Judge Daniel P. Trude overruled a motion for a new trial, although last week the judge indicated he might order a fourth trial.

Attorney William Scott Stewart, who has defended Rongetti through four trials in which murder by abortion was the charge, obtained a stay of 60 days in which to perfect an appeal to the Supreme court, and Rongetti was allowed to remain at liberty under $25,000 bond. The arguments yesterday were brief.

Argue Verdict Justified.

Last week Attorney Stewart listed two instructions given to the jury by Judge Trude, which the Illinois Supreme court previously had ruled were erroneously given in the first and second trials in which convictions were followed by reversals. At that time Judge Trude said the state's attorney's office was at fault.

Yesterday Assistant State's Attorneys Owen West and John Hampton argued that despite the errors the verdict was justified. Judge Trude said that though there were errors he did not believe the jury was influenced by them and he passed the plea to the Supreme court.

Rongetti Testimony Cited.

"I think Rongetti's testimony had a great deal to do with the verdict," Judge Trude said. "He wasn't a good witness in his own behalf."

Rongetti's punishment was fixed at death by the jury that heard the first case. When the Supreme court gave him a new trial he was found guilty of manslaughter. This verdict, too, was set aside, resulting in the third trial, which was concluded yesterday by Judge Trude's decision.

Between his second and third trials Rongetti was found not guilty of the death of another woman through an illegal operation.

Drug Stores Offer Standard Articles at Lower Prices

In a drought it takes an expert to tell a good umbrella from a poor one. If offered a rain stick right now, at what was represented as a bargain price, who would know that was true? But you all know your particular brand of face powder, perfume and toilet soap; or—at the other end of the table—your particular brand of razor blade and shaving cream. A drug store's articles are like that. They are standard articles of standard size and quality. And any one who is at all familiar with prices knows what he is getting for his money at a pharmacy.

Prices of the run of articles available at a drug store have been steadily seeking a lower trend for some years. In some cases it has been a reduction in price of only a few cents on a quarter article or five cents on one that retails at fifty cents. But a nickel saved in fifty cents is a 10 per cent savings. And applied to all articles in the family budget 10 per cent saved on family purchases would accumulate a tidy sum.

Right now many savings like that can be made. A dollar buys more of the standard items a good drug store sells than in any recent year.

Abandons Vacation to Direct Relief.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—President Hoover today announced that, because of the drought situation, he had abandoned his contemplated vacation trip to the Rocky mountain national parks, scheduled for the last two weeks in August. Mr. Hoover said he would remain in or near the capital to direct drought relief work.

Cut Freight Rates in Half.

Railroad rate reductions of fifty per cent on live stock, feed, hay, and water moved to and from drought stricken areas became effective today throughout the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river.

This announcement was made at the White House following a conference between Mr. Hoover and leading railroad executives.

Each of these developments, preliminary to the gathering of twelve governors here on Thursday to map out a program of practical aid to farmers hurt by the long dry spell, was seen as evidence that the President is thoroughly convinced of the need for emergency action and already is obtaining results.

Immediate benefits will be derived in Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio by the special half rail rates, which, it was explained, will be put into effect in all of the other affected states probably tomorrow. The reductions were made possible by a blanket order of the interstate commerce commission on Saturday, removing legal barriers from such a rate cut on products shipped in or out of the afflicted districts.

Arrange for Rate Applications.

Final arrangements for the special rates were agreed upon by the President, Col Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives; Robert N. Collyer, chairman of the Traffic Executives' association for the eastern territory, and W. J. Gormley of the car service division, American Railway association.

In order to make the new rates directly available where they are needed arrangements are made for the department of agriculture to certify to the railroad companies of each state where the drought is sufficiently acute to justify them. Any dealer or farmer desiring to move any of the emergency commodities will report his needs to the local county agent, who may approve or disapprove the application and notify the local station agent of the railroad. A special liaison officer in Washington will handle negotiations on particular cases between the department of agriculture and the railroads.

Prevents Speculation Benefits.

It is believed that use of the county agents, who are under the department of agriculture, will prevent any one taking speculative advantage of the lower rates. The applicant must show the county agent that his shipments are for relief purposes and not for speculation or ordinary commercial transactions.

The most important shipping expected under the half rates is expected to be that of corn, wheat, and other live stock feed from supply centers to farmers whose feed crops have been wiped out by the drought and the movement of cattle from the affected areas to terminal markets. In the most arid spots some water is being shipped by tank cars. Emergency human foodstuffs also will be shipped at the fifty per cent rates.

No General Rain in Sight.

The United States weather bureau today, despite the dive taken by the temperature in many parts of the country, could see no prospect of a break in the drought. Although cool weather has brought a welcome relief to sweltering city dwellers, it will require a general rainfall to aid the farmers. Only local showers were predicted for the next two or three days.

The department of agriculture, in a special report today, pointed out that the drought has brought sharp increases in the prices of farm products, and warned that the higher prices will be reflected at the retail stores.

"Farm products as a group began to rise again toward the middle of August, after months of continuous decline," said the report. "Grain, feeds, cotton, calves, hogs, potatoes, butter, and eggs all turned generally upward in the market the first half of August. The rise in foodstuffs, however, cuts both ways, by adding to the burdens of those who are forced to buy because of short pastures and increasing the farm cost on the animal prod-

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—There is immediate need for organized drought relief for farmers in the southern third of Indiana, Gov. Harry G. Leslie will inform President Hoover Thursday.

Basing his information on surveys made by government agents at the agriculture station at Purdue university and by the Indiana farm bureau federation, the Indiana governor will say that the corn and grass crops in southern Indiana are ruined beyond any hope of yield this year, and that conditions also are none too good in numerous parts of central and north central Indiana.

The Indiana Farm Bureau federation has already begun relief work through its cooperative purchasing department. The federation has in the last few days bought 300 tons of hay in Kansas and has sent a buyer to Kansas to be prepared to buy indefinitely to save Indiana live stock.

Plan Seed Corn Pool.

The federation is asking its more fortunate northern members to give a bushel of seed corn each for a pool of seed to be distributed free in the southern counties. Fodder and oats straw is being saved in the northern counties for the federation for free distribution in the south.

Gov. Leslie will tell the President that Indiana's corn yield is cut at least 30 per cent, that there are almost unprecedented shortages in fruit and soy beans, that pasture loss, milk shortage, and honey shortage are unprecedented, and that unless rain is immediately forthcoming Indiana's large tomato crop also will be seriously curtailed.

The Indiana highway commission today ordered employment of southern Indiana citizens wherever possible. Leslie also will ask President Hoover for advancement of Indiana's share of federal highway funds for 1931.

Ask U. S. Aid on Taxes.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The agricultural branch of the Kentucky Bankers' association, meeting with Gov. Flem D. Sampson today, formulated a plan whereby the state banks, with the aid of the federal government, would underwrite the tax bills of drought stricken farmers.

The plan is to ask the federal government to reimburse banks which pay the farmers' taxes, the money to be loaned to the banks by an agency set up by the President, the federal government taking the tax receipts as security.

The plan will be presented to President Hoover at the governors' conference at Washington Thursday, either by Gov. Sampson, who has not yet decided whether to attend, or Senator John M. Robsion, his representative.

The bankers decided that tenant farmers, who would not be benefited by the tax plan, should be cared for by the Red Cross.

Health Conditions Serious.

Dr. A. T. McCormack, director of the state board of health, will present his report to President Hoover.

"Under no circumstances could health conditions in Kentucky be worse," he said. "Although typhoid fever and other diseases are not beyond control, farmers are already beginning to feel the want of food."

Reports of county agents already sent to Washington reveal more than 50 per cent of the state's corn and forage crops are gone and thousands of families will have to be fed this winter.

Light rains in Kentucky this week were of slight value to crops. Kentucky's five month drought continues.

Evanston Discusses Rubber Tires for Milk Wagons

An ordinance requiring milk wagons to be equipped with rubber tires was being considered yesterday by the judiciary committee of the Evanston city council at a special meeting called by Ald. Charles Fullerton, its chairman. He said many of his colleagues had complained of being kept awake by the wagons.

FOREIGN EXPERTS PRAISE MIDWEST FARM OPERATION

Find No Outward Evidence of Depression.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Two distinct impressions, both favorable, of the central United States were voiced yesterday by a group of agricultural economists representing British, Irish, Scotch, Finnish, German, New Zealand, and South African colleges and governmental agencies, visiting Chicago. In the group were professors from Oxford, Darthington and Cambridge universities.

"We are struck by the gigantic, well organized production and distribution systems which center in Chicago for the handling of American farm produced foods and fibers on the one hand," said G. M. Dykes, an official of the Empire Marketing board of London.

"Depression Isn't Evident."

"On the other hand, we have been impressed on our tour of your corn belt and your cities by the observation that if a depression exists in the states it certainly isn't evident from the mode of living and spending we have seen."

The economists, under the guidance of Prof. H. C. M. Case of the University of Illinois, were given a luncheon yesterday by the agriculturel committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, following a tour of the stock yards, the board of trade and other farm industries of the city. They will attend the international conference on agricultural economics at Syracuse, N. Y., later this month.

Sees Many Trade Changes.

"International trade relationships are undergoing many changes in recent months," said G. F. Duncan of Edinburgh. "Agricultural products particularly are being considered in the tariffs and centralized efforts are being made toward buying and selling. You have your federal farm board setting up large central agencies to market your products. Other countries have similar groups or organizations for securing foodstuffs or protecting their growers' interests."

The Empire Marketing board, Mr. Dykes explained, is a governmental agency for research on the distribution of agricultural products, also assisting British farmers.

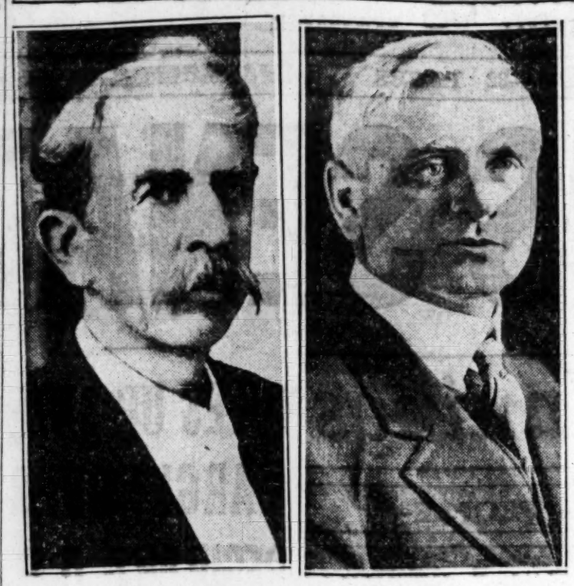

Dry Agent's Auto Spree Brings Threat of Jail

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—John H. McDermott, a federal prohibition agent attached to the Newark office, was sentenced in Jersy City tonight to pay a fine of $200 or serve thirty days in jail for driving his automobile while intoxicated on July 17. His automobile ran down a pedestrian, breaking his leg. McDermott appealed from the sentence handed down by Judge John Prout, who also ordered his driver's license revoked for two years.

Removes Shoes at Beach in Evanston; Is Fined $5

Although he had removed only his shoes and socks when Policeman Edward Witt arrested him at the Clark street beach in Evanston Sunday, Jacob Rosenbaum, 32 years old, 1140 North Francisco avenue, was convicted of indecent exposure yesterday. Said Magistrate Porter: 'His intention is clear; he was about to change into his bathing suit in his car in defiance of the law. Five dollars and costs."

Illinois Corn Crop Reduced by Drought to 62 Per Cent

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A decline in the corn crop of Illinois to 62 per cent on Aug. 1 placed the state average the lowest since 1901, when the condition was 51 per cent, a joint report of the United States and Illinois departments of agriculture announced today.

Earlier in the season growing conditions promised one of the best crops ever raised. Prolonged drought combined with excessive heat resulted in the decline, which was continuing at the close of the month when this survey was made.

"Small grain prospects," the report continued, "vary to some extent, but for the state as a whole are about average or better and of excellent quality. Yields have turned out better than straw indications and test weight is unusually heavy. Threshing is completed in the central and southern areas and nearing completion in the north.

Live Stock Beginning to Suffer.

"Live stock are still reported in fair condition, though beginning to show the effects of the feed shortage in the southern half of the state. The prolonged drought has resulted in a serious water supply problem over most of the central and southern counties.

"No section of the state has escaped varying damage from drought and heat, but in a general way corn and late crop conditions on Aug. 1 ranged from average in the north to spotted poor to fair through the central district and to mostly poor or a failure in the south. Bottom lands as a rule show up to advantage this season and have the better crop prospects. The condition of corn on Aug. 1 was estimated at 62 per cent, compared with 75 per cent a year ago and the ten year average of 77 per cent. This represents a drop of 22 points from the July 1 condition of 84 per cent. Corn got off to an ideal start.

"Fields were unusually clean and the crop withstood the drought fairly well up to the last week of July, with some southern exceptions. Crop prospects, however, dwindled rapidly following that time with damage continuing through the first eight days of August under the continued drought and scorching heat which prevailed. Deterioration was very marked in the southern half of the state and to lesser extent northward from this line. With favorable weather the northern portion of the state could show considerable improvement, but much of the damage in the central and southern portion is permanent.

Corn condition in the northern quarter of the state is reported at 77 per cent, the upper central area reports an average of 64 per cent, lower central area 60 per cent, and the southern quarter of the state 44 per cent of normal on Aug. 1.

Illinois Production Estimate.

"Production outlook based on the Aug. 1 condition is 263,796,000 bushels, against 311,500,000 last year and the last five year average of 326,691,000 bushels. This represents a drop of about 90,000,000 bushels from July 1 prospect.

"Illinois winter wheat at 17.8 bushels per acre is above average, and quality at 96 per cent is the best in years. The 1929 yield was 14.7 bushels per acre, and last ten year average is 16 bushels. State winter wheat production, 35,956,000 bushels, against 33,369,000 in 1929 and last five year average of 32,078,000 bushels. State spring wheat yield is above average. State production outlook, 4,407,000, against 3,163,000 bushels last year. United States all wheat production, 820,553,000 bushels, compared with 806,000,000 in 1929 and five year average of 833,000,000 bushels.

"The oat yield is up to average and is somewhat better than expected.

NORRIS LEADING NEBRASKA RACE FOR U. S. SENATE

Piles Up 10,000 Margin Over Regular G. O. P.

tion in today's statewide primary by giving former Congressman Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland a commanding plurality over his four opponents for the nomination for United States senator. Bulkley advocated repeal of the 18th amendment.

At the same time the Democrats were favoring former Congressman George White of Marietta, a dry candidate for governor, over Stephen M. Young, Cleveland, advocate of prohibition repeal, by a large majority.

Returns on the senatorial race from 5,473 precincts out of 8,956 in the state give:

R. J. Bulkley	45,284
W. W. Burbin	26,743
C. V. Truax	21,151
John McSweeney	20,280
G. S. Myers	10,769

Returns from 987 out of 8,956 in the state, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination give:

White	82,750
Young	47,621

Gov. Myers Y. Cooper and Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch were unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor and senator.

MURRAY NOMINATED

Oklahoma City, Aug. 12.—(AP)—William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, farmer, lawyer, and former cowboy, apparently had won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination from Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City oil operator and political novice, in the runoff primary on returns from almost half of the state tonight.

Buttram	94,182

Returns from 2,172 precincts for United States senator give:

Gore	123,581
Wrightsman	92,016

Murray, whose homely philosophy won him the rural districts, apparently had also made inroads into the city vote, credited to Buttram. "Alfalfa Bill" led the latter by 60,000 votes in the primary July 29.

Gore Managers Confident.

Campaign managers for Gore, who served in the United States senate thirteen years, were confident he would be victorious, winning the right to meet Senator W. B. Pine, Republican incumbent, and several independents, including J. C. Walton, ousted governor, in the fall election.

ROBINSON SWAMPS FOE

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 12.—(AP)—With one-sixth of the precincts in the state reported Senator Joe T. Robinson, minority leader in the senate and 1928 vice presidential nominee, was leading his opponent, Tom W. Campbell, more than three to one.

Gov. Harvey Parnell, seeking renomination, was maintaining a narrow lead over the nearest of his three opponents, Brooks Hays.

Senator Robinson had 16,417 votes to Campbell's 5,254 in 336 of the 2,028 precincts. In the governor's race 350 precincts gave Parnell 13,960, Hays 9,916; John Sheffield, 2,172, and Gray, 315.

BANKHEAD IN FRONT

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Returns from 183 of the 1,488 precincts of the state in today's Democratic primary in the race for the senatorial nomination gave John H. Bankhead of Jasper 4,852; Frederick I. Thompson of Mobile, 2,596. The winner must oppose Senator J. Thomas Heflin, who is running as an independent. He was barred from the Democratic primary for bolting Smith in 1928.

AN ELEVATOR BOY SINGS TO VICTORY IN FESTIVAL TEST

Colored Baritone Stops Show on South Side.

John Burdette, 32 years old, a Negro, runs an elevator all day long at the O. W. Richardson Furniture company's store, 125 South Wabash avenue. He has been running it for seven years, since coming to Chicago from Lexington, Ky. Nights he goes home to his family in their snug little apartment at 5944 South Park way. The family consists of Mrs. Burdette and their seven months old boy.

The chances are the customers at the store never remarked John's presence, except to notice that here was a very courteous operator.

John Takes Another Rôle.

Last night, if any of the customers had been on hand, they would have remarked John's presence. John wasn't at the store, and he wasn't home. He was on the stage of the Tivoli theater. He was in overalls, upheld by red suspenders, a red bandana about his neck. Five thousand people were spellbound.

John was singing the song that is of his blood and bone: the song that is the folklore of his race, "Old Man River." He stopped the show in the contest for baritones in his section of the city. The judges unanimously selected him as winner. He was called back five times. He will compete next week against Herbert Peterson, 3029 Ainslie street, at the Oriental theater for the honor of representing this city in the Chicagoland music festival a week from next Saturday night.

The judges at the Tivoli were Carl Craven, Charles Lagourgue, and Franklin L. Hathaway.

Some Other Winners.

Other winners of last night's music festival contests were:

Paradise theater—Herbert Peterson, 3029 Ainslie street, baritone, singing Handel's "Ombra mai fu," otherwise the famous Largo. The judges were Howard Baker, Mrs. May B. Baker, and R. W. Feldman, manager of the theater.

Uptown theater—Earl Johnson, 15 West Erie street, tenor. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Andelin and Billy Newell, the last named a member of the musical production now playing at the Uptown. Mr. Johnson came to Chicago after having been a garman's helper on the New York Central railway.

Marbro theater—Peter Maltese, 1013 South Claremont avenue, tenor, born in Italy; Minas A. Booras, 4418 North Sacramento avenue, baritone, born in the Dardanelles. The judges were Mrs. Rose Lutiger Gannon, assistant supervisor of music in the Chicago public schools; Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, and Benny Meroff, master of ceremonies of the Marbro.

TONIGHT'S CONTESTS

PARADISE THEATER — 6:30 o'clock—Bases—Guy Hamilton, 629 Barry avenue; Raymond George Steiner, 2423 Cullom avenue.

There will be no appearances of contestants at the Marbro and Uptown theaters.

Soloists have been requested to bring two numbers. The judges have asked that songs be selected which will require not more than two minutes each.

5,000 TO SING HALLELUJAH

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Chicago never heard anything like it. Imagine, if you can, a chorus of 5,000 voices, a small army of singers, all united under the baton of Noble Cain and pouring out an avalanche of tone in the magnificent Hallelujah chorus from Handel's fine old oratorio, "The Messiah."

Or rather, just wait a bit and you will not have to imagine it. Such a performance is to be one of the many spectacular features of the Chicagoland Music Festival when its program is given at Soldiers' field a week from next Saturday night.

What gives the tone of a fine organ its thrill? It is not the tone of any particular pipe or set of pipes, but rather the joint tone of hundreds and thousands of pipes. The myriad tone makers give an effect that no single medium, no matter how complex or delicately made, can hope to approach.

Similarly there is a thrill in an army of voices finer and more inspiring than any single voice, no matter how lovely or how carefully trained, has ever equaled or can hope to equal.

All Invited to Take Part.

By the way, how would you like to take part in this performance of the Hallelujah chorus yourself? Just express your willingness and you may. There are no ceremonies or difficulties about it. There will not even be a rehearsal. All that Mr. Cain asks is that you know the music and be willing to raise up your voice when he gives the signal with his baton.

A few days ago Mr. Cain expressed the belief, and events are proving him justified, that there are thousands of persons in Chicagoland who as present or past members of choral organizations have sung "The Messiah," and in singing it have conceived an undying love for it. He thought that these thousands would enjoy the opportunity of getting together once again to celebrate the grand old music by singing it. Since there are many important features to be presented on a single concert program the whole of "The Messiah" cannot be given, but only the Hallelujah chorus.

Get Ready to Fill Out Coupon.

So the only formality that you need observe is to fill out the coupon which you will find printed in editions of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE beginning tomorrow and send it to this newspaper's Music Festival editor. You will at once be enrolled as a member of the gigantic chorus.

You do not need to wait for your own choral organization to join. Come as an individual. A large number of choruses already have enrolled, but Soldiers' field is a large place, and there will be room for everybody. Just enroll yourself and you will be notified in plenty of time when and where to appear on the night of Saturday, Aug. 23.

It has every indication of being the most magnificent performance of the Hallelujah chorus in the memory of man. The music is one of the greatest moments of a great composer, and Mr. Cain is an inspiring and magnetic conductor.

TRAVELS FROM EUROPE ALONE

Met by Mother

After working two years to save money for her little daughter's trip to America, Mrs. Anna Kluczyk, 2232 Belmont avenue, was reunited with little Irmgard Schlipf, 5 years old, yesterday, when she stepped off the Broadway limited of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The little girl came all alone from Hamburg, Germany. After landing in New York she was helped by the Travelers' Aid society and during her railway trip a maid on the train looked after her. Irmgard had her doll to keep her from being lonely. She hadn't seen her mother for two years but she recognized her joyfully at the station.

"BOOP-DOOP" GIRL DENIES $40,000 GIFT IN GOTHAM

Helen Kane, "boop-a-doop" exponent, performing this week in Chicago, yesterday denied knowledge of $40,000 which is alleged to have been given to her last June by M. J. Posner, a partner in the Bond Dress company of New York, which is now involved in federal bankruptcy proceedings there.

According to dispatches from New York, creditors of the dress company yesterday obtained a court order restraining Miss Kane from withdrawing $40,000 from a New York bank. The dispatches also said that a process server was on the way to Chicago to take the singer back to New York to testify.

"It's all Greek to me," said Miss Kane as she was awaiting her cue to go on the stage.

"Did you know Mr. Posner in New York?" she was asked.

"Only vaguely," she replied.

"Then you haven't received word of the injunction to stop you from withdrawing $40,000?"

"No, because I don't have $40,000 in New York. And anyway, I don't know what you're talking about." She flirted her red skirt and was gone.

GRAND JURORS REFUSE TO INDICT 'VANITIES' CAST

But Earl Carroll Will Omit Two Features.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—Chalk up an error for Capt. James J. Coy, police critic of the seven lively arts. Roll the patrol wagon back into the garage. Off with the fan and on with the fandango, for a New York county grand jury has refused to indict Earl Carroll and three of the cast of his "Vanities" for presenting an indecent performance.

It took these tolerant Broadway men only twenty minutes to make up their minds this afternoon that the public's morals had not been injured by the revue and that police blushes are only skin deep. The police board of censorship, however, was not altogether routed. The nude fan dance of Faith Bacon and the scantie adjusting act of Jimmy Savo and Kay Carroll will not be restored to the show.

The critical Capt. Coy was the first witness to be heard by the jury after Judge Otto A. Rosalsky ruled the defendants were entitled to a jury trial and the defendants had appealed.

Policeman Falls as Dancer.

A lot of information leaked out of the jury room as to what happened. Coy was inside more than an hour and is reported to have attempted the difficult fan dance, using his straw hat as a fan. His muscular contortions, however, left the jurors cold, and they called for Miss Bacon, the dancing girl.

Miss Bacon tripped into the jury room wearing her new powder blue dress, a blue cloche hat and shoes and stockings and whatnots to match. She emerged wearing the same ensemble, to which was added a smile. There are those who say she danced for the jurors, but at any rate she waived immunity instead of her customary fan.

Earl Promises Change.

Miss Carroll, the chorus girl who had scantie trouble in the second act of the pre-raid "Vanities," also appeared to have a soothing effect on the jurors. Jimmy Savo, comedian and scantie adjuster to Mr. Carroll's ensemble, joined her in the room. Whether or not they gave their act, Mr. Carroll went in later and told the jurors he "wouldn't do it any more."

When the jurors had made up their mind that the police blushed too easily they called in Assistant Prosecutor Harold W. Hastings and informed him they could find no warrant for prosecution.

The defendants all kissed one another for the photographers and then Carroll said: "We wish to thank the grand jury. It was clearly a case of persecution." Savo said: "All I ever tried for was honest laughs." Miss Bacon did not say anything, but consented to pose again. Miss Carroll said: "Hello everybody." Then everybody kissed again and they all went up to 42d street.

Raided Last June.

The "Vanities" was raided last June and Carroll and eight others were arrested. Only the four heard today were held. The failure to indict came this afternoon as leaders of several religious groups were aligning themselves with the Catholic theater movement's attack on the stage. The Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, Episcopal bishop; Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi, and other church leaders expressed accord with the Catholic group, which terms the "present degradation of the stage a calamity" and points thumbs down on all except two Broadway shows.

WIDOW, 61, FINDS RUM RUNNING A PLEASANT TRADE

Rum running in a battered model T Ford has landed Mrs. Mary Hurn, 61 years old, in a cell in Michigan City, Ind., but she doesn't mind it a bit, she says. Mrs. Hurn is from Chicago, but admitted that the address she gave the Michigan City police—9622 Charles street—was an invention of the moment, and that she sometimes used a name other than Mary Hurn.

Clad in a calico dress of Mother Hubbard variety, her round blue eyes peering through gold rimmed spectacles, her gray hair drawn back tightly and screwed in a little knot behind, Mrs. Hurn seemed quite as much at home as if she were in a kitchen.

She'll Tell the Judge.

Settling down to spend her second night on a cell bunk, preparatory to being arraigned this morning on charges of transporting intoxicating liquor and of unlawful possession of liquor, Mrs. Hurn declared she could sleep anywhere, that she was rather glad to be jail, and that when she was tried she would tell the judge a thing or two about prohibition enforcement.

"My son—he's a baggage inspector with the Rock Island railroad—told me when I went into this business three years ago that he didn't like to have me making these trips," she said. "But I enjoy the traveling."

For 27 years Mrs. Hurn, a widow, supported herself, first as a housekeeper, then by taking boarders. For the last three years, she related, she traveled between Chicago and Detroit and other places. A man always drove the car, which, she said, was loaded with alcohol in Chicago. That was taken to Benton Harbor or other resorts and delivered. They then drove to Detroit and brought back whisky. Since last April, though, when whisky rose from $55 to $70 a case, Mrs. Hurn has refused to pay the price, she said.

"Chauffeur" Arrested, Too.

Running alcohol is not so profitable for Mrs. Hurn that she still doesn't have to pinch hit by taking in boarders, she said. Mrs. Hurn said she paid $10 a week and board to William Richards, who gave his address as 6342 South Morgan street, for driving her about.

Richards, who said he was suffering from tuberculosis, was arrested with Mrs. Hurn on Monday by Michigan City police when the pair went past a stoplight. The car had broken down Sunday afternoon just outside of the city and a garage was called to tow it in. Children who found the 38 gallons of alcohol hidden in the automobile notified police, who later inspected the car in the garage.

Mrs. Hurn said that she once had been an ardent prohibitionist, and was a loyal supporter of a church in Corydon, Ind., but had come to the conclusion that prohibition didn't work and couldn't work. A sense of adventure prompted her to find out how the law was violated, she said.

EXTRA POLICE IN CHINATOWN TO AVERT TONG WAR

CRIMINAL COURT.

Thomas Branch, sentenced one year to life in Joliet penitentiary for robbery by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Extra details of police were posted last night around Chicago's Chinatown to prevent a threatened outbreak of the tong war that has been simmering throughout the country for months. It is reported that the truce announced some time ago has been declared off.

No untoward demonstrations occurred here yesterday, following the killing on Monday of George Moy, 45 years old, a waiter at 23188 South State street. He was shot to death as he was walking in 22d street, near Federal street, with 8 year old Gilbert Lee. Chinese rounded up so far insist that the killing was the result of a personal quarrel.

BODY TAKEN FROM LAKE.

The body of a man, partly identified as that of Dewey Reefe, 30 years old, an employé of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus, was taken from the lake near 17th street yesterday afternoon. Reefe had gone swimming Saturday afternoon.

TELLER OF BANK DISAPPEARS WITH $71,000 IN CASH

Laurel, Miss., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Edward Jackson, 25, teller in the First National Bank of Laurel, was reported by the police today to have left Laurel late yesterday in his automobile with $71,000 of the bank's funds. Search has been started for him.

The news of the shortage became known today when the directors of the bank asked the police in Tampa, Fla., and New Orleans to watch for the missing teller and called a directors' meeting to take action.

Bank officials said Jackson left town without notifying his wife.

Jackson had been connected with the bank for about six years, having been selected from his graduating class at Laurel high school for a place in the bank because of the high marks he made in his studies.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12.—Otto Zelmer, 45, and his three children were blown to pieces by dynamite last night at Burnaby, a suburb of Vancouver, B. C. Police believe Zelmer led his children into a bush off the highway, placed them on his knees and touched off the fuse to three sticks of dynamite.

CERMAK CALLS G. O. P. PETITION A DRY MANEUVER

Points to Wet Candidates on Democratic Ticket.

A. J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman and veteran wet leader, made an attack yesterday on the motives of the Republicans in bringing about a triple referendum on the prohibition question in the approaching Illinois election.

A typewritten statement over his signature was issued immediately after the Republican county chairman, B. W. Snow, filed at Springfield the three wet petitions circulated by his organization. That ceremony was performed without brass bands or fireworks. Snow brought back to Chicago a certificate that the three big collections of signatures had been filed and official assurance that the three questions will be on the little ballot on Nov. 4.

Cermak Points to Candidates.

In his statement attacking the Republican procedure Chairman Cermak said:

"It is aimed only to divert the voters of Illinois from the main issue of the campaign. "That issue is: Shall Illinois be represented in the United States congress and in the Illinois assembly by men and women pledged to vote for the repeal of the prohibition amendment, the Volstead act, and the state search and seizure act, or shall it continue to be represented by men and women who are only mannequins of the Anti-Saloon league?

"The Democratic candidates in Illinois, including the candidate for United States senator, the two candidates for representative at large, all of the Cook county candidates for congress and the great majority of the downstate candidates, are pledged to vote for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

"The great majority of our candidates for the legislature are pledged to vote for the repeal of the state search and seizure act. Moreover, the pledges of these candidates are backed by records of long and consistent opposition to prohibition and all its evils.

Anti-Saloon Records.

"The Republican candidate for United States senator, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the two Republican candidates for representative at large, Richard Yates and Frank L. Smith, are pledged to the Anti-Saloon league and have solicited and accepted its support to obtain their nominations.

"With one or two exceptions the same is true of the Republican district candidates for congress. They, too, have long and consistent records—records of obedience to the Anti-Saloon league and defiance of the will of the people of Illinois as expressed in repeated state-wide referendums on the same questions that the Republican organization now proposes to submit to the people as if they had never before passed upon them.

"Moreover, the national organization of the Republican party is pledged to the cause of prohibition and the Anti-Saloon league. The Volstead act and the prohibition amendment were both passed by Republican majorities in congress over the veto of the then Democratic President.

"Only last week the Republican national committee elected as its chairman the driest of the drys in the dry United States senate—Simeon D. Fess, whose obsequious obeisance to the Anti-Saloon league is a matter of public record.

Recalls Weber-O'Grady Bill.

"In face of these facts and these records, local Republicans are trying to make it appear that they are in sympathy with the cause of the repeal of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act. If that were true they had the opportunity to demonstrate it in the state legislature when the Weber-O'Grady bill, which had passed the house by Democratic votes, needed only a few votes in the senate to obtain its passage.

"The truth is that the petition filed by the Republicans was intended as an attack upon the repeal of the Volstead act and the 18th amendment instead of a move in its favor.

"The Republicans hope to work the same trick they did four years ago by inducing the voters to register an ineffective protest against prohibition at the same time they vote for Anti-Saloon candidates. The campaign is bound to rip the wet mask from the dry faces of the Anti-Saloon league Republican candidates."

Chairman Cermak's utterance was considered of particular interest to the politicians since he will be in a position, it is believed, to dictate to the Democratic state convention one week from today. In the state primary last April Cook county recorded 162,733 Democratic votes in contrast with the 84,687 cast downstate. The voting power of the convention delegates is based on the primary vote.

Civil Service Board to Try No More Cops for Debts

A policeman's failure to pay his bills is no longer an offense against the regulations of the police department for which the debtor can be placed on trial before the civil service commission, Acting Police Commissioner Alcock notified the police captains yesterday. Commissioner Alcock made the ruling after Corporation Counsel Ettelson had given an opinion that the civil service commission has no jurisdiction to try the issue of debt between a civil service employé and a creditor.

LIGHTNING HITS LAKE; THOUSANDS OF FISH KILLED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12.—Scientific minds assert it can't be done, but a lightning bolt struck an arm of Lake Manitoba yesterday. Thousands of fish were killed. They have been washed up around Delta and other southern points of the lake.

A fisherman says that during the storm there was a blinding flash and roar of thunder. Blue flame extended into the water and great waves were splashed up, he said. The next morning myriads of dead fish began to float into shore.

No similar phenomenon has ever been reported in northern waters. Scientists here contend that lightning cannot strike water.

FLYER ARRESTED IN MINE BOMBING AIR RAID INQUIRY

Murphysboro, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Paul Montgomery, 24 year old local aviator, was arrested today in connection with yesterday's air raid on the Providence, Ky., coal mining district in which nine bombs were dropped. Authorities indicated other arrests were in prospect.

Held in jail to await extradition to Kentucky to face a felony warrant issued at Dixon, Ky., Montgomery maintained an innocence of any connection with the bombing. He said he did not even know of the air raid until informed of it by newspaper men.

Admits Early Flight.

He admitted having made an early morning flight on Monday, but said he went alone and flew in the vicinity of Pinckneyville, which is in the opposite direction from Providence. The Kentucky town is about 90 miles southeast of here.

Sheriff William Flanigan announced he had obtained affidavits from two Murphysboro girls, Clara Paul and Evelyn Fleming, in which they said they had accompanied Montgomery to the local airport early Monday and saw him take off with a man passenger unknown to them. Some of the persons who saw the plane that did the bombing said two men were in it.

Raymond Phifer, 20, a dairyman's son, was questioned late today by sheriff Flanigan and told him he drove Montgomery and the two girls to the flying field shortly before dawn after they had attended a party. Montgomery, Phifer said, flew away with a stranger who was roughly dressed and carried a sack. Phifer insisted he did not know the passenger's name.

Plane Traced by Number.

Montgomery's orange and black monoplane fits some descriptions of the bombing ship, even to its number, 508-M. G. C. Martin, Bruce Stone and H. Black, representing Kentucky mining companies upon whose properties the bombs were dropped, said they saw an orange hued plane, No. 508-M, fly over Providence during the bombing. The plane, they said, also was sighted at Hopkinsville, Ky.; Shawneetown, Ill., and Harrisburg, Ill. They also said their investigation here revealed Montgomery had taken off about 4:15 a. m. and returned at 8 a. m. The bombing occurred between those hours.

Labor Trouble Blamed.

The bombing was attributed to strife resulting from efforts to unionize the Kentucky coal field. Montgomery, who is married, has been a commercial pilot in recent years. He was not a miner or affiliated with any of the factions of the mine union, but a few years ago worked for his father, who operated a coal mine between De Soto and Elkville, Ill.

Plan School for Leaders of Boy Scout Activities

Plans for a University of Scouting, where leaders of Boy Scouts will receive training from nationally known Scout executives, are being formulated by the educational department of the Chicago Scout organization. The university will open on Oct. 20 and will continue for six Monday evenings at the new Marshall Field merchandise mart. The faculty will include James E. West, chief Scout executive of the United States, and Daniel Carter Beard, national Scout commissioner. It is expected that 1,000 men will enroll.

CANADA BARS CHICAGO GIRL FOR FIVE YEARS

Gets Suspended Term in Windsor Court.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Mary Ellen Carroll, attractive 23 year old Chicago girl, waved a five year farewell to Canada from the upper deck of a Detroit-bound ferry boat this afternoon.

She is barred from Canadian territory for the five year period as one of the conditions laid down in Windsor police court half an hour earlier when she was allowed to go on suspended sentence after being convicted by Magistrate W. A. Smith on a charge of contributing in a technical sense to the delinquency of two young girls.

Sent to Windsor School.

According to the story told by defense counsel, Mary Ellen belongs to a respectable family in Chicago, and several months ago, when she came into a legacy, was induced by her relatives to go to Windsor to complete her education as a resident pupil at St. Mary's academy, South Windsor.

Edward Bangle, 19, of Riverside remains behind to answer charges similar to those brought against the girl and one under the Ontario liquor control act.

Parties in a Hotel.

The police story tells of stealthy departures from the school, followed by parties in Windsor and Detroit apartment houses and, in particular, of one party in a Windsor hotel a month ago which was attended by two younger girls from the school and at which Bangle also was present.

There was no evidence of moral delinquency other than that one of the younger girls became drunk. On this ground, M. R. Winters, inspector for the Children's Aid society, pressed for a technical conviction, and Magistrate Smith in recording it, accepted the suggestion of W. D. Roach, defense counsel, that sentence be suspended.

Hubbard Woods Picnic

Thirty-six members of Girl Scouts troop No. 187 of the Grace Evangelical church of Logan Square yesterday enjoyed a day of sports, swimming and picnicking at Hubbard Woods. Their hostess was Mrs. C. T. Wertzler of 2309 North Sawyer avenue, and they were under the command of their captain, Mrs. R. J. Burns.

Hawks Will Seek West to East Air Record Today

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Capt. Frank Hawks, holder of the east to west coast aviation speed record, tonight was preparing for a hop-off at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in an effort to fly to New York in twelve hours and break the present record of 14:45:32, held by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. Hawks said that preliminaries for an out of court settlement of the litigation brought against him by his ex-wife, Mrs. Newell Vaughan, guaranteed no interference with his flight plans.

CARAWAY THINKS SENATE WILL BAR MRS. McCORMICK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The right of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick of Illinois and of James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, now secretary of labor, to seats in the senate, provided they are elected in November, will be challenged, in the opinion of Senator T. H. Caraway of Arkansas, Democratic chairman of the lobby committee.

Furthermore, the Arkansas senator said today, he expects the senate to reject both of these candidates if they are elected, on the ground of excessive expenditures.

Senator Caraway recalled that in the Newberry case the senate adopted the Willis resolution and took the position that expenditures of $195,000 were too great.

Senator Caraway referred to the expenditures in the primary campaign in Illinois, saying those for Mrs. McCormick, which have been admitted, were about $300,000.

TELLS HOW RED RUSSIA WORKS MONEY 'RACKET'

All but Public Play Game of Rubles.

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Red finance is a racket. It is gigantic but strictly private. Here is how it works:

The soviet government insists that every ruble is worth 50 cents, and it makes the Russian people do at least 50 cents' worth of work to earn one ruble. The Kremlin financiers are now enjoying a private inflation. They buy rubles abroad for 12 and 15 cents apiece, import them secretly into Russia, and then get 50 cents worth of labor or manufactured goods per ruble from the Russian public.

The present system of soviet trade is conducted solely on this basis.

Others Engage in Same Game.

In order to keep the outside world from learning the true state of affairs, the Moscow authorities let the leading foreign embassies and newspaper correspondents play the same game. On a tacit understanding they won't expose the alleged graft of two of the biggest European legations and a foremost Asiatic legation, who are now said to be paying their expenses by smuggling rubles from abroad at less than half the official rate. The same inducement has been offered to newspaper correspondents at Moscow. While I was in Moscow last month I was offered rubles for less than 20 cents apiece by one of these privileged legations.

"Keep this dark," said the diplomat who made me the proposition. "Of course the Kremlin people shut their eyes, when we bring in rubles from Berlin, London, and Tokio, but I needn't tell you why they do. We know perfectly well how they are running their show and they know we know it. That is why they let us get away with as much as we need for ourselves and friends."

Everybody is in on the swindle except the Russian proletariat. I found the shops and department stores in Moscow and Leningrad full of the trashiest merchandise being sold at prices equivalent to that asked for the best goods in the finest stores in New York and Chicago.

Stalin Not Involved.

These goods are all manufactured and marketed by the soviet trusts, whose directors belong to Joseph Stalin's group. Apart from the fact that he is given absolute political power—which is all he wants—I am convinced that Stalin himself is not involved in the financial racket. The real master mind, I am told, is Trellesser, former chief of the cheka, and now head of the bureau of economics at the Kremlin.

The actual state of prosperity in Moscow may be judged from the fact that there are only 40 taxicabs in a city of over 3,000,000 population. Throughout Russia, transport facilities for the general public are practically nonexistent. It's different in the Kremlin. I saw eight Rolls-Royces, 12 Packards and several other $10,000 limousines and other American and European models—all of them new—in the Kremlin garage.

I crossed from Leningrad to London on the new 6,000 ton motor ship Sibier—one of the Red government's ships of the soviet Torgflot. In the Kiel canal we passed another ship flying the Red flag, and I was interested to see that the name was the Sacco. She has a sister ship called the Vanzetti.

Crew of Young Girls.

The crew aboard the Sibier included 11 young girls. One of these Red sailor girls has been at sea for seven years. She now serves as third mate and stands watch on the bridge and acts as ship's paymaster. Another acts as wireless operator. In Russian waters and while at sea they wear masculine uniforms, trousers and all, but they put on skirts as soon as they reach Germany. The sailors' committee believes that it might reflect unfavorably on Red morals if they went ashore in foreign ports in men's clothes.

In the ship's forecastle there was a "Lenin corner"—a shrine at which all sailors are obliged to assemble at least once every day to listen to a lecture by one of the ship's officers. He tells them not to be impressed by superficial prosperity in foreign ports, because they must remember that the entire capitalistic régime is soon to be wiped out by a soviet drive toward world revolution.

The Sibier carried a cargo of rugs, woodwork, oats and vinegar, but the captain was Alexander Zuzenko, the notorious agent of the Third Internationale. The British home office refuses to let him land anywhere in the empire on account of his police records as a dangerous Red agitator.

Captain Barred by British.

Some years ago Zuzenko was arrested in London for spreading subversive propaganda, and earlier in his career he faced a death sentence in Australia, where he was convicted for inciting sedition.

In his cabin Zuzenko told me that every effort has been made to remove the ban against him by the soviet ambassador at London, Sokolnikoff [whose real name is said to be Max Brilliante].

Until recently there has been a ban in England against other soviet Torgflot captains. Ambassador Sokolnikoff has finally succeeded in having these bans removed, but the home office remains cold to Zuzenko's plea.

With their Lenin corners, their Red captains, trained as expert agitators, these soviet trade ships give communist Russia her newest and most insidious weapon for carrying on offensive propaganda against the rest of the world.

Russia Asks U. S. to Bury Hatchet as Trade Aid; Demands Normal Diplomatic Status

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The newspaper Pravda today publishes an article signed by H. Osinsky, member of the supreme economic council, calling absurd the present relations of Russia and the United States and demanding a normal diplomatic status as the only basis upon which the trade and financial problems of the two countries can be solved.

The article, obviously inspired by the government, was taken by observers to have been timed to appear during the visit of United States senators Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, and A. W. Barkley of Kentucky, who are touring Russia to study her economic development.

Does Not Ask "Recognition."

The writer makes it clear that the matter is not one of "recognition," as "from those who, during thirteen years did not find time to recognize us, we do not need any legal sanction for our official existence. All that is needed is an exchange of normal diplomacy in which two powerful but economically and politically different countries indicate the necessity for their peaceful existence.

"The sooner official circles in the United States realize that this is the only true path to follow, the sooner will come to an end the existing disgraceful situation between both countries."

"U. S. Exports Our Affair."

"The Americans complain about the soviet dumping goods in the United States. This is our internal affair and no barons of monopolistic capitalism will be able to hold Russia back from developing her domestic industry.

"Foreign capitalists must know by now that realization of our five year industrialization plan involves the necessity of increasing soviet exports unless the capitalists wish to come to our aid by extending credits."

The writer asserts that if proper credits cannot be obtained in the United States, Russia will be forced to shift her orders to Europe.

May Develop Own Machinery.

Osinsky continues that, if European credits fail, soviet Russia then will resort to a third means, "development of the production of machinery and equipment in our own country. We are now sufficiently strong technically and economically to solve this problem."

The journalist insists that it is impossible to continue a large trade in the United States without proper diplomatic relations.

"Only normal relations can guarantee American industry an increasing number of soviet orders on equipment and provide American wood, paper and other branches of manufacture with cheap soviet raw materials of excellent quality," he wrote.

U. S. MAY GIVE UP IDEA OF COUNTING UNTAXED INDIANS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The difficult job of counting the untaxed Indians may be dispensed with this year.

Census bureau officials incline toward the opinion there are no untaxed Indians left, but expect to get a legal ruling on the matter. Untaxed Indians must be eliminated from a state's population when reapportionment of its house delegation is made.

"It is our understanding that legislation since 1920 has virtually, if not explicitly, made all the Indians citizens," Dr. Joseph A. Hill, reapportionment expert and assistant to the director of census, said today. "In that event they would have all the rights of citizens, including the privilege of being taxed." The "Indians not taxed" in 1920 numbered 60,471.

CAMPBELL BACK HOME; PREDICTS GREATER RUSSIA

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Thomas Campbell, Montana rancher and agricultural expert who has been in Russia as farm adviser to the soviet government, returned tonight on the Europa and expressed the opinion that in a few years Russia would be a greater commercial competitor than any of the nations of the world realize today.

He said that there was enough business for the United States in Russia today to lift this country completely clear of its commercial depression, and added that if the American business men do not step in and claim their share, England and Germany will.

One Safe Deposit Box Is Found Empty.

A search for the bank accounts and safe deposit boxes of Jack Zuta, slain woman of the seemingly defunct Jones-Aiello-Zuta gang, was undertaken yesterday by the authorities.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles F. Rathbun and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, who are in charge of the investigation of the murder of Alfred [Jake] Lingle, yesterday found one of Zuta's safe deposit boxes. Upon opening the box it was found empty, except for two rubber bands.

The box was in the vault of the West Town State bank, 2400 Madison street. Officials of the bank said Zuta had rented the box four or five years ago, and that he had not visited it in the last year and a half.

However, the bank records showed that the right of access to the box was held also by C. H. Sherman. The name was unfamiliar to the prosecutors, and the bank officials declared that although Sherman had access to the box, he had never visited it.

Zuta also maintained a savings account at the bank, which he closed out about the same time he abandoned the safe deposit box, according to the bank officers. Hal O. Crews, public administrator, who officiated at the opening of the box, declared that he would require the bank to submit a complete record of Zuta's accounts and of the taxes he paid to the strong box.

Hunt Slayers in Minnesota.

Meanwhile the Wisconsin authorities, under difficulties, were continuing their investigation of the Zuta murder. Associated Press dispatches from St. Paul said that Undersheriff Arthur J. Moran of Waukesha county, where Zuta was slain, was en route to White Bear Lake, Minn., to investigate a report that the license plates used on the Buick automobile in which Zuta's slayers rode had been found there.

District Attorney Herman Salen at Waukesha declared that Moran had gone out of the state, but declined to comment further.

A new phase of the inquiry was revealed by Sheriff Hans Rodd at Tomahawk Lake, Wis., who said that on the day after Zuta was murdered in a Deadfield, Wis., summer resort, a gang led by William (Red) Bolton, notorious Chicago hoodlum, arrived at the lake, stopping at "Two Jacks" resort.

The gangsters stayed a day and then departed to Minocqua, Wis., Sheriff Rodd reported. An investigation to determine whether Bolton was fleeing from the authorities was under way.

Two New Witnesses Quizzed.

District Attorney Salen questioned two new witnesses to Zuta's murder. They are Arthur Sherbarth and John Pristabok, who were sitting on the shore of the lake in front of the resort at the time Zuta was murdered.

When they heard the shooting, the men, said, they started toward the resort. Armed guards, members of the killers' band, prodded revolvers into their ribs, the witnesses said, and ordered them both to lie down. They declared they were unable to identify any of the men in the gang.

The district attorney's investigators are seeking Miss Inez Fehrman, a dancer at the resort at the time of the murder, who is reported to have been seen in Waukesha on Monday night. She is another eyewitness to the killing.

Still another witness, who was expected to appear for questioning yesterday but did not, is Miss Sophie Oninski, a maid in the home of W. F. Coakley at Delafield, who owns a cabin at which the slayers of Zuta are believed to have stayed. Miss Oninski was reported to have departed yesterday morning for a girls' school at Wauwatosa, but last night she had not arrived there.

George Williams, investigator for Mr. Roche, who has spent the last week in efforts to aid District Attorney Salen, returned to Chicago yesterday.

The Special Inquiry Plan.

No developments were announced in connection with the plan of the newspaper publishers of Chicago, made public on Monday, to support State's Attorney Swanson in an investigation of gang, police, and other official corruption and viciousness, which is to be conducted by two outstanding Chicago lawyers to be appointed as special assistant state's attorneys.

Mr. Swanson said he was awaiting a conference with the publishers, at which definite plans for the new inquiry were to be laid.

It was made plain that the investigation of the murder of Lingle would remain in charge of Prosecutor Rathbun and Chief Investigator Roche, and that the proposed investigation would deal with the broader aspects of an assault upon gangland activities generally.

It is understood that several publishers are out of the city and that upon their return a meeting will be held.

Lyle Calls Police Captains.

Judge John H. Lyle of the Municipal court, whose court jurisdiction extends over a large section of the north side, yesterday called a conference of police captains to meet with him, and to consider means of driving gangsters and their leaders out of the city.

This mornig at 11 o'clock the judge will confer with Capts. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue station, Hugh McCarthy of Town Hall station, Max Danner of the North Damen avenue station, Patrick Harding of the Rogers Park station, and Martin O'Malley of the Summerdale avenue station. This meeting will take place at the Town Hall station.

Robert Emmett Ryan, gun toting gangster, who was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell by Judge Lyle after the judge had denied Ryan jury trial, bail, continuance, or appeal, was given another jolt yesterday when Judge Daniel P. Trude in the Criminal court refused to release him on bail pending the disposition of a habeas corpus proceeding. Ryan's attorneys have attacked Judge Lyle's order on the ground it is several times unconstitutional.

Judge Trude said he would continue the hearing on the writ until today, and that meanwhile Ryan must stay in jail.

Extradition of James ["Fur"] Sammons, follower of Polack Joe Saltis, who is wanted in Baltimore on a charge of robbery, may be denied, it appeared in Judge William R. Fetzer's court yesterday. The crime was committed on Sept. 16, and Assistant State's Attorney Russell Root said yesterday that he had heard that Sammons' attorneys expect to prove that Sammons was under arrest in Chicago at the time of the robbery in Baltimore. The hearing on the extradition warrant was continued until Sept. 16.

$55,725 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,725 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune, $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

OWEN G. LEACH SUICIDE LAID TO MONEY TROUBLE

Realty Man Shoots Self in Hotel Room.

Owen Glen Leach, 52 years old, real estate dealer and lumberman, committed suicide while despondent over financial and domestic troubles, a coroner's jury decided yesterday at an inquest at the undertaking rooms, 3176 North Clark street.

Leach was found dead in his bed at the Belmont-Plaza apartment hotel yesterday morning by Mrs. Mae Finnegan, 35 year old saleswoman for his company, the offices of which are at 5 North Wabash avenue. There was a bullet hole in his forehead and a revolver on the pillow beside him.

Mrs. Marion M. Leach of Flossmoor, widow of the dead man, from whom she had been estranged, informed Deputy Coroner William Bauman that she could offer no explanation for his action, unless it was worry over ill health. She was followed to the witness stand by Mrs. Finnegan, an auburn haired widow, who testified that Leach had complained to her that his wife had threatened him and their only child. Mrs. Finnegan cited financial worries and domestic difficulties as the probable reason for Leach's suicide.

Testifies on Threat.

"Had he ever threatened to take his life previously?" Bauman asked.

"Yes," was the emphatic reply. "About six weeks ago he said to me, 'Mae, I just can't stand it. I'm going to shoot myself.' So I told him not to do anything crazy, and I called the office and told his bookkeeper to search for a gun there, and he did. I didn't know he had a gun in his room or I'd have taken it."

"Had he acted strangely recently?" Mrs. Finnegan was asked.

"Yes," was the reply. "He came back from Flossmoor Sunday night and told me he'd been out to see his wife and that they had an awful row. He said, 'Mae, I'm just sick of this. She threatened the boy and me.' Early this morning I heard his repeating alarm clock ringing and ringing, so I went into his suite and found what had happened."

Visit His Suite in Hotel.

Mrs. Finnegan asserted Leach had been drinking on Monday night before retiring, but was not intoxicated at the time she last saw him. She and her mother, who lives with her, spent some time in his suite listening to the radio, she said, and left early, going to their own rooms.

Leach had been married once previously, to Mrs. Laura A. Leach. In 1910 Mrs. Laura Leach sued to set aside a divorce decree obtained by her husband shortly after she was released from a sanitarium at Kankakee, where she had been committed as insane. The plea was denied. Mrs. Laura Leach still is living.

LEGISLATION URGED TO BALK FLIGHT OF CRIME WITNESSES

The passage of legislation making it possible to return witnesses in criminal cases from other states to the place where the crime was committed was advocated in discussions yesterday at the conference of the commissioners on uniform state laws at the Stevens hotel.

This proposal has been under consideration for four years by the commissioners, including judges, deans and professors of law and practicing attorneys representing 43 states. It was pointed out that such a measure, if adopted by a sufficient number of states, would materially aid the prosecution of criminal cases in Chicago, where witnesses in gang killing inquiries often flee to other states.

JOCKEY IS NEAR DEATH; THROAT CUT BY ASSAILANT

George Dulrymple, 42 year old jockey, 1047 Leland avenue, is near death in the Bridewell hospital, the victim of two unidentified men who attacked him and slashed his jugular vein last night. In company with Paul Patrum, 35, Dulrymple was walking north on Kenmore avenue near Bryn Mawr avenue when two men sprang at them from behind a tree. One of them cut Dulrymple's throat with a heavy bladed knife while the other beat him over the head. Patrum was not attacked. Police at the Summerdale station are holding the latter for questioning.

WORK IS BEGUN ON NEW UNIT OF "L" LINES' SHOPS

Remodeling Plant Will Be Finished This Fall.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Contracts for the construction of the second unit of the Rapid Transit company's shops have been let and excavating was started yesterday. The first unit, a paint shop, was built three years ago; and the second unit —a shop for the repair and remodeling of cars—is to be completed this fall.

This second unit, covering an area of 200 by 252 feet, and costing $375,000, will employ between 100 and 150 men. This shop is directly south of the first unit at Oakton street and Hamlin avenue in Niles Center.

Judging by the company's recent experience, news of the project will send many men looking for work to the site today. President Britton I. Budd has ruled that no outsiders shall be employed. All jobs will be given to residents of Chicago and men with families will be given preference. To enforce this policy of supplying work to Chicagoans first the company has employed several men to investigate the applicants' claims as to their places of residence and their families.

To Remodel "L" Cars.

The new shops are desired as soon as practicable so that work may start on remodeling cars to make them suitable for eight car elevated trains. The longer trains are to be put into service when the consolidation of the "L" and surface lines is effected and the transfer system between them is started.

About 1,200 of the present cars are to be remodeled, mainly by strengthening the platforms and the sub frames. The cost is estimated at $1,600 a car, or a total of nearly $2,000,000. This program of rebuilding is to extend over two years.

The entire project for shops of the elevated lines at Niles Center call for 10 units to be built at a total cost of $4,500,000. When completed it is estimated that these shops will be capable of handling 4,500 cars a year, and will have a storage capacity in the adjoining yard for 350 cars at one time. No announcement has been made as to when other units will be started.

Lengthen Station Platforms.

Ten days ago work was started on the temporary lengthening of certain elevated station platforms. Bids have been asked for structural steel from Chicago manufacturers exclusively to provide for permanent extension of certain platforms. A total of 128 platforms will be lengthened. The total cost of the job is estimated at $564,000.

Work was resumed yesterday on the South boulevard station of Evanston. This will cost about $100,000, and is to be finished before winter.

Seize Rum Worth $20,000 in Box Car in Erie Yards

Special prohibition agents under Alexander Jamie seized a shipment of 200 cases of fine liquors valued at $20,000, in a freight car at the Erie railway yards, 14th and Clark streets, yesterday. The shipment, billed as paper, was consigned by the Wardlow Thomas Paper company of Boston, Mass., to the Lawrence Printing company, 355 Crawford avenue. L. Levin, owner of the printing company, denied knowledge of the shipment. Jamie said the shipment was intended for the Aiello gang.

Boy "Pants Bandit" Held in Bonds of $20,000

Lawrence Free, 16 years old, 2909 West 39th street, known as the "pants bandit," who stripped his victims of their trousers to delay pursuit, was held in $20,000 bonds by Judge Holmes in Boys' court yesterday on two charges of robbery with a gun. Leon Hobey, haberdasher of 18 North Dearborn street, and Harry Althaus, hardware merchant of 19 Waverly court, appeared against him. The boy has confessed seven loop robberies, according to police.

[Pacific and Atlantic Photo: Sent by phone.]

Grocers Sue

Del Monte, Cal., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Jack Pickford, motion picture actor, accepted summonses today in two civil actions against him for grocery and dry goods bills and then married Miss Mary Mulhern, New York actress.

"I am the luckiest man in the world," he said.

With the serving of the summonses it was revealed three such suits were pending against Pickford, brother of Mary Pickford, in the Los Angeles Municipal court, the plaintiffs, C. E. Grafton and two collection agencies, presenting bills totaling $986.

The wedding ceremony was performed in a nondenominational country church at the seashore here by the Rev. T. J. Barkel, pastor. James Kirkwood, film director, was the only attendant.

The couple declined to reveal plans for the honeymoon.

Report Catholic Bishop Is in Danger in China

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Red forces surrounding Kanchow, China, recently abandoned by Nationalist troops, were believed today to have placed in grave danger Bishop J. A. O'Shea of the Catholic mission there. He is said to be the only American remaining in the city.

The bishop, who is from St. Vincent seminary, Germantown, Pa., was reported in cables to the state department from the Canton consulate yesterday to be in a serious plight, together with other foreigners still there.

Some twenty or thirty Americans who had been in the city when the threat of invasion developed were reported safe. Efforts were being made by Douglas Jenkins, American consul at Canton, to obtain protection for the prelate.

RAILWAY DELAYS TRACK REMOVAL ORDERED BY CITY

Company Official Points to New Mail Depot.

The city's demand that the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad remove its tracks from the intersection of Plymouth court and Taylor street is not to be obeyed immediately, according to railway officials. The railroad is unwilling to say just what action it contemplates.

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe wrote the railroad Monday insisting that it remove the tracks because the permit for the railway's use of city property expired in 1915. Early this month the city refused to accept from the company any more rental money for the property. One reason for the city's action was the belief that ouster of the company from the city's property would hasten the proposed consolidation and improvement of the terminal facilities of the south side railroads.

Ettelson Gives Opinion.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson held that the commissioner of public works had the right to demand removal of the tracks. Mr. Wolfe was urged by the Greater Central District association and the South Central association to make the demand at once.

"We are not yet ready to say what we will do," said J. R. Barse, vice president and general counsel for the Western Indiana, yesterday. "We are erecting a mail building at Polk and State streets which will be served by these tracks. The railroad serves the people and it must continue that service."

The mail depot mentioned has also been a source of controversy. Both the civic associations fought for the revocation of the permit issued for the depot, but were defeated when the corporation counsel decided that the issuance was legal. The associations contended that the building would be of no use unless the tracks which the city desires removed were allowed to remain to supply it with a connection to the adjacent freight and mail yards.

U. S. Mail May Be Factor.

Mr. Barse would not discuss the prediction that the railroad will contend the city cannot force the removal of the tracks because it will be interfering with the handling of United States mail. The building, according to Gen. Supt. R. W. Stevens, will be completed about Nov. 1. It adjoins the old immigrant station and will front 100 feet on Polk street and 550 feet on State street.

Meanwhile Commissioner Wolfe asked Mr. Ettelson what would constitute a "reasonable time" to allow the road for removal of the tracks.

5 AUTO DEATHS RAISE TOLL OF COUNTY TO 601

Aged Man Is Fatally Hurt at Crossing.

Frank L. King, 73 years old, 1448 Glenlake avenue, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of 5125 North Clark street. He died at the Edgewater hospital from a fractured skull. Theodore Gira, 5109 Ravenswood avenue, the driver, is being held by Summerdale police.

Maurice Olson, 32 years old, of Deerfield, died at the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, after being struck by a machine while walking on Waukegan road near the Dundee road. According to witnesses, Olson's machine had run out of gasoline and in an attempt to hail a passing motorist he stepped in front of a machine driven by Kenneth Kingsford, 1395 Prairie avenue, Wilmette.

These two deaths and three others raised the 1930 Cook county death toll to 601. The other victims:

Frank Brichacek, 34 years old, 2425 Washburn street. Killed when his truck was struck by a C., B. & Q. train at 26th street.

Michael Renko, 23 years old, 131 Draper avenue, Joliet. Killed when an auto in which he was riding collided with another driven by Russell Krempel of Lemont at Archer avenue and route 4A.

Ira Beane, 31 years old, 3222 South Clinton avenue, Berwyn. Fatally injured when he was struck on Windsor avenue near Kenilworth avenue in Berwyn by an auto driven by Elmer Conklin of Berwyn.

Miss Edith Stanton, 21 years old, 1122 Hollywood avenue, died in a hospital at Buffalo, N. Y., of injuries received near there on Monday when an automobile in which she was riding struck a hole in the pavement and overturned. Her brother-in-law, Fred Linten, of the same address, and her sister were seriously injured.

Professional Bondsman Is Convicted of Forgery

A jury in Judge Otto Kerner's court yesterday found Henry M. Lasch, a professional bondsman, guilty of forgery. He faces a penitentiary sentence of 1 to 14 years. According to the evidence he induced two women, Mrs. Lillian Buzzard and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, to sign the names of Cecelia Young and Frances Young to bail bonds. The defense claimed he believed the women were the Young sisters and owned the property scheduled.

MARION SHERIFF LEARNS NAMES OF 6 LYNCHERS

Marion, Ind., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—County Sheriff Jacob C. Campbell today said he now knows the names of six persons alleged to have participated in the attack on the county jail here Thursday night in which a mob battered through seven heavy metal doors and lynched Tom Shipp and Abraham Smith, Negro youths.

Moreover, Sheriff Campbell feels that more could be identified, as the lynching party numbered 100 and, therefore, he will insist at a conference here later this week that the county grand jury be called at once and not be delayed until the regular September term of Circuit court.

Harley Hardin, county prosecutor, conferred today at the state house with State's Attorney General James M. Ogden, L. O. Chasey, secretary to Gov. Harry G. Leslie, who is vacationing in Canada, and two of Ogden's deputies. They decided, it is understood, that further investigation of the lynchings should be made by county authorities.

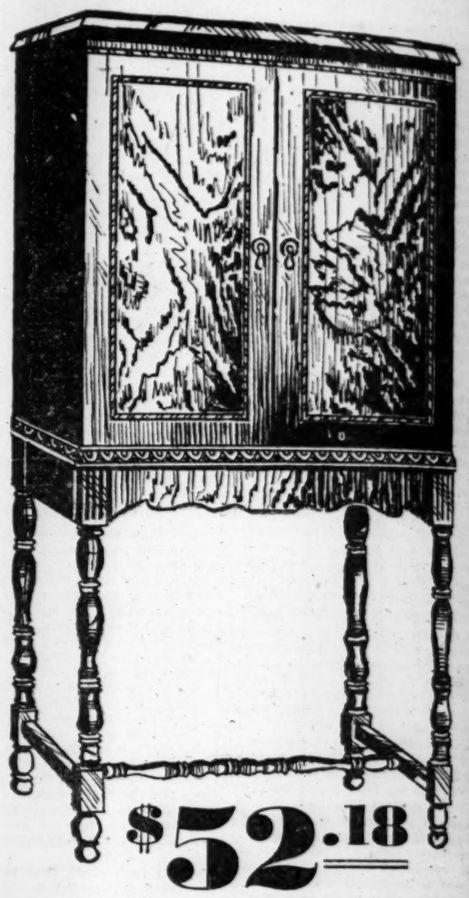

It is now charged that the shirt worn by Claude Teeters, Fairmount, Ind., the man slain by the Negroes, had hung from a window in the police station here all day Thursday and had been seen by many persons.

TRIBAL UNREST SPREADS ALONG INDIA'S FRONTIER

British Drive Off Afridis at Peshawar.

PESHAWAR India, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The outbreak of tribal unrest appears to be spreading on the northwestern frontier, with British forces tightening their defense by increasing aerial bombing operations and rushing fresh troops northward.

The Afridis, who have been besieging this key city for a week, have withdrawn under constant bomb attack, but meager reports from the battlefields indicate that they have spread in all directions and that all sections of the tribe have taken up arms.

An indeterminate number of Orakzais have joined the Afridis, and a force, identified as Massozais, attacked Kohat post Saturday with Chamkannis on the war path, too, until the latter were informed them that their own villages would be bombed unless they ceased their depredations.

Fire After Air Attacks.

Peshawar itself was quiet today and apparently most of the assailants have withdrawn under heavy bombing attacks. The party attacked the cantonments last night, however, inflicting a scattering rifle fire that did no damage. They withdrew at dawn.

Meanwhile, fresh troops arrived today on an armored train from Lahore. When the city gates were opened for it, the ordinary trains must stop at Nowshera and the passengers continue here by taxicab.

Telegraphic communication to Landi Kotal was restored today. But Charsadda still is cut off.

The six squadrons of army airplanes now in duty in the sector are credited with breaking up plans for a mass attack on Peshawar. In one day these machines have dropped 6,000 small bombs, and they have made daily attacks on various groups. As one instance, they spotted the 1,500 Massozais who attacked Badama post, and killed 29 of them.

Flyers Save Women.

The air force assisted one beleaguered place, Parachinar, by evacuating the women today. Parachinar is a lonely outpost about 80 miles by air due west of Peshawar and 100 by road. Twenty miles to the south of Peshawar Kohat is under attack.

Parties of tribesmen hidden in ravines south of Sorozai were shelled heavily and effectively yesterday, but another force was reported attacking Sadda village at about the same time, two villagers and three militiamen being killed, while one militiaman was wounded.

It is believed that the Afridis were not chastened by their casualties around Peshawar proper, but merely decided that the city, which is heavily defended as the gateway to the Khyber pass, was impregnable. It is evident that the main bodies have evacuated to hunt more fighting elsewhere.

Talk "Peace" with Gandhi.

POONA, India, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Pandits Motilal and Jawaharlal Nehru, who were brought here from Allahabad jail to confer with Mahatma Gandhi in Yerada prison, talked to the Mahatma this afternoon. Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar, who were instrumental in bringing the three nationalist leaders together in an effort to restore peace in India, will visit the jail tomorrow to talk to them.

BRITISH BOMBERS 'DESTROY' ENEMY AIRPORT AT DAWN

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The first clash between the rival red and blue air forces now maneuvering over Britain has led experts to believe that the advantage is all with the attacking force. The mimic air war began this morning and will last until Saturday. Two hundred and fifty planes are participating.

The commander of one south coast airdrome was so convinced of the superiority of the attackers before the maneuvers started that he evacuated all his fighting machines in the night to a secret base amid neighboring hills and left a squadron of "dummies" behind. These were promptly "destroyed" with the first streaks of dawn. Clouds screened the bombers and in half a dozen raids, despite all the latest microphonic listening and spotting stations, the enemy was discovered when too late to intercept it and almost too late to attack it in retreat.

New Bombing Planes Fast.

The revelation was made that some of Britain's new bombing aircraft are at least 20 miles an hour faster with a full load than the squadron's machines originally designed to destroy such types of raiders. One type, known as the Hart day bomber, proved so fast that only one type of defending aircraft could be found to deal with it.

Receiving warning of the approach of a number of these bombers, the airdrome commander sent up a flight of Siskin fighters to meet them. The Harts were not more than 2,000 feet up and the fighters climbed their hardest, but in vain. A second flight of Harts appeared before the first could be reached, and they too showed a clean pair of heels.

Observers tonight consider that a defending commander can have no hope against these new fast bombing machines except in the best of atmospheric conditions and unless he has a long warning of their approach. Faster intercepting machines must be built and more perfect methods of heralding the raiders' approach must be devised, it is declared.

Tanks to Attack Alps.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Seventeen tanks, the vanguard of the French force which will take part in the huge Alpine maneuvers this month, arrived today in the little town of Lanslebourg. At the same time it was revealed that the tanks will be used in a sensational experiment, a concerted attack to the top of a mountain 8,300 feet high.

This is the first time tanks have ever been used on a large scale in high mountains. The terrain over which the maneuvers will take place is rough and rugged, and includes both heavy forests and rocky slopes.

It has been reported that the tanks are of a special type recently developed in France with an eye to mountain work. The experts believe that it will be particularly valuable in breaking up machine gun nests which, in a narrow pass, sometimes hold up a whole battalion. A few of the tanks also carry heavy guns.

15 Are Killed as Rain Ends 5 Year Drought in Africa

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Aug. 12.—(AP)—South Africa's drought came to a violent end today. Fifteen lives were lost during a storm that swept over the fishing fleet near Cape Town. Rain fell even upon the little Namaqualand district of the Cape colony, parts of which had experienced a phenomenal drought that had lasted for five years.

BRITISH AIRSHIP HOPS TONIGHT ON NEW OCEAN TRIP

R-100 to Head for England About 9 P. M.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 12.—Official announcement was made this afternoon by Wing Commander R. B. B. Colmore, director of British airship development, that the British dirigible R-100 will leave on her return trip to Cardington, England, at 9 o'clock tomorrow night, Chicago daylight saving time. Evidently the officers and crew of the ship are not superstitious, as it will be noted that tomorrow is the 13th day of the month. Passengers have been notified to be aboard by 7 o'clock. The slight damage to fabric and engine suffered on the trip to Ontario yesterday was repaired today.

Proposes Regular Service.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Definite plans for early establishment of a British-Canadian airship service across the Atlantic were laid before Prime Minister Bennett today by Sir Dennistoun Burney, constructor of the British dirigible R-100.

Sir Dennistoun indicated that when the R-100 ties up at the home mast at Cardington he will go before the British government with plans for a biweekly trans-Atlantic airship service. Sir Dennistoun announced that official Canada is favorable to the proposition and that support has been promised from commercial sources.

Would Build Bigger Ship.

While the British designer did not disclose the details of his proposal, it was understood he suggested the two governments advance 75 per cent of the construction cost for an airship twice the size of the R-100 at low rates of interest, and that each government undertake contracts for the transport of six tons of mail a week at $5,000 a ton.

LINDBERGH URGES STANDARD RULES TO GUIDE FLYING

Will Aid International Aviation, He Says.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today outlined some of his ideas for the facilitation of international aviation before the general conference on aerial navigation at the Institute of Politics.

With the growth of experience and the improvement of aircraft, Col. Lindbergh said, "we find that this country's interest is not alone in communication between the various states by air, but that one of our most important interests is better communication with other countries at this time, particularly, I think, with Mexico and Central and South America.

"There are still great opportunities to make the carrying of passengers and express a great deal more valuable, a great deal faster than at the present time if we can obtain a standard set of regulations, obtain a simpler series of forms to be filled out in international transport, and if we can prevail upon the various countries which are served by the United States air lines to coöperate, with an idea toward the future and what these lines will bring to them in the future."

Col. Lindbergh said that the private international flyer "requires the most assistance."

COURT REFUSES WRIT TO ORANGE DRINK COMPANY

A petition for an injunction to restrain Casanave's Orange Products, Inc., from selling a drink alleged to be made according to a secret formula originated by Monroe Harrison, founder of the Harrison Heart o' Orange company, was denied yesterday by Circuit Judge Rush. Attorney Randolph Bohrer of the firm of Stein, Mayer & David declared the Harrison company instituted the suit for the sole purpose of putting the Casanave company, a new corporation, out of business. He said the suit was based entirely on conclusions and denied that the Casanave product was adulterated and that the company intended using the Harrison formula.

BUILDING CODE REVISION MAKES SAVING POSSIBLE

A revision of Chicago's building code, designed to save builders 10 per cent under present costs, is practically finished, according to Building Commissioner Paschen. A copy of the work will be turned over to the Illinois Society of Architects today for study. The revision has been made by committees of architects, engineers and contractors during three years of work.

The reduction in costs is expected to come through allowance of a greater latitude in the use of materials not known in 1911 when the present building code was adopted. As an example Commissioner Paschen said that the revised code permits a greater use of hollow tile.

The new code also provides for garage space in hotels, office and mercantile buildings. Another innovation is the proposed creation of a Chicago bureau of standards, similar to the national bureau, to test new building materials and to make further recommendations for changes in the code. When the revised code is drafted in ordinance form it will be presented to the city council.

—why this crisp, clean looking, beautiful refrigerator is taking the market by storm. It has so many ideal features—many exclusive. At your finger tips on the freezer panel, a dial gives quick choice of five freezing speeds. A spring door protects the cubes from odors—and the trays from frosting in. The brilliant porcelain lining has round, clean-easy corners. The shelves are larger and better arranged—with special space for tall bottles. A crisping tray, controlled air circulation—and a host of other wanted things. The critical, fastidious woman will choose Norge. It is so easily superior.

THE TELEPHONE FRANCHISE.

The mayor has left Chicago without signing or vetoing the telephone franchise ordinance voted at the last meeting of the city council. This is the ordinance which dodges the question of who shall pay to move the telephone wires out of the way of subway construction. The old ordinance said the telephone company had to bear this expense; the new one says the phone company will be treated in this respect like the other utilities.

This is an evasion. The principle which the city government should insist upon is that the utilities without exception pay their own moving costs. As the telephone franchise offers the first occasion to apply the principle, the opportunity to create a precedent should not be thrown away. The attempt to postpone a determination of the telephone company's responsibility would not be made unless the intention was to lighten the responsibilities of the telephone company as well as the other utilities later on.

The stake in the controversy is the millions of dollars which it will cost to move the pipes and wires now under the streets where subways are to be built. The question is whether these costs shall be paid by the utility companies or by the car riders and taxpayers. The right of the city to force the utilities to pay is well established, in the view of able lawyers, and it is reinforced by the fact that much of the equipment now in the streets is obsolescent and the further fact that placing the utilities in a subway gallery will result in considerable reductions in maintenance costs.

The telephone franchise is critical because it sets the precedent. It is plainly the duty of the mayor to veto it.

PERSONAL LIBERTY, BOSTONESE.

Mayor Curley of Boston has vetoed a city council ordinance providing that a radio should be so tuned between the hours of 11 at night and 7 in the morning that it could not be heard at a distance of more than fifty feet. Mr. Curley said in explanation that such a regulation would infringe personal liberty.

A citizen of Boston finds that what he may read in the quiet of his library, if he depends on the city book stores, is restricted by authority with the Watch and Ward society as its agent. The blue nose might sniff him out if he, say an elderly Brahmin with a gracious air, white hair and culture, eminent in good works and ripe in scholarship, sat with a volume of Balzac under his lamp; but if the old boy had an exuberant mood he could turn the radio to an open window and let the neighborhood have two hours of it at its loudest and worst.

Men might curse and babies cry throughout the block, but the citizen would be within his privileges and personal liberty would guarantee his right to make himself an intolerable nuisance.

Mr. Curley may have declared the whole theory of American freedom as its grows under the Watch and Ward society and the other organizations chartered to make virtue obnoxious. Personal liberty is the right to inflict unmannerly abuses upon other people, but not the right to conduct oneself, without such consequences, according to personal intelligence, conscience, choice and habit. With this code the United States increases the amenities of society and the pleasures of life.

THE MOVIES.

The uncertainty said to be felt in the motion picture industry regarding the picture with sound does not have any reason obvious to the outsider. The American picture, silent or sound, has at least matched its vices with its virtues, and that is somewhat of a miracle, considering the source of much of the production. By repute the moving picture authority is possessed by the largest assortment of egotistic nit wits in the country, and sometimes the reputation is justified on the sheet, but there is too much genuine achievement to permit the real talent to be denied.

The sound picture is supposed to have rescued the industry from an impending slump and to have turned the current into the moving picture theaters again. It is now said that this was the result of public curiosity in a novelty, and that interest is on the wane. The producers have gone far enough with the sound pictures to prove that when they are at their best, both in the studio and in the exhibitor's theater, they have a form of entertainment which has no reason for an insecure future. With sound reproduced, as it frequently is, without mechanical offenses, the moving picture adds a new field to its old one. It can give the drama of the old stage or it can extend that drama to the wider range of motion.

It can be said that Owen Wister's "Virginian" never before had its dramatic material better presented than it had in the sound picture. It was an even greater story in the picture than it was in the bound volume and far greater than it appeared on the stage. The American producers, in succeeding as well as they have done with sound, may have increased their production difficulties without adding to their profits, or they may have stepped out of the silent pictures when it would have been enough to have produced better silent pictures, but the innovators could not have been stopped except by failure.

It is true that much of the production is false both to romance and reality, juvenile or stupid, controlled by dogmas regarding public taste which are wrong as often as they are right. The exceptions, however, prove the worth of the entertainment, and ought to guarantee its future. The moving picture advantages are almost indestructible—neighborhood accessibility, minimum demands upon leisure and effort, reasonable box office prices, the undiminished popular interest in the people of the screen, the availability of material, and the almost unlimited range of dramatic effects, advantages which ought to survive the dumb blonde, moronic money, and the ministrations of Deacon Hays.

AIR FORCES IN WAR.

During the present time of peace it is one of the important duties of the army and navy to fix as comprehensively and definitely as possible the terms of coöperation by their respective air forces. A dispatch to THE TRIBUNE from Washington reports that the departments have been trying to work out spheres of responsibility, but with such poor success that the President may be compelled to take a hand. The situation is not unprecedented or unexpected. The two services are jealous of any limitation upon their scope of activity, their powers, their prestige, and the problem of coördination is sufficiently complicated to provide plausible arguments for both sides. Deadlocks are natural if not inevitable, but the controversy emphasizes the need to have such questions settled so far as possible in peace rather than to wait for war. Our best military judgment should be directed to formulate a system of coördination which will settle as thoroughly as practicable in advance of events the modes of cooperation, the fields of special responsibility, the trouble making questions of command and subordination—in short, the general problem of strategic and tactical coöperation between the naval and army air forces.

To procrastinate is to invite confusion, delay, and inefficiency when fighting comes. In the face of the enemy is no time to determine such complicated matters, and to postpone careful consideration and clear decision until then is to lose them and make certain of unnecessary friction and inevitable loss of power. When war is declared it is already provided, we believe, that the port defenses pass at once automatically under the control of the navy, and the military and naval authorities should prepare in advance of emergency a plan for their air forces which should also go into effect automatically as soon as war begins or, if advisable, sooner.

Moreover, such a system of coördination should not be left on paper in the files of the war and navy departments, but should be practiced and perfected in peace time maneuvers.

While this problem, which is a major problem of our modern defense, is highly technical, we venture to suggest that design and construction should take into account uniformity of calibration and type in guns and should, at least so far as the greater part of our airplanes is concerned, adopt and develop models effective at sea as well as on land. Except in that part of the United States where they are least likely to be used, the plains and mountain regions of the far west, the amphibian type has obvious advantages over that which cannot land on water. Furthermore, in any war likely to be forced upon us naval operations will be of first importance. It follows that operation with the fleet must be foreseen as an important function even of the army air forces, and this consideration should never be subordinated in the making of plans, in construction, or in training.

OVERCROWDED BUSES.

A contributor to the Voice of the People recently raised the question again of the safety of the two decker, one man buses which the Motor Coach company is operating on a number of its lines. We think that the probability of collision is increased when one man is both driver and fare collector on so heavy a car, but, whether the risk of collision is greater or not, the likelihood of panic is increased because of the crowded aisle on the lower deck.

The bus company has been given a free hand in experimenting with new types of coaches. It has been allowed to destroy pavements with its hard rubber tires and to disturb neighborhoods with the rattle and pound of its cars. It has been allowed, without protest, to overcrowd its buses and to ignore the principle of a seat for every passenger, upon promise of which it was awarded the right to use the streets. It has been permitted to give erratic service, resulting in no small part from the fact that much of its equipment is in bad repair and liable to break down at any moment. Despite all these shortcomings the public has been tolerant in the belief that the company was still experimenting in the interest as much of comfortable and safe as of economical transportation.

We do not think it is too soon to say that the faith of the bus riders has been misplaced. The service is not improving. If the company is not prospering as it might, at least part of the explanation is to be found in the quality of service it offers.

Editorial of the Day

[Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.]

A letter from a correspondent recalls the very hot summer of 1901. He showed from the official weather record of that year, kept by Prof. Pearce of Bloomington, that 20 days of July showed temperatures above 100, with one day marking 108.

While this correspondent did not refer to the fact, it may be well to remind the sweltering people of today that they enjoy many diversions affording chances to cool off which were denied the people of 1901.

What did the folks do in the evenings of those hot days twenty-nine years ago? About their only chance to cool off was to take a trolley ride on the open street cars. There were no automobiles in which to go whizzing into the open country after sundown. There were no artificially cooled theaters with motion pictures. There were no night time baseball games to attend, nor miniature golf courses.

A few nabobs might have had the privilege of buggy rides, but they were few in comparison with the number who now go motoring in the evenings.

As to sleeping, there were no open air porches in 1901, no electric fans. The hot ones had to drag their mattresses out on the grass of the lawn, and then were able to sleep, if at all, only until the morning sun began to peep over the horizon, which seemed very early.

Modern science can't change the weather, but it has provided many means of mitigating the sufferings of humanity under extreme conditions.

CAUSES OF ECZEMA.

OUR correspondents sometimes write for a list of substances capable of causing dermatitis, sometimes called eczema. In replying we commonly give about a dozen of the more typical and suggestive, leaving it to the reader to construct groups around those given and to find an offender somewhere in a group. It sometimes happens that the correspondent comes back with a letter asking for a longer list of potential causes.

A specialist in skin diseases, recognizing the wide range of causes of occupational eczema and dermatitis incident to the exposures of life, adopted the plan of making a classified list of causes. Whenever he encounters a case with a cause not on his list, or reads of one, he adds it. He published the list as it stood after several years' growth in the Archives of Dermatology and Syphilis for April, 1930. At the time of publication his list included the following, by groups:

15 hair tonics not hair dyes.
4 skin bleaches.
7 face creams.
5 face powders.
3 rouges.
5 miscellaneous toilet articles for the lips, skin, and hair.
14 miscellaneous substances.
113 plants grown in the United States.
40 tropical plants.

This physician has collected nearly 450 substances capable of giving a person occupational skin disease, or housewife's eczema, or a skin disorder by some other name. Since some of the causes named are really groups with subheads, we may say that there are 500 individual items. Furthermore, as the result of experience and reading he adds to the list from time to time.

A person who starts out to run down the cause of a given case of eczema has a good many to choose from. His search may be long and arduous. However, he is used to that. If he is an old sufferer he has spent years reading advertisements of eczema remedies, running to drug stores buying cures, and trying them. He is not as liable to chase the cause half as laboriously and patiently as he has done in chasing these vaunted cures.

He might begin by starting his own list. If he is a physician he might buy a copy of this journal and start with Dr. Weber's list.

HOME GROUND CEREALS.

C. B. writes: I was much interested in your article about home milling of cereals, as I have practiced this for years. For breakfast I use a half cupful of coarsely ground wheat to which a teaspoonful of finely ground flaxseed has been added. I let boil and simmer for about ten minutes and then stand to cool off. This is done while I am taking my morning shower, or, in the summer time, my plunge in the lake. To the cooked cereals I add a pinch of salt, a little butter, and a teaspoonful of honey. This makes a dish that, eaten with milk, is fit for a king, costs less than 5 cents, and which holds me in fine condition until an afternoon meal.

My experience may be helpful to others. Strangely enough, you cannot buy wheat in the grocery stores, department, or chain stores that carry everything else in the line of eatables. I have to get it at a little out of the way store, at a price of 9 cents a pound, which comes to $4.50 a bushel, while the Board of Trade quotation is well below the dollar mark. However, I would rather pay much more than be without the "staff of life." The flaxseed I buy at a drug store at 30 cents a pound. Now, what is your opinion of this latter ingredient which I started adding to my wheat about a year ago and find wonderful?

REPLY.

Flaxseed as an addition is used for its laxative effect. For this purpose it is valuable.

PARTNERS DISAGREE.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I invested a sum of money in a business (paid one-half value of fixtures, etc.) on the understanding that both partner and I would work at business and share fifty-fifty. I also put into the business a lot of other tools that I paid for. My partner used the money I invested for his personal use, and instead of working in the business himself put another party in his place. I refused to carry on and removed tools, etc., I had paid for. Can I recover cash I invested or do I own one-half the fixtures? We had only a verbal agreement, as I would not sign any agreement when I found partner would not work in business himself. J. P. L.

The ordinary remedy where partners fail to agree is for either one to file a bill to dissolve the partnership. The court will order the assets sold and the proceeds, after deducting costs, including attorneys' fees, divided between the partners.

NO MORE DUMPING.

Chicago, July 20.—[Friend of the People.]—I live next to a vacant lot which is full of rubbish thrown there by the neighbors. It gets strewn in the alley, too, and there are three cars in this block which have trouble getting through the alley. We would like to have this alley and lot cleared. P. S.

Report is made that conditions complained of have been remedied and offenders notified to stop further dumping. Assurance was given there would be no further cause for complaint. JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Superintendent of Streets.

SUICIDES.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have followed your column with interest for some time, and recently an argument came up between two friends, so I thought perhaps you could settle it.

A contends that if a person attempts to commit suicide and is not successful the person may be put in jail. B sees no reason why this should be so, as there is no crime being committed, such as murder or robbery. Who is correct in this instance? R. U.

1. The person would be likely to be arrested, at least for disorderly conduct.
2. See No. 1.

LISTEN, FRIENDS! THERE'S AN ELECTION COMING SOON!

Yessir, there's going to be a regular election next November, and the campaign is going on right now. But how many people give a hoot? There doesn't seem to be a single one. What are our people doing? Well, those that are not playing peewee golf are busy with backgammon. And what about the great issues, what about the ship of state that is wallowing something awful in the waves? How are we going to save this nation next election if everybody is playing either peewee golf or backgammon? Never before has this great nation been threatened with the dire calamities that threaten it right now. Listen to the statesmen if you don't believe it. And you, what are you doing? Playing peewee golf or backgammon. And this nation has got to be saved, as it has to be saved regularly at every election. But a fat chance there is of saving it, the way things are going. We've got to snap out of it or something's going to happen. We don't know what, but it will be something, all right. Anyhow, there's an election coming.

A NEW WAY.

Black mud below;
Somebody tell me
A new way to go.

I loved a short man,
I loved a tall;
When I grew older
I loved them all.

I loved a gay man,
I loved a sad,
Smiled at a poet—
He was a fad.

Black mud below me,
Somebody tell me
A new man to love.

HELEN WELSHIMER.

QUEEN MARY, up to the hour of going to press, has not replied to the W. C. T. U. of Rockford regarding their anxious inquiry as to whether she smoked cigarets. But London papers say the queen smokes two a day, and somebody over there also informed the worried women of Rockford that the queen found lemons efficacious in removing nicotine stains and sent love and kisses to Al Capone.

"TURKS LAUNCH New Drive on Kurds."—All Newspapers. Always in dog days, when news is scarcer than the gold fillings in hens' teeth, we find the Turks launch a new drive on the Kurds. It's been happening ever since William the Conqueror landed on the back of the neck of Harold, the last of the Saxon kings. But the sassy old Kurds are still able to make the Turks mad. Gosh! they're life savers, those Kurds, these dull times.

GIVING HER THE GAS!

They're putting all sorts of things on the autos to add to the comfort and pleasure of driving (see display ads), but one thing we've hunted and hunted for and we don't seem to find it anywhere. We want a gadget that keeps the car from bucking like a wild mustang when we start up. Other cars just roll out sweetly and easily, but that dogoned car of ours gives a series of convulsive leaps in the air and yells, "Ride 'em, cowboy!" Certainly, we know that we let in the clutch too quick, but with three policemen bellowing, "Go ahead! Go ahead! Are you tied there or somethin'?" and twenty-five maddened cars behind us honking their horns in a brazen chorus—well, what to do?

GOV. KOHLER of Wisconsin says that the American people have a right to drink beer of moderate alcoholic content. A thrilling statement these days, but suppose back at the beginning of these United States somebody had gravely announced that people had the right to drink beer or to eat chicken or roast beef or to wear shoes? But now—oh, tck, tck, tck!

ILLINOIS doesn't make a bit of row about it, as other states do over their playgrounds, but this grand old commonwealth has one of the loveliest parks imaginable in the northwest corner of the state, called "The Pines." It's west of Oregon, and if you don't know where Oregon is, then it's west of the Rock river; and if you don't know where the Rock river is, there's no use telling you. Anyhow, in the Pines are rock bluffs and great stately pine trees and roads that ford the river and great tracts of meadow land covered with the greenest of green lush grass and—oh, well, go to the Yellowstone or Glacier park if you want to; we're just telling you about a gorgeous beauty spot right here in dear old Illinoy.

A CABLEGRAM from Ireland says a man was swimming in the River Inny, near Ballymulvey, and he stepped on a snake that took a bite at him. Well, either St. Patrick overlooked a few when he drove the snakes out or this was one that escaped from a circus.

LOST GYPSY.

Gold were the coins 'long a Romany road,
Catching the smile of the sun;
Golden the hours and light the load,
But the night was silver-spun.

Fragrant the smoke of gypsy fires
That blew into your hair,
And gypsy stars knew the old desires
That rode on the gypsy air.

Song of the roamer, soft guitar,
Caresses for one whose tears
Must ever return when the road leads far
Through the golden gypsy years.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 13, 1914.

LONDON.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Basel, Switzerland, says: "Following a terrible battle at Muelhausen the hospital facilities proved absolutely inadequate to care for the almost indescribable number of wounded. The latest estimates place the German losses at from 8,000 to 10,000."

BRUSSELS.—Reinforced by 40 ton siege guns the Germans renewed their attacks on the Liege forts. The Belgian gunners responded vigorously and the artillery duel continued all day without one of the string of forts being silenced.

LONDON.—The battle line is 150 miles long. Two million men are awaiting the word to hurl forward. At any moment news is expected of the most appalling battle in the history of the world. Four German armies are endeavoring to invade France. The allies in Belgium have extended their lines from Louvain, ten miles from Brussels, through Tirlemont and Dinant to Givet. From Givet the French army's line extends south through Mezieres to Verdun.

LONDON.—A Berlin dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says that the German staff admits heavy losses on the Russian frontier. A Rome dispatch gives a telegram from the frontier stating that an Austrian cavalry brigade has been exterminated by Cossacks on the Austro-Russian frontier.

AUGUST 13, 1900.

PARIS.—During maneuvers of the French fleet off Cape St. Vincent there was a collision between the first class battleship Brennus, flying the flag of Vice Admiral Fournier, commander of the fleet, and the torpedo boat destroyer Framee. Forty-two officers and sailors lost their lives in the disaster, the worst in the history of the French navy. The destroyer was literally crushed and sank almost immediately. Only fourteen of the four officers and fifty-six men on board are known to have been saved.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States refuses to enter into any negotiations with Li Hung Chang looking to a cessation of hostilities. This refusal was contained in an official communication addressed to the Chinese imperial government and handed to Minister Wu. The Chinese are informed that no diplomatic steps will be taken until demands previously made are fully complied with. Among these is the one that the Chinese government must give convincing proof that the foreign ministers at Peking, attachés and their families are safe. The communication was in reply to an edict of the emperor appointing Li Hung Chang envoy plenipotentiary to negotiate for peace.

PARIS.—The foreign office has received through the Chinese minister, Yu Keng, a note from the Tsung-li-Yamen, which is most insolent in its tone, concerning the ministers leaving Peking under Chinese escort. Minister Delcasse in a reply said that "no order to depart from Peking will be given our minister so long as the route is unsafe."

AUGUST 13, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sympathy of Washington secessionists for Mrs. Jeff Davis is decidedly substantial in character. The amount subscribed in her behalf foots up to the handsome sum of $6,510. The lowest contribution was $10 and the highest $510.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The carriage presented to President Lincoln by a number of New York gentlemen is advertised for sale. Its original cost was $2,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This being reception day at the White House, President Johnson was literally overwhelmed with visitors, white and black. A majority of the callers consisted of pardon seeking rebels and office seekers. Several good looking females, pardon brokers, were in attendance, but failed to get the President's attention.

NEW YORK.—A Washington special says: "A long cabinet session was held today, and report says a rather stormy one. The President's reconstruction policy is understood to have been discussed in all its length and breadth, and his determination to carry it out regardless of consequences was emphatically announced."

ELECTRIFICATION.

Northbrook, Ill., Aug. 11.—Your determination to have electrified railroad terminals deserves the highest commendation. Your editorial of last Saturday relative thereto is absolutely correct. We have been pleading and arguing with the Milwaukee for years, but it is all in vain. Our scourge is the terrible whistling of engines. Several years ago we were told that experiments were being made with air whistles, but all that amounted to was the installation of these on one or two night trains, for the benefit of sleeping passengers.

These railroad officials are about the hardest boiled eggs one can ever try to deal with, and nothing short of compulsion will get anything out of them. Our hope is that you may get more action out of the commerce commission than we have been able to.

E. D. LANDWEHR,
Secretary, Northbrook Civic association.

THE FARMERS AND THE PACKERS.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 5.—I usually have respect for your editorials, but the one entitled "The Farmers and the Packers" is a complete misstatement of the facts.

While we were at war, and our soldier boys going to France with only $30 per month pay, the President of the United States directed the federal trade commission to investigate the packing industry because of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust act and to ascertain if there were manipulations, controls, trusts, combinations, conspiracies, or restraints of trade. A year later, July 3, 1918, answering the President's question as to whether there existed among the packers monopolies, controls, trusts, combinations, conspiracies, or restraints of trade, the federal trade commission reported: "We found conclusive evidence that warrants an unqualified affirmative."

When you state in your editorial that "farmers were encouraged to believe that the packers were paying them less than a fair price on their live stock" I wish to point out to you, on page 27 of the federal trade commission's report, that they found documentary evidence in the files of the packers themselves that these cattle markets, where the buying was done by the Big Five, were actually apportioned to each one of the concerns on a percentage basis. In this report you will find evidence gathered by the commission showing the shipment of meats overseas during wartime that were almost unfit for use. You will find there a history of transactions that, as an American citizen, will cause you to blush for shame.

The packers eagerly signed the consent decree as a way out of criminal prosecutions that would surely have arisen had they not so agreed. While the American people have short memories, that does not excuse your editorial department, nor Chairman Legge of the farm board, whom you report as favorable to modification.

FRANCIS X. ST. PETER,
President, Commercial Bank of Menominee.

STREET CARS ON THE DRIVE.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—The recent editorial in THE TRIBUNE concerning tracks [illegible] the boulevards and inconvenience to motorists caused by opening Michigan boulevard bridge give me a pain. The link bridge doesn't care for half the volume of traffic which pours over Cass or State or Madison street bridge. Ninety per cent of the motorists are traveling on unimportant errands, which is evidenced by the decrease on rainy days.

Tremendous amounts of money are being spent for drives through parks and along the lake where the motor cars spew forth their delicious gasoline in the face of nature to be inhaled by those who go to the lake to see it and to enjoy it. The autoist speeds past occasionally glancing out of the windows of his closed car, and cares not a whit for the beauty he is defacing.

But the street cars, unsightly and badly designed as they are, are made to carry people, efficiently, if not comfortably. They can bring tens of thousands to the beaches and to the Field museum and the planetarium and the aquarium.

From the way the park boards and civic administration are planning the town they are definitely favoring those who have sufficient money to make a down payment on a car and they are planning against the vast majority who ought to be able to reach beauty spots by efficient smell-less means. You say that the efficiency of the boulevard would be impaired by allowing street cars on it. The efficiency of the boulevard is pretty nearly zero even when it is filled with autos traveling at a high rate of speed but carrying only one or two or three people per auto.

CHICAGOAN.

FLOWERS EVERYWHERE.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Speaking of roadside beauty, the caption to one of your editorials today, the perennials are not maturing their seeds. If each one of your readers would save the flower seeds that mature on his own premises and scatter them along the highways and byways, in the vacant lots, and especially over unsightly spots which are now a mass of weeds or debris, what a difference it would make next summer. The result would be hodgepodge, but nature has strange ways of securing harmony.

THOUSANDS FLEE AS REDS ADVANCE ON CHINESE CITY

Clamp Strict Censorship on All News.

HANKOW, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Terror prevailed in Changsha today as the communist horde that recently sacked and burned the city was reported returning with threats to murder everyone between the ages of 15 and 35.

Thousands of Chinese fled from the famous Hunan province capital to escape Red vengeance for wholesale executions by provincial authorities of communists who participated in looting. Gov. Ho Chien was said to have directed the torture and killing of 250 communist suspects daily.

Fears were felt that provincial troops could not hold the city walls against the Reds, reported only five miles away. Men said to be communists were hunted down by troops and quickly executed. The few foreigners remaining at Changsha stayed aboard foreign gunboats.

Boast of Russian Backing.

While new communist outrages were threatened, more details were received of recent Red depredations in the city. Writing from Changsha Sunday, an official of the American Northern Presbyterian mission said fifty-five large properties of foreign missions had been burned or damaged, and hundreds of small Chinese buildings were set on fire.

The communists, in a newspaper broadcast throughout Hunan province, the missionary said, claimed connections with Moscow and announced they planned establishment of a soviet régime in Hunan, Hupeh, and Kiangsi provinces. They declared themselves against Nationalist and rebel factions which were fighting for control of China's government.

Clamp Down Censorship.

SHANGHAI.—(AP)—New regulations for the censorship of news passing from one point of China to another or to the outside world have been approved by the central government at Nanking.

The new rules permit no news being sent abroad without its being censored, and foreign correspondents who file dispatches without first presenting them to the censors run the risk of being blacklisted at the government offices.

The measure also stipulates that no news from the war front can be filed without military censorship and in cases where the censor deems fit Chinese characters must be used in telegraph transmission to the cable office. Officials responsible for the new regulations maintain they are the only means by which China can be presented to the rest of the world in the proper light.

BIG BROOKLYN FIRE DESTROYS WOOD USED FOR U. S. DIRIGIBLES

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Fire starting in the lumber yard of the Balsa Wood company on the lower Brooklyn water front threw a heavy cloud of smoke over part of the harbor today and baffled firemen for hours before it was brought under control.

The blaze was confined to the lumber yard. Seven firemen were overcome by smoke. The damage was not estimated.

Balsa, the wood which was afire, is a lighter than cork lumber, which has been imported in quantities largely for use in the manufacture of American dirigibles at Akron, O.

SLUG AND ROB TRUCK DRIVER NEAR STERLING

Sterling, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—All available policemen were turned out again tonight after a Clinton, Ia., truckman had been slugged and robbed, in the hope of capturing the bandits who last night shot and killed Patrolman Robert Card here.

The truck driver, at the wheel of a bottling works truck, was stopped on the Lincoln highway about six miles west tonight by two young men driving a small coupe. They asked to borrow a jack. As the driver stooped over his tool box to get it he was knocked unconscious with a pop bottle. When he came to the bandits and his money had disappeared.

Policemen blocked all the highways, armed with sawed off shotguns, but no bandits fell into the various traps.

No other clews as to the killers of Patrolman Card had turned up tonight. Police believed that Card had recognized some wanted man, tried to arrest him, and was killed.

Will Take Tax Warrants East for Mayor to Sign

August Singer, deputy city treasurer, and Robert M. Perbohner of the board of local improvements will start tomorrow for Nantucket, Mass., where Mayor Thompson is staying for a month, with $2,000,000 in 1930 school board tax anticipation warrants, according to City Controller Schmidt. The warrants must be signed by the mayor before they can be sold. Controller Schmidt signed the warrants yesterday and later this week will start signing $7,000,000 worth of bonds for which the city will receive bids on Friday.

License Chief of Health Department Discharged

William J. Thommen, head of the license enforcement division of the health department for the last three years, was discharged yesterday by Health Commissioner Kegel on grounds that he had approved applications for licenses for bakeries and restaurants which had violated health department regulations. Dr. Timothy King, field health inspector, was appointed to the position.

VILLARD URGES U. S. OWN MINES AND RAILROADS

University, Va., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A new national economic program, involving government ownership of railroads, pipe lines and coal mines was advanced today as a compelling trend of the times by Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation, in an address at the Institute of Public Affairs.

Mr. Villard urged as the "first and most constructive step toward any definite future policy" a survey of "our present situation in America, to realize how chaotic, how unscientific it is."

In his recommendation that the government take over railroads, pipe lines and coal mines, he called attention to the inland waterways corporation, "an agency of the war department," which he said today is paying a profit of $125,000 annually into the national treasury.

Let Alone by Politicians.

"In passing it is interesting to note," he said, "that Gen. Ashburn [general manager of the waterways corporation] has testified that in the five years during which he has been head of the company he has never been approached for political purposes or for patronage by any member of congress, or any politician."

Government control of the nation's natural resources "which have not yet gone into the hands of private owners for private profit" was another of Mr. Villard's recommendations.

Outlines Plan of Action.

Recognizing that many might term his recommendations "radical and dangerous, socialistic, and perhaps even communistic," Mr. Villard urged against timidity. He said the interstate commerce commission was denounced at its inception, but that today "no railroad president would recommend its abolition."

U. S. MARSHAL SUED BY EX-DRY AGENT RESIGNS

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—United States Marshal Jesse D. Moore of the eastern district in Brooklyn today forwarded his resignation to Attorney General William B. Mitchell, to take effect on Aug. 31.

Last May Albert S. Johnson, former federal prohibition agent, brought a $50,000 action against Moore, charging false arrest and malicious persecution and testified at a hearing that the marshal used to come around to the Manor brewery in Staten island and drink the beer which Johnson and other agents had seized and were guarding. He won a $7,000 verdict in that case.

Moore is 68 years old and reached his post as marshal after having held a series of minor political appointive posts in Brooklyn.

– says James M. Clark
PITTSBURGH'S DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SAFETY

free wheeling with positive gear control

HIGHWAY commissioners and safety directors throughout the country have voiced unqualified approval of Free Wheeling with positive gear control—manufactured under Studebaker patents—and available only in the brilliant New Series President and Commander Eights.

Here, for the first time in a motor car, momentum works for you, saving fuel and oil, banishing the stresses and strains of reversion. Yet the force of engine compression is ready like a giant hand to add its restraint to the silken-smooth stroke of powerful brakes. Full engine braking power is available instantly, easily, quietly, at any speed!

Come today and drive the seasoned New Series President and Commander Eights. Know what a relief it is, to be able to shift at will, back and forth between high and second, without so much as touching the clutch! In these remarkable cars you need use the clutch only to start or back up.

No other cars can offer you motoring to compare with Free Wheeling under positive gear control. Try this revolutionary achievement of Studebaker's 78 years of manufacturing progress.

You shift from high to second, back and forth, at 40—50 miles an hour, and never touch the clutch. You need use the clutch only to start or back up.

The braking power of your engine is available as readily as in conventional cars.

For the first time in a motor car you get the full benefit of momentum automatically. When your car has gone 10,000 miles your engine has "worked" only 8,000 miles.

You save 12 per cent on gasoline, 20 per cent on oil—even more in heavy traffic.

Strains on engine, transmission and axle are lessened. Tires wear longer.

There is nothing new to learn—Free Wheeling with positive gear control is simplicity itself. You drive just as you do in a conventional car.

I. N. G. ADVANCES FOR ATTACK ON "ENEMY" TODAY

Skirmishes Mark First Day of War Game.

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Thin lines of infantry slogged through the wooded hills of the Kishwaukee river valley under hypothetical artillery fire today as the 10,000 troops of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, took up position for an attack upon the enemy.

Tonight the troops were in bivouac along the river, ready for the attack, which is scheduled to be launched in the early hours tomorrow. Heavy artillery, camouflaged in groves, was in readiness for a bombardment of the town. Scouting planes for the advancing forces reported that the enemy, represented by the 106th cavalry, had progressed more rapidly than expected and had crossed the river which represents the boundary line between the two enemy states.

Start March at Daybreak.

This imaginary wartime maneuver was begun last night with the receipt of a report that a mythical enemy state had declared war and that a hostile force was advancing on Camp Grant. At daybreak today the 33d division was on the march to repel a fancied invasion.

The artillery units and tank companies brought up the rear of the march, where the rolling kitchens also rumbled along. The two infantry brigades of the division are commanded by Brig. Gens. Abel Davis and John J. Garrity, while Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel commands the artillery brigade.

During the march there were skirmishes between the cavalry patrols. The planes overhead made frequent attacks upon the marchers below. Umpires, with white hat bands, dashed here and there, deciding when prisoners were taken, when casualties occurred, and when an attack was successful or repulsed.

Camp Pitched in Hour.

The big camp was pitched in an hour. The pup tents stretched in long rows, the kitchens were functioning, telephone wires were stretched, horses were being watered and fed. The men devoured hungrily a supper of beef, potatoes, bread, and coffee.

After the attack tomorrow morning the return march will be made to camp. This maneuver is the climax of the two weeks of field training which the guardsmen have annually. Thursday will be governor's day, with Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of the regular army staff, and Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, commander of the 6th corps area, inspecting the troops. On Friday preparations will be made to break up camp Saturday.

LOSES ARMS UNDER TRAIN.

U. S. NAVY FACES A SHORTAGE OF JUNIOR OFFICERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—An increasing resignation rate among junior officers, plus an apparent dearth of candidates for admission to the United States Naval academy, threatens to cause a shortage of trained naval officer personnel, the navy department disclosed today.

Three hundred and ninety-three vacancies exist at the academy, while a total of 718 vacancies will be available for candidates desiring to enter the academy in 1931. Three hundred twenty-five of the vacancies will result from the graduation of the class of 1931 next June.

There are twenty-seven vacancies available for Illinois applicants. In the First district, represented by Oscar De Priest [Rep.] there are three vacancies. There is one vacancy in the Second district, one in the Fourth, one in the Fifth, one in the Sixth, three in the Eighth, two in the Ninth, one each in the Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth, two in the Eighteenth, three each in the Twentieth and Twenty-third, and two in the Twenty-fifth. Seven more vacancies will be available next June.

There are twelve vacancies in Iowa, twelve in Michigan, eight in Wisconsin.

ANGRY 40 FOOT WHALE SMASHES BOAT AND 'RUNS'

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A forty foot whale in Sydney harbor gave city dwellers here today closeup thrills of an antarctic whale hunt. The visitor leisurely explored Port Jackson, the great harbor's main waterway, until the noted shark fisherman, Charles Messenger, and a newspaper reporter and photographer started out in a small boat to attempt a capture.

While thousands on harbor craft and along the shore looked on, Messenger twice harpooned the whale, which dived each time and wrenched itself free.

When the whaling party made a third attempt from close quarters the leviathan swept its tail across the launch, smashing the upper works and knocking Messenger and the others into the sea. Then with a lightning turn the whale churned the water into foam, lifted the boat's stern out of the water, and shot on a direct course past the harbor entrance to a tremendous hooting of harbor sirens.

U. S. Registers Protest Against New Spanish Tariff

MADRID, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A protest from the United States against the new Spanish tariff has been received by the Spanish government, the duke of Alba, minister of state, announced today at the conclusion of a meeting of the council of ministers. The protest will be studied closely, the minister said. He declined to comment on the nature of the protest or to indicate Spain's reply.

DENIES CURB ON ARSENAL WORK AT ROCK ISLAND

$650,000 Set Aside for Plant, Hurley Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Recurring reports of further curtailment of activities at the Rock Island, Ill., ordnance arsenal were emphatically denied today by Secretary of War P. J. Hurley in a letter to Senator Otis Glenn [Rep., Ill.].

Responding to the senator's inquiry, Secretary Hurley reasserted the war department's established policy to maintain all of the ordnance arsenals not only for the purpose of constant experimentation but also as a nucleus for expansion in emergencies.

$650,000 for Arsenal.

Approximately $650,000 will be allotted to the Rock Island arsenal during the fiscal year 1931 for the manufacture of mobile artillery or mobile artillery carriages, as compared with $750,000 set aside for the Illinois plant in 1930, according to Secretary Hurley.

"It is an established policy," wrote the secretary, "of the war department to maintain at all of our ordnance arsenals a small force which will act as a nucleus both to perpetuate the art of manufacture of ordnance and to constantly improve the designs in the course of manufacture of the limited quantities possible in time of peace.

Sums as Large as Possible.

"Due to the large reserve of artillery material on hand at the conclusion of the world war, congress has appropriated very small sums of money for the manufacture of mobile artillery or mobile artillery carriages, the latter being the chief item which the Rock Island arsenal is equipped to manufacture. With the limited funds available orders have been placed at Rock Island arsenal in an effort to perpetuate the art of manufacture of ordnance and to maintain a nucleus of foremen and workmen which will allow the proper expansion at the necessary time."

The estimates for manufacture of ordnance at Rock Island in the next fiscal year, the letter added, have been "as large as possible after taking into consideration all the needs of the army."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Falling 45 feet down a ventilation funnel aboard the S. S. Berengaria, Mrs. Florence Stehlik of Jackson Heights, L. I., N. Y., was fatally injured.

Mrs. Stehlik, who was standing on the hatch watching a passing vessel, leaned against a canvas windshield which she thought was solid. It collapsed and she was precipitated down the funnel, sustaining a broken neck and fractured skull.

On the arrival of the Berengaria at Cherbourg today, the body was transferred to the Olympic, which is sailing tomorrow for New York.

WALKER, OLVANY DENY KNOWLEDGE OF JOB BUYING

Both Give Tammany Clean Bill in Ewald Scandal.

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Both Mayor James Walker and George W. Olvany, former leader of Tammany hall, assured District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain this afternoon that they know nothing whatever about the charge that George F. Ewald paid $12,- to become a city magistrate.

The head of the city and the former head of the hall were summoned to the prosecutor's office and questioned about the circumstances of the appointment. The bill of health they gave the organization was impeccably clean.

Both declared the appointment was made in the usual way. They recalled support for Ewald from the Steuben society. The mayor remembered having received a couple of letters saying bad things about the aspirant, but that was all.

Hears of Job Purchase.

Before questioning Mr. Walker and Mr. Olvany, Mr. Crain interviewed Dieterich Boczor, former secretary to Ewald. Boczor told Crain that twice he had heard Ewald say he bought his place on the bench.

The mayor denied he had so much as discussed the Ewald appointment, either with Mr. Olvany or with Martin J. Healy, the Tammany leader whom he suspended as deputy commissioner of plants and structures, because he is involved in the scandal.

Ewald no longer is a magistrate. He resigned after a federal grand jury indicted him on a mail fraud charge in connection with the sale of mine stock. The mayor will tell the story of his appointment once again tomorrow, when he is to appear before the grand jury.

Knows Nothing About It.

Mr. Olvany was summoned to the district attorney's office because it was in April, 1927, during his rulership of the "New Tammany," that Ewald was elevated to the bench.

Asked directly by Mr. Crain whether he knew anything about the story that $2,000 was the leverage behind that elevation, Mr. Olvany said:

"I know nothing about it at all. Neither the Democratic organization nor myself received one cent."

Mr. Olvany thought he might have talked over Ewald with District Leader Healy, who has admitted receiving a $10,000 loan from Mrs. Bertha Ewald, the magistrate's wife, at the time of the appointment. But, said the former leader of the wigwam, if he did talk with Healy he was sure it was only a routine conversation to determine if the district leader knew Ewald.

SON BORN TO COUPLE WHO SIGNED "DIVORCE IF NO BABY" CONTRACT

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The famous "divorce-if-there's-no-baby" contract marriage of the Kenneth Moyers, formerly of Chicago and now living in Souderton, Pa., near here, has developed into an old fashioned matrimonial affair. A son was born to them today.

Moyer, who styles himself a "radical poet," and his wife, a former University of Chicago journalism student, are displaying much pride over the new arrival. The contract, Moyer said, will be torn in half, but will be framed and hung in the parlor as a momento. The contract read:

"I, William Kenneth Moyer of Chicago, and I, Ethel Olyette Amelia Oen of Sun Prairie, do hereby agree to marry for the deliberate purpose of creating a child. If, at the end of two years, we have failed in our purpose it shall be the privilege of either one to apply for divorce without consulting the other."

MRS. M'CORMICK IS VISITOR AT THE INTERSTATE FAIR

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Featured by a visit from Ruth Hanna McCormick and prominent Republican state and county candidates, the Kankakee Interstate fair held its annual Illinois day today. The largest crowd of the season attended.

Numerous races, ranging from freak automobile contests to those featuring thoroughbred trotting horses, are featured, with large purses offered as prizes to the winners. Spectacular horse shows are being conducted nightly.

Despite the prevailing drought conditions, the displays of farm products are larger than ever before and are of excellent quality.

Kankakee day is to be observed Wednesday and all business establishments will suspend business at noon in order to allow employés an opportunity to visit the fair. Thursday is set aside as Chicago day.

Some of Len Small's advisers suggested that he run again for governor next year. Small was noncommittal as to his intentions.

Roosevelt Road Closed in Suburbs for Repairs

Roosevelt road was closed yesterdayy from the Winfield road, just west of Wheaton, to 17th avenue, Broadview. The pavement is being widened and much of the old and cracked concrete is to be replaced. The detour marked by the state is south on 17th avenue, west on 22d street, north on Wolf road, west on Putterfield road, north on York road, and west on North avenue to St. Charles. The Chicago Motor club suggests as an optional route getting on to North avenue at Austin boulevard or Harlem avenue.

HOOVER MOVES TO END COAST DEFENSE ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—President Hoover, it was learned at the White House today, has called upon the bureau of efficiency to make a study of the long standing row between the army and the navy over control of aerial coastal defense.

The bureau will study only the economic phases of the dispute to determine if actual duplication of effort with a consequent waste of public funds actually exists. Should the services fail to reach a decision, President Hoover has indicated he will take steps to settle the controversy himself.

Should the bureau find that the two air services are duplicating efforts a cut in appropriations for one of the services would be in prospect.

It was learned to day that the army air corps and the bureau of aeronautics are asking for a total of $77,000,000 in the 1932 budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The bureau of aeronautics is asking for slightly above $32,000,000, the amount appropriated for it this year, while the army air corps has asked for $45,000,000, a considerable increase over last year.

Included in the naval budget are funds for the purchase of torpedo planes for use at Coco Solo, at Panama, and Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. Both the army and navy have air stations in the Hawaiian islands and at Panama. The army charges that the navy, in placing planes at these points, is duplicating army efforts and encroaching on army functions.

Ex-Wife of Darby Day Jr. Wins Court Continuance

Mrs. Berenice Lundstrom Day, 24 years old, who served a prison term at San Quentin, Cal., in 1927 for throwing acid at her husband, the late Darby Day Jr., son of the millionaire Chicago insurance man, prior to their divorce, was arraigned in Town Hall court yesterday on a charge of destroying city property. Mrs. Day was granted a continuance to Aug. 23 to allow her time to pay for a traffic light, demolished by her car Monday night at Clark street and North avenue. Mrs. Day is living at 923 Lawrence avenue.

TWO GUNMEN RAID CANDY STORE.

Louis Norvill, owner of a candy store at 1730 South Union avenue, was held up in the store yesterday by two gunmen, who robbed him of his watch, a pistol and $110, including several $5 gold pieces.

Are You Protected Against the Carelessness of Others?

You may be the most careful of drivers, but your carefulness cannot protect you against the carelessness of others.

You cannot ward off accidents occurring through the fault of others, but you can make certain that if an accident does occur, you will not suffer a financial loss. The prudent motorist knows that any motor vehicle that is worth protecting against the hazards of fire and theft is worth protecting against the hazards of collision.

Collision insurance protects you from loss arising from damage done to your car. Full collision insurance pays the entire cost of repairs made necessary because of collision with a moving or stationary object. Deductible insurance pays part of the cost. On a $50 deductible policy, for example, you would pay on each accident, for all damage up to that amount, and the insurance company pays for damage in excess of $50. This means that on an $800 loss you would benefit to the extent of $750.

You get a quick and satisfactory settlement when you place your automobile insurance with the Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Chicago Motor Club. No red tape; no waiting for the decision of a distant "higher up."

Speedy claims service, together with many other features of the policy issued for the protection of members of the club, explain why insurance sales in 1929 amounted to $3,894,706.04.

As a subscriber you share in the cash savings plan. Last year the "exchange" returned $711,332.11 in cash to subscribers.

A few of the services available to members are:

Free mechanical first aid and towing service at any hour of the day or night.

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions. Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

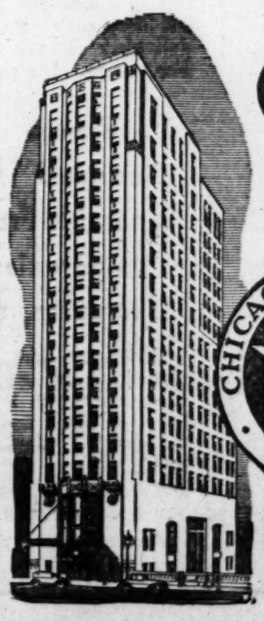

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering school boy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

CHICAGO IS ON VERGE OF BEING UPLIFTED AGAIN

Malloy Ready to Sign Sharkey Today.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—After all these years marked by no little civic progress, it appears that this city of Chicago must have another heavyweight prizefight of considerable commercial dignity this season or drop back into the second class of American cities. It also appears that Mique Malloy, a very fat and talkative fight promoter, hitherto devoted to the formation of petty fist fights in modest temples of the larcenous art, is the man to redeem his own home town in this respect.

Quite unsuspectingly, Mr. Malloy bought an option on Primo Carnera's next bout in this country, some weeks ago, with no more serious purpose than to produce a show that would differ in no wise from Primo's previous displays and to earn a few shillings for Mr. Malloy. Then he stumbled upon the interesting discovery that Primo's board of imported and domestic managers, having developed their property into a big thing, had now decided to turn more or less square and take out a first rank membership in the community of heavyweights.

Follow Course of History.

They are willing to let bygones be bygones, a defensible attitude if one but refers to the careers of some of the first rate nations of the world and the economic history of some of the most aristocratic families and industries. Ethics come last, if ever, in the evolution of a world power, and Primo's managers, in their modesty, took no liberties with precedent.

Simultaneously with this discovery of his Mr. Malloy became aware that the press and public of his home city were hanging their heads in humiliation because the Chicago Stadium, that edifice which outmeasured the New York Garden architecturally, stood closed and silent, mocking the civic aspirations of the city because the Garden corporation had closed a monopoly on all the interesting prizefight matches, and then, by accident, he learned that in their complacency, the directorate of the Garden firm had neglected to place Jack Sharkey under a retainer, leaving him, thus, a free agent.

Sharkey had fought Max Schmeling in New York in June, losing on a foul, and such had been the garden firm's disgust at this faux pas that they quite forgot that Sharkey gave Schmeling a bad beating up to the time of fouling him and had shown himself to be the better prizefighter. Aside from the foul, the best that could be argued in Schmeling's favor was that he would have discouraged Sharkey if the fight had gone along, which was saying that he would have worn him down with his chin.

Ready to Meet Jack's Terms.

Mique Malloy therefore has come to New York, a little unsteady under the responsibility of it all, to engage Sharkey to fight Carnera in Chicago in September at one of the major league ball parks or in the arena at Soldiers' field where Gene Tunney beat Jack Dempsey in 1927 by maintaining a spirited advance to the rear. He has much to offer.

The Garden firm has been hoping to present a return bout in one of the Manhattan ball yards between Sharkey and Willie Stribling, who recently performed a laudable public service in extinguishing Fainting Philip Scott. But Sharkey demanded a guaranteed price of $100,000. Considering that Stribling probably would want the same, and reflecting that the bout probably would not draw more than $250,000, the Garden firm did not press Sharkey to accept the work.

And now Mr. Malloy, with a match half made that would be likely to draw $750,000 in Chicago, is ready to offer Sharkey the $100,000 which the Garden wouldn't assure him, or 25 per cent of the gross receipts minus about 11 per cent for federal and state taxes. Unaccustomed to common toil, Mr. Malloy nevertheless is not one of the idle rich, and I have been curious to learn just what he would use for money, but he insists that he has his finger through the lapel of a millionaire and will be able to produce the funds in a Chicago bank, subject to Sharkey's order the moment he steps into a ring with Carnera there.

Might Be a Title Bout.

This is credible, considering that heavyweight prizefights nowadays are quite frankly recognized as excellent business stimuli for the hotels, restaurants, speakeasies and department stores of those cities which suffer them. This consideration was not ignored by the New York fight commissioners in June when they arbitrarily and without artistic excuse designated the Sharkey-Schmeling fight a championship contest. This designation, the purpose of which was frankly admitted, not only doubled the gate receipts but effected a proportionate increase in other spending by customers drawn from elsewhere. Mr. Will Carey, the president of the Garden firm, estimates that at least 20 per cent of the trade at an important prizefight is drawn from out of town.

The Illinois commissioners, equally sensitive to the interests of the local business men, would have equal justification for calling a Sharkey-Carnera fight a heavyweight championship bout. Remembering that Mr. Jeff Dickson, promoting the recent Stribling-

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Ted Lyons, ranking member of the White Sox staff, still is conducting his hunt for victory No. 18. He went gunning for it again this afternoon, but encountered an unruly bunch of Senators who thwarted his efforts, 5 to 4.

Lyons probably would have succeeded in his hunt if he hadn't been overcome by buck fever or some such thing when he noticed his mates were collecting a lead for him. The lead amounted to 2 to 0 in the third, but in the home half Ted, for no apparent reason, lapsed into a state of ineffectiveness. Hostile hits fairly showered on him, and before he could induce his opponents to desist four of them had romped across the plate. Those four runs, with one more added in the eighth, prevented the Sox from getting back into the fight despite a strong finish which they staged against Lloyd (Lefty) Brown.

Braxton will be tried in the second of the series tomorrow. Hadley will operate for the Senators.

Jolley Beats Out a Hit.

The production of the day's supply of runs began in the Sox's second. Jolley beat out a hit, which may sound strange to those who have observed the large man doing his running act. He was forced by Cissell, who went down to second on Clancy's infield out and home on Mulleavy's single. The Sox made it 2 to 0 in their favor with another run in the third. Kerr singled and Watwood forced him. Eventually Watwood scored on Jolley's single to center.

Lyons retired one man in the home third before getting into the difficulties that resulted in four runs. Spencer singled and Brown did the same. Myer forced Brown. After taking two strikes Rice pushed a single through short, Spencer scoring. Next came Manush with a double, driving Myer and Rice home. Manush scored on a hit by Cronin. Kuhel also contributed a hit, but further scoring was avoided for the time being when Watwood stabbed West's liner.

Kerr Gets Third Hit.

After the third the Sox made a couple of attempts to go places, but in each instance were foiled by double plays. Their persistence was rewarded, however, in the eighth. Kerr, with two safeties already to his credit, led off impressively in this inning by tripling into right center. He crossed the plate while Kamm, who batted for Watwood, was being tossed out by Cronin. Then the Senators proceeded to snatch back the run in their half. This was done on Manush's two bagger just inside the right field line and a single by Kuhel.

Just to make it close the Sox stepped up and grabbed another run in the ninth. Cissell began the final inning with a triple and Reynolds, batting for Clancy, scored him on an infield out. Brown stopped the next two batters and the show closed.

If Primo Fights Here It Will Be Without See, Getz Says

BY ARCH WARD.

The proposed Sharkey-Carnera bout for Soldiers' field is beginning to take in a lot of territory. Developments yesterday centered on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

LEON SEE.

Mique Malloy, Chicago promoter, was marking time in New York, where today he hopes to obtain Sharkey's signature. The Illinois athletic commission was awaiting word from California as to whether Carnera had been restored to good standing by the boxing commission of that state.

Carnera recently was reinstated by the National Boxing association, of which the Illinois ring board is a member. Before the way will be cleared for Carnera's appearance in Chicago, he must make peace with the California boxing chiefs. The coast group is not a member of the National Boxing association, but the two organizations have a working agreement and they respect each other's suspensions and reinstatements.

Carnera Held Innocent.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Illinois commission, said the reason the N. B. A. lifted the ban on Carnera was because it was convinced he was innocent of any wrongdoing in connection with alleged fake bouts. Gen. Clinnin stated that the California board likewise felt that Primo had not been involved in the manipulations which forced his suspension.

It appears that Leon See, the Frenchman who first recognized the exploitation possibilities in Carnera, must step aside as his manager before the Illinois board will approve a Chicago bout for the Italian.

"That's the fellow we are concerned with," said George Getz, a member of the commission, yesterday. "Under no condition will he be allowed to serve as Primo's manager if the Chicago fight materializes. He can't even act as a second."

Primo Convinced He's Good.

While there has been something of a public clamor for Carnera to show his stuff against a recognized opponent, the loop yesterday seemed to take news of the Sharkey goings on calmly. There was no manifestation of mob fever with citizens parading the streets bearing screaming placards demanding that a distinguished foreigner be given a chance to make good in America.

Carnera, who has been working out in the loop for several days, is so sure that he can prove his worth, if given the opportunity, that he is willing to fight for bottles, rags, old iron, or what have you?

The Chicago Stadium yesterday began to take cognizance of Carnera as an outdoor attraction. Sidney Strotz, president of the corporation, said the organization would be willing to buy out Malloy if he succeeds in signing Sharkey.

Doubts If Board Would O. K. It.

"We, of course, would do the promoting, if such an arrangement were effected," Strotz said. "We would give Malloy a chance to make some money, either by taking over the bout from him outright or cutting him in on the profits.

"I doubt if the commission would approve a Carnera-Sharkey match," Strotz added, "unless either the Stadium or the New York Garden promoted it. It takes capital to put on a big heavyweight fight. And I am positive that the Garden will have nothing to do with a Chicago bout.

"If we land the fight we will put it on at one of the ball parks. I don't think it would draw enough to warrant rental of Soldiers' field."

"No See, No Fight"

PRIMO CARNERA last night said that if the Illinois commission refused to let Leon See serve as his manager and second there would be no bout in Chicago.

"See has been with me every fight I have had," Primo explained. "He picked me up when I was a carpenter in southern France making 80 cents a day. I knew nothing about boxing. He taught me how to use the gloves. That was less than two years ago. Now I am worth $150,000.

"I never have been involved in a fake fight. Nobody has anything on us. If they won't let me continue to have my manager I'll quit boxing and go back to Europe. I wouldn't fight, even for a million dollars, without See. He's been like a father."

ANNAPOLIS BEATS GOLDEN PRINCE BY TWO LENGTHS

12,000 See Jockey Knight Outwit Rivals.

BY FRENCH LANE.

When one of Man o' War's sons gets the idea he should win a race he usually does it.

Annapolis had that sort of a notion as the field got away in the Eastgate purse at Hawthorne yesterday. It was a dash at a mile and a sixteenth and six were in the field. Annapolis was the odds on favorite.

As the field wheeled around the club house turn Annapolis' chances didn't look too rosy. Golden Prince was leading, Blushing Maiden was second, Amyvale was third, Wacker Drive was fourth, and Annapolis was being pushed and shoved about in last place.

Knight Rides to Outside.

Jockey Melvin Knight sacrificed some eight or ten lengths and took Annapolis to the outside. He continued to race him wide all the way around, but at the head of the stretch only Golden Prince was in front of him. In 20 strides Annapolis dashed past Golden Prince and went to win from him by two lengths and a half. The Prince was far out in front of the others and got second money by seven lengths from Amyvale.

About 12,000 watched Annapolis win. The race that Annapolis ran was no more brilliant than the ride he got from Jockey Knight.

In the mutuels Annapolis paid $3.60, Golden paid $3.78 to place, and Amyvale $2.96 to show. Annapolis raced in the pink and blue jacket of Walter J. Salmon of New York, and it was his second victory in as many starts.

While Annapolis' triumph was brilliant, the best race of the afternoon was turned in by Jean Lafitte, a 3 year old daughter of Sand Mole-Jean Bowdre, which races in the silks of the Keeneland stud of Kentucky.

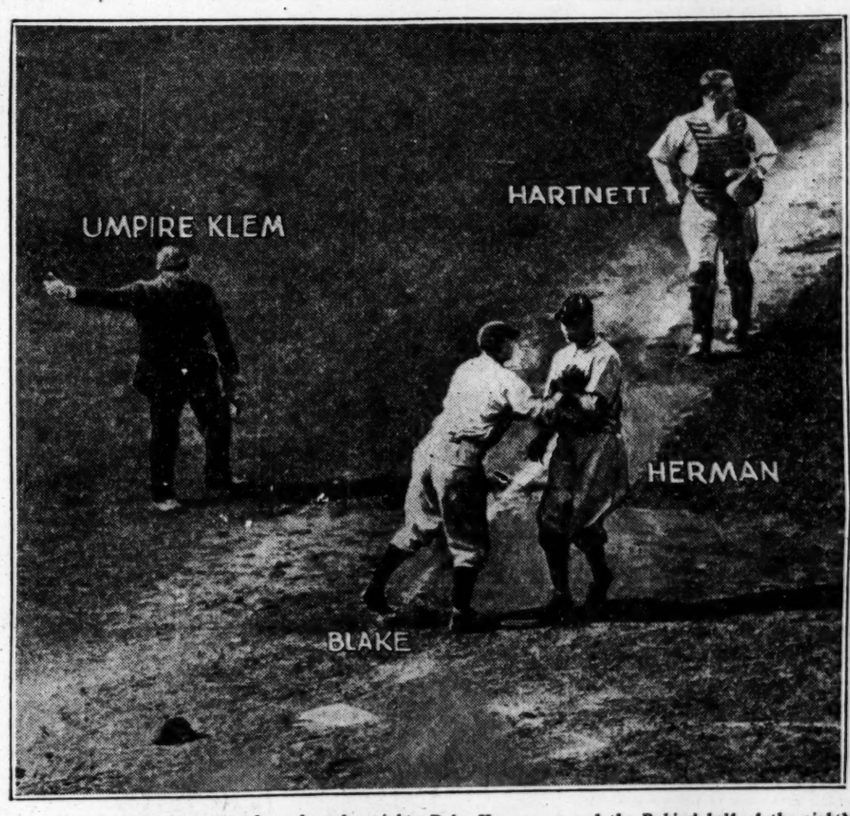

Easy for Jean.

Jean won the Blackstone purse, which came fifth on the program and was over the mile and seventy yards course. The heavily backed choices were Jimmy Moran, Whisp, and Billy Champ. But when Jean Lafitte ran the route in 1:41 3-5, within a fraction of a second of the track record of long standing, she had little trouble leading her rivals home. She let the weak-hearted Lawyer make the pace to the head of the stretch and then came around on the outside and sailed past Lawyer so fast he quit to a walk. Jean Lafitte went on to win by six lengths from Billy Champ. Jimmy Moran, with Jockey L. Morris just able to keep his seat in the saddle in the final stages, got up to be third.

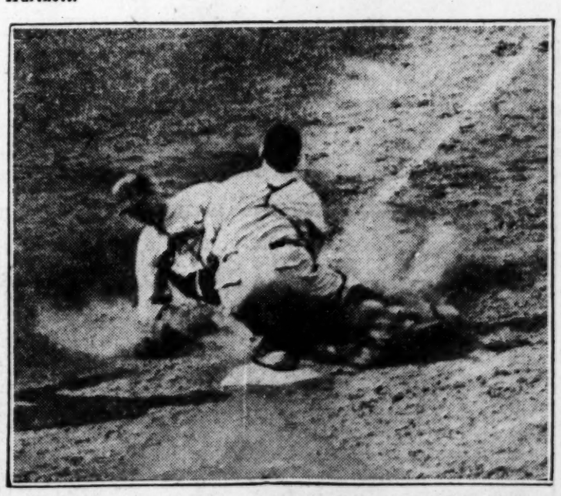

Jean Lafitte not only neared the track record for a mile and seventy yards, but ran the mile in 1:37, which is the fastest mile run at the Hawthorne track this season. In the mutuels Jean Lafitte paid $12.08.

The placing judges were booed and hissed at the end of the sixth race, when they gave the decision to Port O Play over the favorite Ruane. The two leaders came down the stretch inches apart and either horse could have been called the winner.

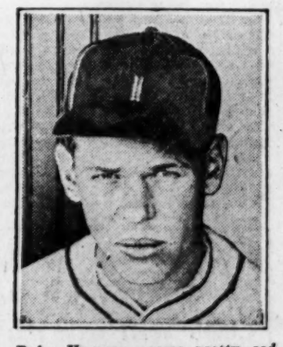

WHY BOYS DON'T GO HOME

Cub fans groaned yesterday when the mighty Babe Herman opened the Robins' half of the eighth inning with a triple. To make matters worse Del Bissonette walked. Then Wright grounded to Grimm, who snapped the ball to Hartnett. Herman backed up and was trapped between third and home. Hartnett, English, and Blake then collaborated to get Babe, Blake finally tagging him out. Umpire Klem previously had called him out during the chase because he ran out of the baseline in trying to dodge Hartnett. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Del Bissonette is put out at home in the eighth by Gabby Hartnett after Kiki Cuyler's remarkable throw from right field. After Herman was eliminated at home Bissonette still remained on second, with Wright on first. Lopez singled out into Cuyler's territory and Bissonette started for home with what might have been the winning run. He reckoned without Ki's throwing arm, however, and when he reached the plate Hartnett was waiting for him.

"LADIES' DAYS."

DEAR WAKE: On the much discussed subject of Ladies' day at Wrigley field I would like to present it from a woman fan's angle.

I haven't missed a home game in four years and love the game, but must confess I have come to dread Fridays. The majority of women who storm the ball park, milling, pushing, and crowding, are not fans, but come because it is free and a more or less gala occasion, although I hasten to add that there are probably many women who come because they enjoy the game and cannot afford to come at any other time. However, these women are in the minority.

I see no reason why there should be a ladies' day. In saying this I have no desire to criticize the altruism of the Chicago National League Ball club, but I feel the kindness shown the few women who come because they really enjoy the game is not commensurate with the discomfort caused the regular customers.

No other sport or amusement affords a free day for women, and in so doing, perfect misery for the legitimate fans. I believe regular patrons of either sex would welcome the abolishment of the free day.

A thing of this kind, offered gratis to a large community, is bound to be abused, and can never be organized into a well ordered machine, as has been proved. I thank you.

A Woman Cub Fan.

Dare Base.

The Wake recently asked Helper I. J. O'H. for the rules of "Draw Base" mentioned in a Way Back When. The rules, herewith given, are somewhat similar to those of other games played under different names:

"Sides were chosen and the members on each side lined up at their goal. The more daring ones ventured as near as possible to the other goal. The ones remaining there had the privilege of running out and attempting to catch, by touching, the ones who dared their goal, but must not be touched in turn by an opponent leaving his base later than they did. When all were on one side the game was won."

Steve Donaghue's Leg Broken in English Race

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Steve Donaghue, one of the world's most famous jockeys, who six times has ridden to victory in the English Derby, suffered a broken right leg in two places when thrown during a race at Nottingham yesterday, an accident which may vitally affect his future career. Among many telegrams of sympathy received today two of the most prized were from King George and Lord Derby.

Although today he was reported doing well in Nottingham hospital, the mishap probably will keep him out of the saddle for some time. Unless he hakes an unusually speedy recovery he will not be able to ride again until near the end of the racing season. Donaghue's left leg was broken last year at the Salisbury races.

INVITE LIPTON TO BRITISH-U. S. MEET IN CHICAGO

Sir Thomas Lipton, noted British sportsman who is now en route to this country to watch his Shamrock V. in the international yacht races in September, is to be invited to attend the British Empire-United States track and field games at Soldiers' field Aug. 27.

An invitation to Sir Thomas is to be sent immediately upon his arrival in this country by the local committee of the National Amateur Athletic union which is sponsoring the track games between the two countries.

Another titled Englishman, Lord David Burghley, is captain of the British team. Lord Burghley is the Olympic hurdle champion and one of the outstanding athletes on the squad which the empire will send to Chicago.

BILLY PETROLLE K. O.'S WALTHIER IN 4TH ROUND

Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., knocked out Paddy Walthier, Chicago lightweight, in the fourth round of their scheduled 10 round bout at the Congress Arcade last night.

Petrolle had the edge throughout the battle. He floored Walthier with a sharp left for a count of two in the fourth, and finished his work with the same blow a few seconds later. It was Petrolle's eleventh knockout in 13 starts since he started his comeback.

SUAREZ POUNDS OUT DECISION OVER PERLICK

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Justo Suarez, Argentine lightweight, pounded out a ten round victory over Herman (Twin) Perlick of Kalamazoo, Mich., tonight in the feature bout of the boxing card at Queensboro stadium. The South American scored his second straight conquest in this country by a decisive margin, battering Perlick but failing to put him down for a count. Suarez weighed 138½ and Perlick 139 pounds.

BROTHER KILLS RELATIVE.

Young Suarez received two bullet wounds during the fight, one in the abdomen and another in the shoulder. Wrestling with his adversary, he took away his revolver and shot him three times. Lopez died immediately. Suarez is in a critical condition.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mose Grove and Bill Shores tamed the Cleveland Indians in both games of a double header today, pitching the world's champion Athletics to victory by scores of 9 to 1 and 7 to 0. Grove, in winning the first game, turned in his 19th triumph of the year against four defeats.

Al Simmons, with two singles and a home run with two on base, led the Mack assault on Shoffner in the first game. In the second game Jimmy Dykes' double with three on in the fourth inning removed the tension of a close contest. Score:

RUTH HITS 43RD; YANKS WIN.

New York, Ahg. 12. — (AP) — Babe Ruth twice played the hero rôle today as the Yankees opened their series with Detroit by pulling out a 6 to 5 victory.

In the third inning, the Babe hammered out his 43rd home run of the season with Reesé on base to climax a four run rally. In the ninth, after Charley Gehringer's homer had tied the score, Ruth came through with a single with two on base to drive in the winning tally. Two men were out and there were two strikes on the Babe when he broke up the game. The homer put Ruth eight games and 19 days ahead of his 1927 record. Score:

EX-WASHINGTON STATE GRID STAR HELD IN ROBBERY

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Dallas Cox, 27, tackle on the famous Washington State college eleven, which defeated University of Southern California in 1925, was held for Superior court trial on robbery charges under $2,500 bail today.

F. L. Clark, who says he is a bootlegger, testified that Cox summoned him to his apartment on July 26, 1930, to deliver gin. When he entered the room Cox stuck him up, took his money and the gin, and told him to "Beat it and forget it, or you'll be arrested for bootlegging," Clark testified.

Former Gopher Grid Star to Play with Yellow Jackets

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—One of Minnesota's greatest ends of recent years, Bob Tanner, has signed to play professional football with the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets. Tanner, who coached the ends in spring football practice here, won nine letters in three sports in three years at Minnesota.

Texas, Pacific Coast Net Stars to Play Here Today

Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., holder of state and intercollegiate tennis titles, and Robert Sellers of San Francisco, Pacific coast and Colorado state champion, will play an exhibition doubles match with Red Thalheimer and Fred Royer of Chicago at the Allerton Tennis club today.

SMITTY—THE VOICE WITH THE SMILE WINS

40,000 See Cubs Win From Robins in Eleven Innings

If you are a baseball technician you will be impressed by the information that the Robins had 14 men left on bases and the Cubs had 16. This probably nears a record for an eleven inning game.

This afternoon the same clubs will hook up again. Ray Phelps, not as famous as Vance, perhaps, but at present rated more efficient, will pitch for the Robins. The Cubs, of course are eager to make it 13 out of 17 in their series with the Robins, lift their current winning streak to seven straight, and their winning adventures with the Robins to five straight and six out of seven in the last month. Bush will be asked to take care of the pitching end of this enterprise.

Plenty of Baseball in First.

The customers got their money's worth in the very first inning. Frederick opened the game with a single to right center and held on while Gilbert popped to Blair in short right center. Herman then lifted a double into the overflow crowd in left and ground rules made Frederick stop at third. Bissonette then fanned on three pitches and Blake threw out Wright.

Blair opened the game by shooting a hot one off Flowers' glove. As a result of the maneuver Clarence got to second and Jakie drew an error. English then got credit for his first hit when he beat out a hopper to Flowers. Blair taking third, Cuyler sent a sacrifice fly to Herman, Blair scoring and English holding first. A double play seemed imminent when Wilson batted a grounder to Flowers, but Jake drew his second error of the inning when he kicked the ball. Stevie singled to left, scoring English. Wilson and Stevie moved up while Grimm was being thrown out. Hartnett was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Gilbert then threw out Farrell.

In the second the Robins started a runner around after two were out. After Blair and Grimm had disposed of Lopez and Bressler, Flowers singled to left and Vance walked. Frederick then came through with his second hit in two innings, a single to center, Flowers scoring and Vance stopping at second. Gilbert then flied to Cuyler.

English Gets Second Hit.

The Cubs' only accomplishment in the second was a double by English, his second hit in two innings. Unfortunately it came with two out and proved harmless, because Cuyler fanned.

In the third the first of the Cub double plays transpired. Herman opened with his second hit, a single to center, then was mowed down with Bisonette, Blair to Farrell to Grimm. Wright singled over first and then Blair made one of the sweetest stops of his career to throw out Lopez.

Possible trouble was averted by the Chicagoans in the fourth inning, when the infield staged a second double play. Bressler pushed off with a single to left, then Finn, who had replaced Flowers at second, hit into the double play, Farrell to Blair to Grimm. Vance was called out on strikes.

Scoring chances seemed golden when Farrell led off the Cubs' fourth with a double to left and moved to third on Blake's sacrifice bunt. However, Wright went into short left to get Blair's pop. English walked on four pitches, but Cuyler flied to Herman.

In the fifth the Robins tied the score, again launching production after two were out. After Frederick had flied to Wilson and Gilbert had grounded to Grimm, Herman knocked out his third hit and his second double. He came home on Bissonette's single to right. Wright flied to Wilson.

Hartnett Opens with Single.

The Cubs went out in order in the fifth and so did the Robins in the first of the sixth. Hartnett opened the sixth with a single to center, but Farrell popped to Gilbert, Blake was called out on strikes, and Blair fouled to Wright.

Vance, Frederick, and Gilbert went out in order in the seventh, but the Cubs had some fun in their half, in which, however, they fell one base short of getting a run. After English had flied to Bressler, Cuyler singled to left. Wilson sent Herman against the fence for his high fly. Stevie singled to left, Cuyler going to third. Grimm sent his third straight fly to Bressler.

We've already told you about that classic first half of the eighth, so we'll now pass on to the Cub eighth. Hartnett again opened with a single over second and moved to second on Farrell's sacrifice bunt. Gilbert made a fine stop of Blake's grounder and threw him out. Blair flied to Frederick.

The Robins filled the bases again in the tenth, this time without the aid of a hit. Wright was safe on Farrell's fumble and went to second on Lopez's sacrifice bunt. Bressler was given an intentional pass. Moore forced Bressler, Blake to Farrell, Wright taking third. Vance walked, filling the bases, but Frederick flied to Cuyler.

Hartnett doubled with two out in tenth and Farrell was given an intentional pass, but Wright threw out Blake.

Fan Drops Dead of Excitement When Cubs Win in 11th

Harry Pumpian, 59 years old, 1525 Farwell avenue, dropped dead of heart disease in the upper right field stand at Wrigley field as Woody English crossed the plate with the winning run in the eleventh inning of the Cubs-Robins game yesterday. The attack was brought on by the excitement of the game's climax, according to Dr. James Davis, club physician, who examined the body. Pumpian was a salesman at the Boston store.

The victory was the third tanning the Cubs have administered to their ancient foe, Dazzy Vance, in the last 27 days. They beat him 6 to 3 in 13 innings on July 17 and 5 to 4 on July 19.

Vance was so eager to win yesterday's match that he went down in his trunk and dug up his trick shirt with the flapping right sleeve, a device he had abandoned. The purpose of this contrivance is to distract the batter. Some leagues consider that kind of monkey business unfair and do not tolerate it.

The first two Cub batsmen of the day scored. The next 44 didn't. The widely separated second and third runs were scored by the same fellow—Woody English.

The fact that three of the league's efficient umpires were on the job helped the enjoyment of the game. Klem, Magerkurth and Clark are as capable a trio as President Heydler could have assigned to so important a series. Several of the blue serge sentry that might be named probably [illegible] a riot.

PIRATES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM PHILLIES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Heavy clubbing by the Pittsburgh Pirates carried them to victory over the Philadelphia Nationals in a double header here today, 8 to 7 and 8 to 3.

The first game went 14 innings, with the Phillies forging to the front in their half of the fourteenth and the Pirates rallying for two runs on L. Waner's triple P. Waner's double, and Traynor's single.

HORTON SMITH CRACKS PAR IN ST. PAUL DRILL

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Par cracking golf rattled from the clubs of Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., professional, as he tramped around the Keller course in practice for the $10,000 open tournament which starts Friday.

Smith's 70, two under par, stood as the best card turned in during the practice play this week, although perfect figures were equaled twice yesterday and three times today. The Joplin pro's round stamped him as a serious contender for the $2,500 first prize of the tournament.

Scott spectacle in London, also claimed the same distinction for his show that would make three heavyweight championship fights in one season, involving five performers and producing three champions. So there may yet be heaved up a whole class of petty kings and county barons to divide the empire once dominated by Jack Dempsey until one comes along who can catch and lick them all and consolidate the empire again.

Buckley Ready to Talk.

John Buckley, Sharkey's manager, discussed the Carnera fight with Sharkey in New Hampshire Monday night and is coming to New York tomorrow morning authorized to take the match.

The Garden interposes no protest, claiming no prior right would interfere with Malloy's plan but only hoping Sharkey will do no such thing. However, whether or not Sharkey should beat Carnera there would be no commercial reprisals against him.

I believe the Garden firm also would wish to employ Carnera and is deterred only by the discipline of the New York commission which is suffering from one of its erratic attacks of professional morality and holds Carnera to be undesirable until further notice. Some of Primo's ministers with and without portfolios, are parties of violent tendencies but all great forward movements are attended by incidental acts that are best forgotten. The New York commissioners would be pleased to reinstate Primo and start the customers trouping here to see him, except that their order of banishment was too recent and too positive for dignified revocation before spring.

The fat Malloy is undergoing considerable physical hardship in his rôle of Mr. Godiva, immolating himself for the good of the old home town. Two nights in a row he has fallen in with some of the most persistent sitters up on Broadway and has been set up with until 4 a. m. at a gilded coffee pot.

"I wish Sharkey was signed so I could go on home," says he.

"These New York sissies drink nothing but coffee and it is ruining my nerves. I'll go through anything to put Chicago back on the map but nobody ever drinks any whiskey in this place and I am badly in need of a sedative."

Sharkey Is Willing

BOSTON Mass., Aug. 12.—"Jack Sharkey will fight Primo Carnera in Chicago if Mique Malloy can meet our terms and make good on them," said Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, today on his return from a conference with the Boston heavyweight at a retreat in New Hampshire. "Sharkey wants to get busy. He told me to get him four or five fights for the coming winter. I talked over the Carnera bout with him and he was most anxious of all to close that one."

Buckley will arrive in New York Wednesday morning to discuss the bout with Malloy. He thinks the fight should draw more than $750,000 in Chicago.

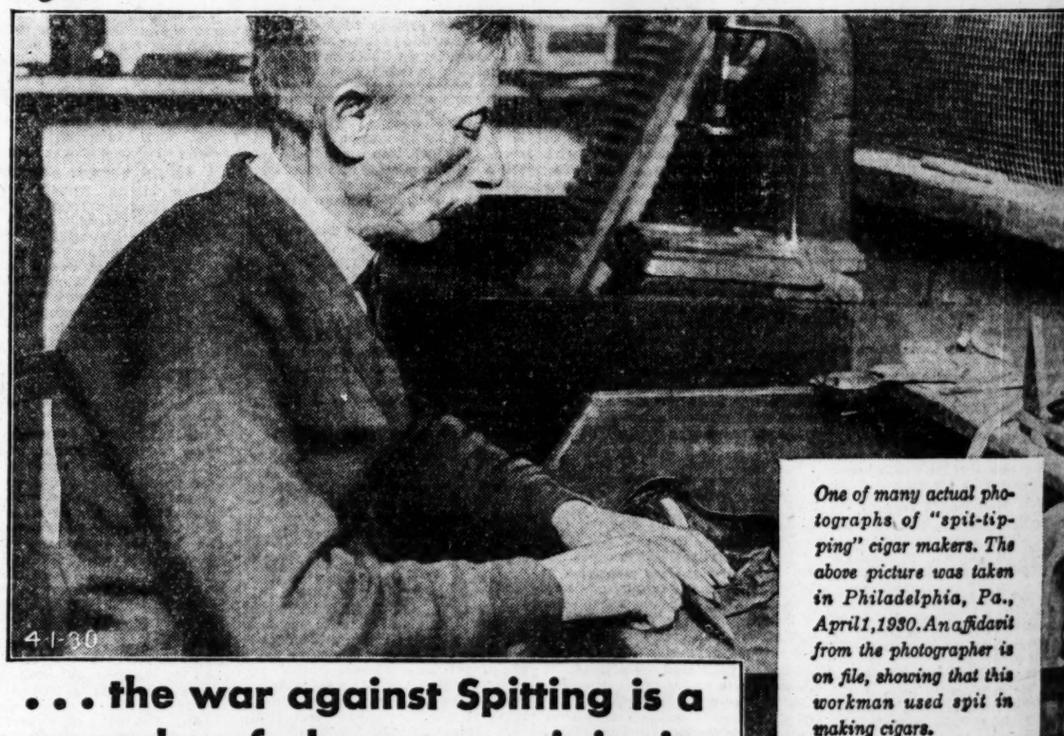

SECOND HAWKEYE GRID CAPTAIN IS RULED INELIGIBLE

Iowa City, Ia., Aug. 12.—[Special]—Both of the captains elected to lead the 1930 University of Iowa football team have been lost to the squad, it was learned today when Marcus Magnussen, center, admitted that he had been barred from participation this season.

Mike Farroh, half back and co-captain-elect with Magnussen, was one of fourteen athletes ruled ineligible last December on "slush fund" charges arising out of Iowa's suspension by the western conference. Magnussen was suspended from the university last spring following a free-for-all fight at a roadhouse near Iowa City. He said today that he has received permission to reënter this fall and hopes to be eligible for competition in 1931.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Preliminaries are over and today 32 golfers will begin another battle for the city amateur championship. The event promises to be as closely fought as any of the others which have been held annually at Jackson park since 1916.

Al Andereggen, who is a familiar figure to all who do their golfing at Jackson park, won medalist honors in the 36 hole qaualifying round conducted yesterday and the day before. He had a pair of 70s for a total of 140.

Thomas, Lucas, Bowker Tie.

Next in line came the defending champion, George Thomas, who was tied with Barney Lucas and R. A. Bowker, all at 141. To get that close to the top Thomas was forced to shoot a 68 yesterday, which was one under par. He took a 73 on the first 18. And his wasn't the only remarkable score either, for Barker went out in 33 and came home in 35 to duplicate the feat.

Among those who qualified were several members of the old guard who have been competing in this event for years. Ted Lloyd is in there with a 72 and a 72 and so is Lee Thiltges with a 73 and a 70.

Start Picking Favorites.

Becker Tells of Ideal Camping Jaunt Near Soo

BY BOB BECKER.

Experienced canoeists and fishermen who want a real wilderness trip without going as far north as the Superior national forest and the Quetico, will find an ideal setup in the Mississauga country northeast of the Soo. There is a two weeks' trip up there that is a peach from every angle, although a fellow could take three or four weeks, so numerous are the lakes which are waiting to be explored and fished along the water route.

Here in an outline of the trip, including tips on the fish to be caught:

You start from Bisco lake near the station of Biscotasing. This town is easily reached by railroad. Canoes, guides are to be had if you want them and a complete outfit can be rented here.

Starting out from Biscotasing the route takes one through an interesting chain of lakes to the Mississauga river. Then this fascinating stream is followed for about 150 miles to Slate falls, where a short portage leads into Big Basswood lake. The trip then terminates at the town of Thessalon, where one can hop a train for home.

This jaunt through wild country has just about everything for the outdoor fan who likes to paddle a canoe and explore new country. There are brook trout in the waters along the canoe route, big lake trout, black bass, pike and (so the report goes) muskellunge, although we haven't been able to confirm the presence of the latter. It is quite possible, however, that the St. Lawrence muskies, Esox masquinongy, is in that section.

Well marked portages, mostly short, the moss covered ruins of an old Hudson Bay post, lots of moose, thrilling rapids and pine fringed lakes are other attractions of this fine cruise through wild country, which is without doubt one of the finest lake and river trips in the great lakes district.

However, this is a jaunt for the fellow who knows how to live in the woods. Beginners in the paddling and camping game should not attempt it without competent guides. If you want intimate details of the route, maps, etc., write the Hudson Bay company at Biscotasing, Ontario.

ILLNESS TO KEEP HELEN JACOBS FROM NET MEET

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A last minute attempt failed today to add Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking feminine tennis star, to the list of contestants in next week's national women's singles championship at Forest Hills. Ill health makes her entry impossible.

ARCHERS START 4 DAYS' SHOOTING IN NATIONAL MEET

Competition in the four day tournament of the National Archery association opened yesterday in Grant park with 110 archers from all parts of the country drawing bows. The shooting started with the York round, the most difficult event of the tournament, in which Dr. E. K. Roberts of California is defending his title.

The women's competition was opened with shooting in the Columbia round, which corresponds to the York event for men. Mrs. Audrey Grubbs of California is the defending champion.

The tournament will continue through Friday, medals and cups being awarded to the winners in the various events at a banquet at the Stevens hotel Friday evening. Among those who started shooting yesterday was Homer S. Taylor of Greenfield, Mass., who has been a member of the association since its organization fifty years ago. He won the national championship at the tournament held in Chicago in 1911.

Fight Decisions

Barclay Beats Seeded Player in Boys' Meet

Culver, Ind., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—One upset was recorded today as play in the national boys' tennis championships reached the quarter-finals. Sixteen junior stars remain in the fourth round of that event, including all of the ten seeded players.

Henry Barclay, a left handed Baltimore youtn, eliminated F. Keaney, St. Louis, seeded seven in the boys' draw, 6-3, 6-4, flicking drives from one corner of the court to the other until the St. Louis lad defeated himself by his errors. Barclay next will meet George Boynton, Atlanta, second ranking national boy.

Surface Beats Bralley.

A minor upset occurred in the junior singles when Hal Surface, Kansas City, took a long match from Joe Bill Bralley, Austin, Tex., 6-8, 6-3, 6-4.

Parker, Cohn Favored.

Frankie Parker, 14 year old Milwaukee wizard, recent conqueror of Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, national boy champion, and Cohn, are still favored to play for the boys' title in the finals, though Jock McLean, son of the Washington, D. C., publisher; Boynton, or Jack Lynch, Taft, Cal., have their gallery fans.

PIRATES BUY PITCHER.

WHICHONE WINS MILLER STAKES AT ODDS OF 1-12

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Harry Payne Whitney's champion colt, Whichone, gave fair evidence of his greatness when he galloped to victory in the Miller stakes at a mile and three-sixteenths here today and earned $4,475 for his owner. W. M. Ziegler's pair, Goneaway and Spinach, the only two others in the field, were second and third, respectively.

The presence of Whichone was the cause of other horsemen withdrawing their charges.

Whichone was held at the prohibitive price of 1 to 12. The start was good and Spinach went to the front to make the pace while Workman eased Whichone back. Goneaway was third, many lengths back.

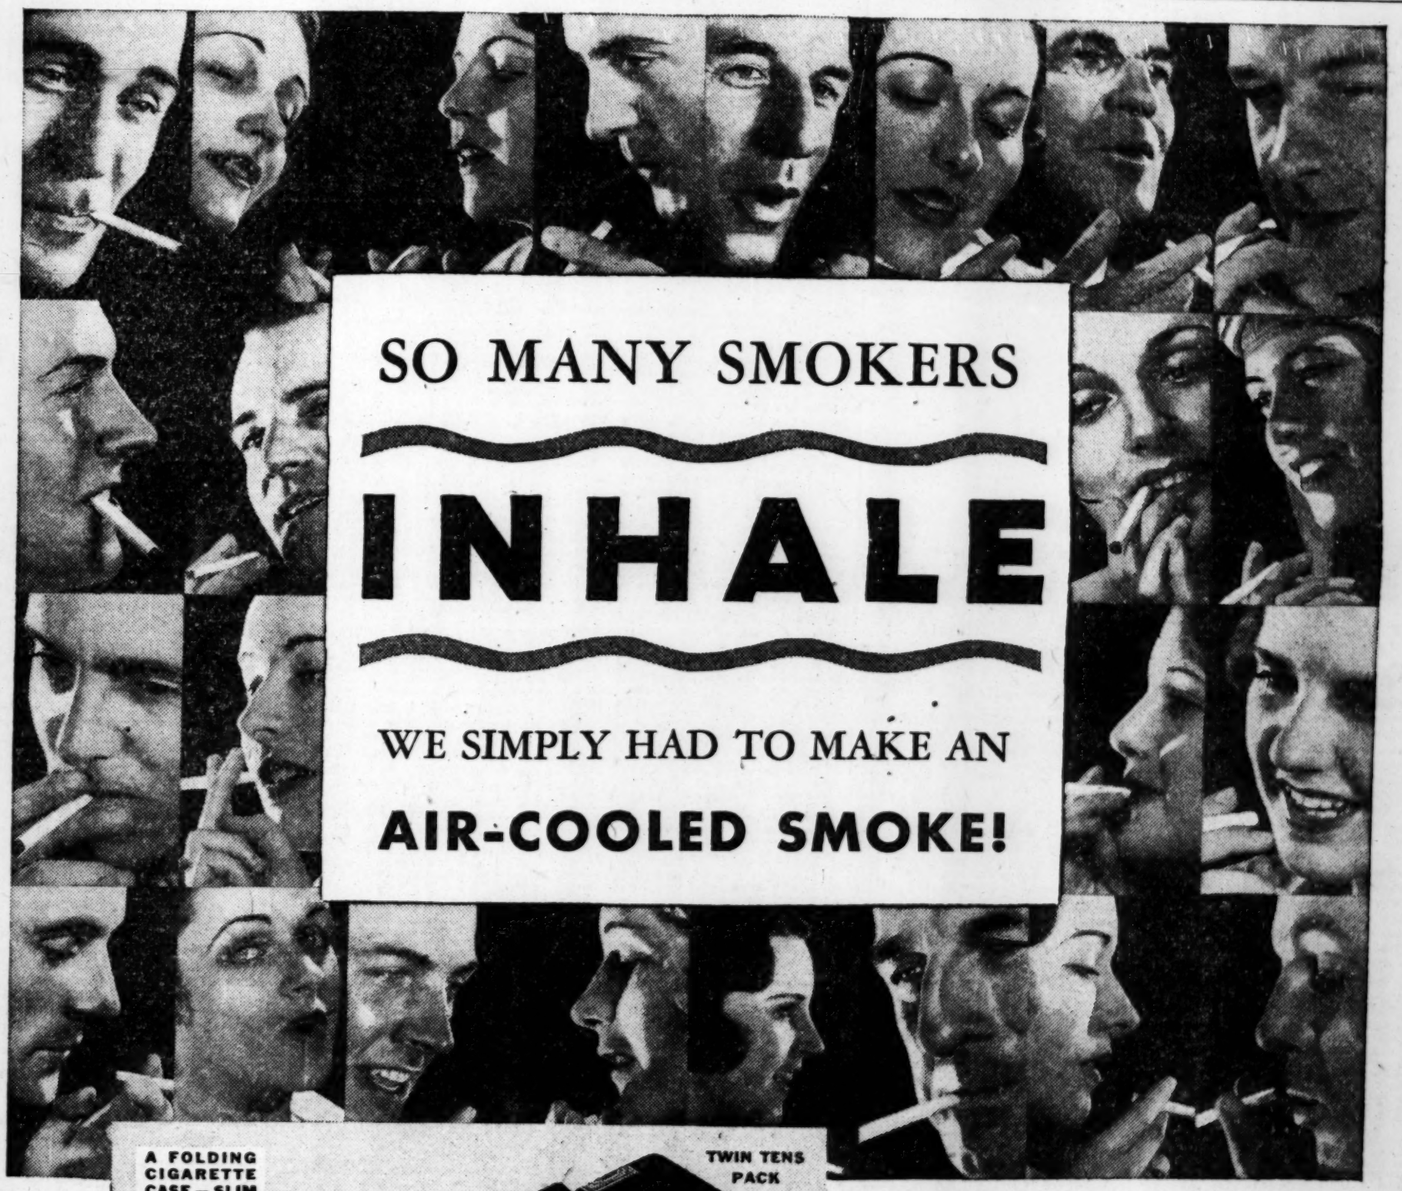

The first half mile was turned in :47 3-5 and, going into the far turn, Workman let Whichone run. The colt drew alongside of Spinach and in a few strides passed him with Workman sitting perfectly still. Whichone flashed by the mile post in 1:37 3-5 and finished out the full distance in 1:56 2-5.

HERMAN TAKES SECOND IN BIG 6 RACE WITH .403

[By the Associated Press.]

There was a general upward movement in the Big Six yesterday, with only Bill Terry and Chuck Klein failing to gain. Terry had a day of idleness and remained in the lead with a .410 average, while Klein, getting four hits in eleven trips to the plate in the Phillies' long double header, dropped a point to .402 and yielded second place to Babe Herman.

CHICAGO STOCK PRICES CONTINUE TO YIELD GROUND

Auburn Hit Hardest in 4 Point Drop.

Shares on the Chicago stock exchange might be said to be suffering from a summer cold—nothing momentarily serious but still not up to scratch. Continuing the decline which set in at the end of last week, prices slipped in yesterday's trading and at the close a study of the list produced a minimum of unimportant gains, with a slightly larger number of issues that stood still.

A note of consideration was found in the fact that except in few cases were the losses greater than fractional or a little over 1 point. Auburn, which usually runs to extremes in its movements on the board, was credited with the day's greatest loss in closing down 4 points to finish at 106.

Bastian Blessing, which has been moving somewhat freely of late, took a loss of 3½ in contrast with its action of Monday when it advanced 5½ in the face of a declining market.

Closes on Up Side.

Noblitt Sparks in the automotives was one of the few to finish on the plus side. Closing at 45 it was up a single point. Bendix at 29 was off 1 point and Borg Warner slipped ⅞ to 28⅛.

Majestic Household retained its position as the board's most active stock with a turnover of 21,250 shares for the day. It felt the general decline only to the extent of ¼ in closing at 44⅝. Grigsby Grunow lost ½ point on 6,000 sales.

Shares dominated by the Insulls met the decline with varying results. Commonwealth Edison lost 7⅝ during the day but a rally just before the finish permitted it to close at 285—the previous figures. Public Service of Northern Illinois, no par, was off 1⅜ and the $100 par sagged ½. Middle West Utilities, on sales of 18,450 shares, lost 1⅛ to close at 27. And Insull Utility lost 1⅝ on a turnover of 8,950 shares.

Among the issues in the general list to close a point or fractionally more than a point lower were North American Car, Kalamazoo Stove, Abbott Laboratories, Morgan Lithograph, Acme Steel and Jefferson Electric. Western Grocer moved contrary to the general tendency and gained ¼ to close at 16⅝.

More Active Than Usual.

In none of the leading investment trusts was there greater than a fractional loss. Chicago corporation in this department was somewhat more active than usual, finishing off ¼ at 10¼ on sales of 7,500 shares.

Radios, outside of Grigsby, were not particularly active. Transformer was off 1½ at 22¼.

American and General corporation announced that it has acquired an interest in the Missouri Valley Gas company, which controls natural gas holdings in Stevens county, Kansas. These properties are to supply most of the requirements of the pipe line which the Missouri Valley company is building to Des Moines and to other cities in Iowa and in Nebraska.

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE STOCKS

Sharp fluctuations in several less prominent issues featured yesterday's Chicago curb session. Hammond Clark broke 5 points at one stage of the trading but rebounded aggressively late in the day to close in a loss of 1½ points, while Dixton tumbled 3 points to new low ground at 4 and finished at the bottom. Market leaders were fractionally easier throughout the list, narrow declines being recorded in American corporation stock and warrants, United Gas stocks and warrants, Ford, Ltd., and Insull common rights. Chicago Rapid Transit was firm, advancing a point to 17 in a brisk demand.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Int. Business Machines.

Despite the general business depression which has gripped American industry since the latter part of last year, International Business Machines corporation continues to show increased earnings. For the first six months of the current year net income amounted to $3,654,310, equivalent to $5.73 on the common stock, as contrasted with $3,213,601, or $5.05 a share, in the corresponding period of last year.

Farm Implement Shares.

Following the same line of reasoning that influenced them to sell the mail order stocks, traders also sold the farm implement shares. International Harvester broke to a new low price for the year under that pressure. Moline Plow also registered a new low.

Resume Negotiations?

Rumors have it that merger negotiations between Advance Rumely company and the Allis Chalmers company are in progress again. Earlier negotiations were broken off when the companies failed to agree on terms. According to the reports Allis Chalmers contemplates taking over the business, inventories, and agency system of Advance Rumely, but not the plants. Last year the Rumely firm reported a net operating deficit of $24,375, as compared with net profit of $750,143 in 1928.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Cotton goods continued quiet today with prices in the gray cloth division now down close to the levels of the year and with sales pressure steady. Raw silk was somewhat easier. Larger shipments are being made to this country. Silk merchandise is doing better here. Additional lines of tropical and other light weight worsteds are being opened for spring. The demand for spots of men's wear and dress goods is fair. Burlaps showed little change.

BANKING FIRMS BRING HELP TO WARNER BROS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—Plans for new financing for Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., one of the country's biggest producers of motion pictures, are being discussed by Goldman, Sachs & Co., bankers for the moving-picture company, and Hayden, Stone & Co., it was announced today.

An offering of common stock to provide funds to take care of Warner Brothers' current obligations is contemplated by the bankers according to reports in Wall street. The terms of the offerings have not been decided, representatives of the banking firms declared. Estimates of the size of the offering ran as high as $20,000,000.

Will Head Syndicate.

The entrance of Hayden, Stone & Co. into the affairs of Warner Brothers does not mean that Goldman, Sachs & Co. will cease to act as bankers for the moving picture concern, representatives of the two bank firms declared. If a public offering of Warner Brothers' stock is decided upon, Goldman, Sachs & Co. will head the syndicate making the offering, it was said, and Hayden, Stone & Co. will participate in the offering. It was indicated that one of the partners of Hayden, Stone & Co.—either Charles Hayden or Richard F. Hoyt—would be elected to the moving picture company's board of directors if Hayden, Stone & Co. take a part in the new financing.

Earlier in the day rumors of new financing had been accompanied by heavy buying of the shares of Warner Brothers on the stock exchange. The shares advanced 4⅛ points to 19⅜ in a weak market and then slipped back to 26¼ in the last half hour, when a wave of selling swept the entire list.

Target for Shorts.

Since last Thursday, when the Warner Brothers directors passed the quarterly dividend of $1 on the company's common stock, the issue has been a target for short selling and liquidation. The stock's plunge has given rise to numerous rumors concerning the state of the company's business. It was generally understood that the company was suffering temporarily from an ambitious expansion program, through which more than 160 theaters, the musical division of the Brunswick-Balke-Collander company, an interest in Tobis Klangfilm A. G. of Germany, and various other properties were acquired.

After last November's smash in the stock market one of the first stocks to recover was Warner Brothers' Pictures. John J. Raskob, intimate friend of Al Smith and chairman of the Democratic national committee, began buying heavily into Warner Brothers early last December.

Hit in Stock Slump.

But the stock slump hit Warner Brothers hard and in perhaps the most spectacular change in its checkered career the company recently found itself in such plight that the entire dividend on the common stock was passed last week.

Until today, the financial district believed that Raskob and his associates, with their holdings of nearly one million shares, had unloaded at much higher prices, but now it appeared that the Raskob group has held its stock throughout the severe decline.

Hayden-Stone, one of the country's leading banking houses, are no strangers to the amusement field. It was their aid that made possible the construction of the new Madison Square Garden, and they also have underwritten other motion picture productions and theater enterprises.

Finish Leaves Corn Showing Slight Losses

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The sensational government estimate on the corn crop was regarded by the trade yesterday as having been largely discounted by the advance of over 50 per cent in the price from its recent low point. There was a wave of buying early, which carried the December up 3c over Monday's finish to a high of 98c. General profit taking developed, however, and prices dropped back 4@5c.

Price changes were rapid throughout and toward the last a strong rally got under way with the finish showing net losses of ½@1c for the day. September closed at 98½c, December at 94⅝@94¾c, March at 96⅜@96¾c, and May at 98½@98¾c.

Forecast for showers over practically all of the grain belt for the first time in some weeks was instrumental in increasing selling pressure, and private reports showed heavy rains in parts of Kansas and Nebraska. Individual operations were not a factor, and the market was rather easily influenced at times.

Murray Analyzes Situation.

There is no disposition on the part of the grain trade to question the reports that the corn crop will prove heavily short of last year, but the distribution of the crop promises to have a great deal to do with determining the price. Nat C. Murray, Clement Curtis & Co. statistician, after an exhaustive analysis of the situation, pointed out that northern Ohio, Indiana and Ohio, and Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska had a prospective yield of 1,246,000,000 bu, a loss of only 118,000,000 bu as compared with last year and was only 60,000,000 bu short of a five year average.

Southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and the states along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, according to Mr. Murray, have a prospective yield of only 444,000,000 bu, or 256,000,000 less than in 1929, and 380,000,000 bu under a five year average. As he sees it, the shortage in the crop is in sections that normally ship in corn. In 1921 there was 22 per cent of the crop shipped out of the county where grown, and should 23 per cent be shipped this season, there would be a total of 510,000,000 bu moved, or as much as normal.

Wheat Market Weakens.

Inability of the corn market to hold advances, as some traders see it, is due in part to the low prices prevailing for wheat and feed grains.

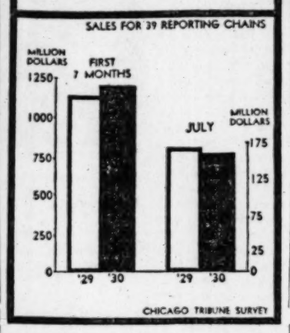

Wheat was under pressure from the start, and at the inside showed 3½@4⅞c under the early high, with stop loss orders uncovered on the way down. A fair rally from the low point came toward the last in sympathy with corn, but net losses were 2⅝@2⅝c, with September finishing at 91⅛@91¼c; December, 96½@96¾c; March, $1.01½, and May, $1.04⅜@1.04½. Minneapolis was off 3c and Winnipeg, 3¼@3⅝c for the day, hedging pressure being a factor in the northwest.

There were reports of a much better export demand during the day, but quantities sold were not given. European news as a whole was favorable to holders, with Broomhall's international review saying reports were in circulation suggesting that 36,000,000 bu of the French crop was unfit for milling. Private cables told of heavy rains in Germany, where harvesting is on.

Estimate Canada Crop.

Canada has a prospective wheat crop of around 350,000,000 bu, according to estimates made by local statisticians, who base their figures on the government report Monday on the three provinces. This would compare with 276,000,000 bu harvested last year. A Winnipeg line elevator concern's figures were taken as indicating 391,000,000 bu. Liverpool closed 1½d lower, with October there about 17½c over Chicago September, the widest difference of the season.

JULY CHAIN STORE SALES WERE SLIGHTLY LOWER —7 MONTHS TOTAL UP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12.—No branch wheat pool in any part of western Canada has up to present expressed official dissatisfaction with present management or policy of the pool. But with the pool only paying 7 0cents a bushel for wheat this season, compared to initial payment of $1 last year and $1.45 the year previous, there no doubt will be some expressions heard, it is believed here.

The chief hazard is that pool members may bootleg their wheat to private companies, one of the pool directors stated tonight, but the contract with the pool and its members is a stiff one for nondelivery of their crop at pool elevators and heavy fines have been paid in past for violations.

Today Premier R. B. Bennett informed the banks, the pool officials and the three western provinces that he would not guarantee the banks against loss if they advanced the pool the necessary funds to finance the buying of 1930 crop wheat from members. The banks have declined to date to advance the money and the three western provinces have their worries in financing last year's crop, a good portion of which is still unsold and lying in store houses. Thirty-five million bushels are at the Canadian head of the great lakes.

Bennett's refusal is deemed a severe setback to the pool which for last three days has not sold much wheat overseas compared to ten million bushels sold last week. Last week's sales helped out the provinces with their guarantee as all money went to the banks. It means that pool will have to reduce the initial payment to farmers to 60 cents a bushel instead of 70 cents as banks will not advance the pool sufficient money now to make it 70 cents.

Sales of the Simmons company for July totaled $2,376,651, compared with $3,387,433 in July last year, a decrease of 29.9 per cent. For the first seven months of the present year sales amounted to $19,586,305, against $22,528,723 one year ago, or a decrease of 13.6 per cent. Sales of subsidiary companies not included above and not all owned at this time last year totaled $686,885 in July and $6,872,259 for seven months.

Sales of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company for the five weeks ended Aug. 2 were $24,288,345, a decline of 11.7 per cent from the $27,525,422 reported in the like period. Sales for this year to Aug. 2 were $156,740,287.

Loudon Packing Head Sees Good Tomato Crop Outlook

Stewart Rose, president of the Loudon Packing company, Terre Haute, Ind., reported yesterday that prospects are bright for a good tomato crop despite the drought. "We have had light rains during the last few days in our territory, followed by greatly reduced temperature," Mr. Rose said. "Tomato plants are in a healthy condition and with normal weather from now on we look for a very good crop. We have considerably increased our acreage and with the increased sales over last year we believe this year's results will be satisfactory."

PLAN SINCLAIR PFD. ISSUE TO AID EXPANSION

Present 8 Pct. Stock Excessive, Claim.

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The special meeting of stockholders of Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation to vote on sale of Sinclair's half interest in Sinclair Pipe Line company and Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for $72,500,000 in cash has been set for Sept. 17.

The stockholders also will be asked to vote on a proposal approved by the directors to authorize a new issue of 5,000,000 shares of preference stock to be used in carrying out expansion plans, refunding bond issues, and retiring the present 8 per cent preferred.

See Billion Dollar Concern.

The new plan, it is said, would provide the corporate framework for a world-wide organization with total assets exceeding $1,000,000,000.

Plans for the acquisition of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, the Prairie Pipe Line company, and the Tidewater Associated Oil company by the Sinclair corporation already have reached an advanced stage, it was disclosed.

H. F. Sinclair, chairman, in a letter to stockholders, said that the present 8 per cent preferred stock "pays what must be regarded as an excessive dividend in view of the credit of the company and existing money rates and carries with it other onerous payments."

The authorized amount of this issue is $100,000,000, of which approximately $14,129,400 is outstanding.

"The issuance of any additional amount of the present preferred stock being unwise from the viewpoint of the interests of the corporation and its stockholders," the letter continued, "it is proposed to amend the charter so as to cancel the authority to issue any further amount of the 8 per cent preferred and to authorize the issuance of preference stock of no par value, which would be a junior stock only so long as any of the present 8 per cent preferred is outstanding.

Free to Expand.

"The preference stock may be issued in series as required, and under such terms as to dividend rate, sinking fund, voting power, convertibility, callable features and other provisions as the board of directors may from time to time consider desirable and practicable. It could be issued at $100, $50, or such other unit of value as the board determined."

The letter pointed out that Sinclair Consolidated's one-half interest in Crude Oil Purchasing company represents an investment of $30,000,000, and the half interest in the pipe line company represents an investment of $14,188,000. A total of $44,188,000 outstanding bonded indebtedness of the two properties is $53,000,000.

"The sale of our joint interest in the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company and the Sinclaid Pipe Line company," the letter says, "leaves us free to develop independently plans of expansion in accordance with our own individual interests."

Points to 'Careless' Trade Comparisons With 1921

BY SCRUTATOR.

Something should be done about the careless fashion in which the year 1930 is being compared with the year 1921. The conditions were similar in both as to lowered employment after a period of intense activity, in the rapid lowering of many commodity prices, and in the admission that a depression existed.

But at least four factors that went to make 1921 the most distressful of recent years are missing now. First, there is no such concerted effort on the part of employers, or the capitalistic class, to cut the wages of labor. Second, there is no necessity for labor to fight back and to foment strikes and threats of strikes. The third point is that agriculture has not seen its income sliced in half, as occurred nine years ago, with the accompanying destruction of land values, and the fourth, that there is no hoarded supply of manufactured goods now as there was then.

Nibble at Wage Scales.

It is true a considerable amount of nibbling at the wage scale has been done in the last nine or ten months. Labor statistics show that pay rolls have shrunk more than employment percentage in the last twelve months. A few large corporations, notably an automobile maker and a specialty company, have announced cuts of 10 per cent for salaried workers. But wage cuts where they do not make costs out of line with competitors' costs are not now generally approved. Ten of twelve important executives who were recently interviewed, including the president of the United States Steel corporation, declared for the maintenance of present wage standards.

Through all of 1921 items like the following, taken from newspaper files, were prominent: "Cuts in building trades wages expected to cause strike in Massachusetts. . . . Cuts of $20 a month in seamen's wages forecast. . . . Strike of all workers in American and Canadian paper mills predicted after unions and manufacturers fail to agree on wage cuts. . . . Reductions by Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' association. . . .

"American Smelting and Refining company cuts pay of entire executive force. . . . United States Steel cuts wages 20 per cent. . . . Packing companies and unions agree on 10 per cent reduction. . . . Federal Reserve bank of New York announces 75 per cent of workers have accepted lower pay rates. . . . Pressed Steel Car, Reynolds Tobacco, and Commonwealth Power make cuts. . . . Trolley men on Chicago suburban lines accept cut. . . . United States slashes pay of civilians in navy yards 18 per cent."

Not the Same Difficulties.

A constant procession of stories told of tin workers, painters and paperhangers, clothing trades' employes, plumbers, grain elevator workers, and glassmakers compelled to work at reductions running up to 28 per cent. The Du Pont de Nemours company and General Electric were among the pay cutters.

The five railway brotherhoods called a general strike of their 750,000 men and only stopped it near the eve of its going into effect. Samuel Gompers was instructing labor of the duty to fight as long as it could for the old standards. Banks and trade papers in the summer were predicting greater reductions. Cash wheat in Chicago fell between January and November from $2.06 to $1, corn from January to October fell from 78 cents to 42 cents. May of 1922, incidentally, saw wheat at $1.73 and December of that year found corn at 77½ cents.

It is never safe to make predictions on recovery, but the evidence shows that neither the present nor the immediate future seem to have the harsh difficulties the summer of 1921 had.

EXPECT LITTLE OPPOSITION TO ALTON MERGER

Serious opposition on the part of stockholders of the Chicago and Alton railroad to the plan of consolidation with the Baltimore railroad is considered unlikely by those in touch with the situation.

Stock of the Alton, which has been in receivership since 1922, is widely scattered and for some time there has been no active committee representing holders of the stock. According to reports no offer will be made to the common and preferred stock holders on behalf of the B. & O. There is approximately $40,000,000 of the stock outstanding.

Officials of the Alton stated that if any opposition is developing on the part of stockholders to the merger it has not come to their attention.

An official of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., which is handling the negotiations, said in New York that he doubted the reports stating that stockholders would attempt to block the merger.

"I have not heard of any opposition," he stated. "I do not know what opponents of the plan could do at this time any how. An attempt to intervene in the bond foreclosure deal was balked in Chicago by Judge Carpenter. That would seem to be final."

Revenue Freight Car Loadings 1,014 Lower

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended Aug. 2 were reported today by the American Railway association to have totaled 918,335 cars. This was a decrease of 1,014 cars under the preceding week and a reduction of 187,585 cars below the corresponding week of last year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—Bear trading forces took advantage of the crop scare to launch a rather vigorous attack on the stock market in the late dealings today. Selling was converged on the shares of the farm implement and mail order houses, which are expected to be the first to feel the effects of the drought, and on the stocks of the carriers, which have agreed to cut rates 50 per cent in the dry areas as their contribution to the relief of the farmers. Virtually every department of the list came in for pressure as the finish neared. Final figures registered numerous losses, ranging anywhere from 5 to 19 points.

More than a score of more or less prominent issues sold off to new low levels for the year. Among them were Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward in the mail order division; Canadian Pacific, Rock Island and Norfolk and Southern in the railroad department; International Harvester, American Locomotive, Kennecott Copper, Minneapolis Moline, General Theaters Equipment, McKesson & Robbins, and Gimbel Brothers.

Selling Wave Develops.

Trading was at the same singsong pace for most of the day, but struck a somewhat better stride in the last hour as the selling wave developed. Transactions were recorded at 2,085,440 shares.

Except for a while in the early afternoon, when liquidation abated and the trend turned upward, professionals working for a decline were in control of the situation all day and prices gave way rather easily from the opening gong, due mainly to the depressing effect of the government's crop report, which tended to confirm Wall street's growing conviction that the drought is going to give business a further setback.

The selling was broad, including not only the so-called pivotal stocks, but various industrial groups, rails, motors and varied specialties. It continued in easy going fashion until around noon, when the constructionists showed signs of attemptng a stand by supporting U. S. Steel common around 159 and lending aid to other pivotals at corresponding price levels. Shorts

Qualified to Manage Your Estate

When you name an executor and trustee under your will, you select a manager who, acting in your stead, will handle the business of your estate after you are gone. Will it not be to the advantage of your estate if this manager is thoroughly experienced, is financially responsible and assures satisfactory performance of all undertakings? Should not this manager be systematic and accurate, treat all business as confidential, and be equipped to handle the affairs of your estate economically? How well this Bank meets all of these qualifications is attested by the fact that families it has served during three generations are naming this institution as executor and trustee for the fourth generation

June net to common and reserves sets record

While many corporations report declining earnings, Cities Service Company, month after month, reports record earnings. June, 1930, net to common and reserves increased 72.29% over June, 1929. For the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, net increased 63.51% over the preceding year. Financial authorities believe that Cities Service appears to be entering the greatest development stage of its remarkable career and yet over a 19 year period cash and stock dividends, "rights" and market appreciation have yielded an average annual gain of 175%. Based on past history and current earnings, we recommend Cities Service Common.

LONG LARD ON MARKET

Recent buyers of lard, particularly December and January, were more disposed to sell yesterday owing to the uneasiness in the grain markets. There was also selling credited to packing interests, a break developed new commission house buying and a rally. Prices had a 15c range on futures, with a close unchanged to 2½c lower, the latter on December. Liverpool lard was 3 to 9d lower and American hams 1s lower. Increased exports of lards, 1,617,250 lbs, and of bacon 490,000 lbs, confirmed recent reports of sales abroad. Hogs were steady to 10c higher. Receipts were larger than a week ago but smaller than last year. Prices follow:

BUYS DEARBORN-ILLINOIS SITE FOR BUILDING

BY AL CHASE.

R. C. Clark, a retired mill owner, yesterday merged the fee and leasehold at the southeast corner of North Dearborn and Illinois streets, 74 by 80, and at the same time purchased the adjoining twenty-six feet to the south, which gives him a building site with a frontage of 100 on Dearborn and eighty feet on Illinois. He is considering erecting some time in the future a six or ten story building. The property is improved with an old four story building.

Mr. Clark purchased the leasehold estate from the Dearborn Illinois Building corporation, of which Leo L. Hogan is president. He purchased the fee from Nancy L. Clark. Hogan & Farwell were brokers. The original 99 year lease was dated Oct. 1, 1927.

Buys Evanston Building.

The building at the northwest corner of Reba place and Sherman avenue, Evanston, lot 100x147, containing twenty apartments and ten garages, was sold by Louis Kastning to Ruth Schultz for an undisclosed price, subject to $110,500. A Michigan fruit farm was given in part payment. Liepold & Hicks were brokers.

The twenty-seven apartment building at the southeast corner of Yates avenue and East 76th street, lot 117x124, has been purchased by Anton Wainauskas from Paul J. Bernosky for an undisclosed consideration. The two stores and two flats at 641 East 119th street and two vacant parcels, the northwest corner of Michigan and 98th and the southwest corner of Michigan and 102d, were given in part payment by Mr. Wainauskas. Lewis & Lewis and John M. Lewe were attorneys.

Sells Store and Flats.

The northwest corner of Wentworth and 71st, lot 80x125, improved with six stores and eighteen flats, has been sold by Van Vechten Lain to Charles D. Kaufmann, Herman Korach, and Alice Tuska for a reported $100,000, subject to $65,000. Fischel, Kahn, Heart & Epstein were attorneys.

The Glenwood Manual Training school in Bloom township has purchased 28.74 acres adjoining that institution, for use as an athletic field from Miss Helen L. G. Frusher of Jetmore, Kas.

Lanathan's, Inc., have leased the store at 3213 Lawrence avenue for ten years at an undisclosed rental, and will open their sixteenth lingerie and hosiery shop. Kaplan & Co. were brokers.

CITY OF CHICAGO BONDHOLDERS ARE REASSURED

New York, Aug. 12.—Any apprehension that holders of bonds of the city of Chicago may have had regarding the continuance of these obligations on the legal lists of New York, Illinois, Massachusetts and Connecticut in view of the nonpayment of certain of the city's warrants on the indicated maturity date was dispelled today by the formal statement issued by Thomson, Wood & Hoffman, municipal bond attorneys. Acting in behalf of interested bankers, the law firm obtained favorable opinions from the legal authorities of the four states.

The warrants involved, according to the rulings, were issued in anticipation of taxes, or in other words, from a special fund, and do not constitute a general obligation of the city. Thus, even if the special fund does not prove sufficient for the payment in full of these obligations at maturity, which, it is pointed out, may by no means be the case, that fact does not constitute a default of the city.

Specific rulings on the legality of Chicago's bonds were made by the director of savings banks of Massachusetts, the attorney general of Illinois, the bank commissioner of the state of Connecticut, and the attorney general of the state of New York.

NEVADA COPPER HAS SEVERE SHRINKAGE IN EARNINGS TO DATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—A severe shrinkage in earnings of the Nevada Consolidated Copper company took place in the second quarter and in the first half of this year, the company announced today.

D. C. JACKLING.

Net income fell in the second three months to $161,870, equal, before depletion charges, to 3 cents a share, from $2,224,425, or 46 cents a share, in the first quarter and $3,786,253, or 78 cents a share, in the corresponding period of last year.

In the first six months net income dropped to $2,386,295, equal to 49 cents a share on 4,857,248 shares of capital stock, from $10,510,772, or $2.16 a share, in the first half of last year.

Copper production from all sources in the second quarter was 35,740,442 pounds, with an average monthly output of 11,913,481, compared with 39,699,763, an average monthly production of 13,233,254 in the first quarter.

The total quantity of company ores milled and smelted during the quarter was 2,032,934, of which 2,014,480 was concentrating ore, averaging 1.182 per cent copper.

D. C. Jackling, president, explained as follows: "The net cost per pound of copper produced, after crediting revenue from gold and silver and other miscellaneous earnings and income from subsidiaries, was 10.28 cents, compared with 9.76 cents for the first quarter. These costs include all operating and general charges of every kind except depreciation and reserve for taxes. The increase in cost is due largely to decreased production."

North American Co.

I am thinking of purchasing a few shares of North American common stock. For several years this stock has been paying a 10 per cent dividend in stock, although its actual earnings on the common stock outstanding amount to only about $5 per share. Will you please advise me if they can continue indefinitely to pay out this large stock dividend? Is this considered a safe policy? Do you consider the stock attractive at the present levels?—K. P. W.

North American company and its subsidiaries form one of the largest electric power utility enterprises in the world. It was formed in 1890 as a holding company, with very broad corporate powers. At present its subsidiaries furnish electricity in Cleveland, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Racine, Alton, East St. Louis, and Washington and other less densely populated centers.

In June, 1930, the company's interests in California subsidiaries were sold to Pacific Gas and Electric company in consideration for common stock of that company. This move will eliminate competition in the San Francisco area and will increase the size of Pacific Gas and Electric company, in which North American company has become the largest single stockholder through ownership of more than 32 per cent of the outstanding common stock.

North American company's earnings have steadily increased during the last few years, and although the company has been paying stock dividends at the annual rate of 10 per cent since 1924 the profits have more than kept pace with the steadily increasing amount of common outstanding.

In 1929 the combined income account of the company and its subsidiaries showed net profit available for dividends of $28,806,824. This was equal, after preferred dividends, to $5.03 per share on the average number of common shares outstanding during the year, against $4.68 per share in 1928, $4.06 in 1927, $4.05 in 1926, $3.74 in 1925, and $3.32 in 1924.

For the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, earnings were equivalent to $5.06 per share on 5,667,999 common shares, against $5.01 per share on 5,076,928 shares in the preceding twelve months.

As of Dec. 31, 1929, current assets were $47,843,551 and current liabilities were $31,734,093, leaving a net working capital of $16,109,458.

By paying dividends in stock the company has conserved its cash resources for development of the system. Continuance of the present dividend policy will probably depend entirely upon future earnings.

The company's preferred and common stocks are considered high grade.

Erie Road.

RAIL EARNINGS REFLECT LULL IN 2D QUARTER

Railroad earnings for the second quarter released yesterday showed the same downward trend as those previously reported. Reflecting the lull which has existed in business and industry, the New York Central reported earnings, including leased lines, of $2.93 a share on 4,992,596 shares of stock, as compared with $4.54 in the corresponding period of last year.

Earnings for the six months ended June 30 were equivalent to $4.63 per share, as against $7.77 in the first six months of 1929.

Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad earned $2.09 a share in the second quarter of this year, compared with $2.30 a share in the like 1929 quarter.

Net income of Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company for the June quarter was $632,830 after taxes and charges, compared with $805,369 in the second quarter of last year.

International Railway company for the first six months of 1930 reports consolidated net income of $122,765 after taxes and charges, compared with $249,807 in the first half of 1929. June quarter consolidated net income was $48,884 after above charges, against $73,881 in the preceding quarter and $176,044 in the June quarter of last year.

BEARS USE CROP SCARE AS CUE FOR AN ATTACK

appeared to be in no hurry, however, to cover their commitments, and the recoveries were not impressive. The fourth hour found the selling again under full headway and the devastation grew in volume and appearance until the closing gong.

Motor Shares Are Hit.

The motor shares came in for some rather rough handling following the announcement by General Motors of further price cuts on some of its cars. The old leader of the division showed a net loss of 2 points on the day's operations. Hudson dropped 2⅛, Studebaker 2, and Nash, 1⅛ points.

Fresh selling has come into the copper shares prior to appearance of the July statistics, due this week. Through July and early August copper shares gave better account of themselves, as a drop in the price of the metal to 11 cents attracted heavy demand for tonnage by domestic and foreign consumers. The renewed selling in the group, however, was taken to indicate expectations that the statistics would not be so favorable despite the large volume of copper taken off the hands of producers last month. Unsold supplies of the metal have been increasing month by month, but after the July sales the street had been inclined to look for a decrease in stocks on hand.

Utilities Also Suffered.

Utility shares were hard hit, the fast moving Peoples Gas taking a nose dive for nineteen points on a nominal turnover. Foreign Power, Waterworks, Pacific Lighting, Consolidated Gas, and most of the other favorites of the group were off 2@4 points or more.

Case Threshing Machine tumbled 14⅝ points, Columbia Carbon 8⅝, Vanadium 6¼, Auburn Auto 7⅜, Allied Chemical and Dye 5½, and Eastman Kodak 7⅛ points.

About the best performance of the day was given by the motion picture stocks. Warner Brothers and Keith were the features of that department, the former registering a fractional gain in face of the general decline.

RAILWAY EMPLOYES.

Although the total number of railway employés declined approximately 22 per cent between 1920 and 1930, the competition of other means of transportation and not the increased mechanization of the railroads was principally to blame, according to figures given by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, writing in the Illinois Central Magazine. He urges railway employés to combine in opposition to government subsidy of competing transportation.

STOCKHOLDERS SUE KRESS & CO., 3 DIRECTORS

New York, Aug. 12.—Three directors of S. H. Kress & Co., Inc., chain store operators, were charged with acting against the interest of stockholders in securing sites valued at $15,000,000 for the company, by Emil Mayer, Fred Cunningham, and Otis A. Knight, minority stockholders, in a suit filed in the Supreme court today. The plaintiffs demand that a receiver be appointed for the company and an injunction be granted to restrain the three directors from disposing of the assets of Kress & Co.

The three directors named defendants are "Samuel" H. Kress, "Charles" W. Kress, and "Robert" H. Kress, whose first names the plaintiffs declare they do not know. Kress & Co. is also named a defendant.

It is charged that the three Kress directors own more than 90 per cent of the stock of the John Franklin corporation, to which they communicated confidential Kress & Co. information concerning plans to purchase new sites for expansion of the Kress business.

The John Franklin corporation, it is alleged, bought the sites and sold them at greatly enhanced prices to Kress & Co., with the three Kress directors profiting in the deals, which reached $15,000,000.

Receipts at Chicago today: 10,000 cattle; 14,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep.

Heavy hogs advanced 10@15c more yesterday, while light sold barely steady, bringing the price range to the narrowest point in several weeks. The general average moved up 5c at $9.10, while the extreme top came down 5c at $9.95, showing a spread of 85c.

Early last week the two prices were $1.15 apart. Trading slowed down considerably late in the day, but buyers were unable to erase much of the gain, in spite of the fact that receipts during the first two days of the week show an increase of 36 per cent compared with a week ago, and are 28 per cent larger than a year ago.

Local packers bought sparingly, leaving 7,000 in the pens at the close. The five western markets expect only 44,000 hogs today, against 61,000 the previous Wednesday.

"To Arrive" Hogs Are $10.

Although trading in hog futures was slow, due largely to the high level of most offers, there was more inquiry on the "to arrive" market. Light weights for today's delivery were bid $10.00, mediums $9.75 and heavy grades $9.60.

Light weights for next December sold at $8.65 and bids of $8.60 were made for November contracts, which were offered at $9.00. Feeding lambs were bid $6.50 for future delivery, but $8.00 was the lowest offer.

The market for medium and weighty steers slipped back another notch, while yearlings and light weights sold steady. Choice 800 lb yearlings topped the market at $10.75. Prime 1,220 lb steers sold up to $10.25 late in the day, but few sales of weighty kinds were made above $9.00.

Some 1,565 lb averages were bought at $8.25, and $7.25 obtained 1,200 lb averages lacking finish.

Lambs Sell Steady.

Steady prices were paid for yesterday's offerings of sheep and lambs, although demand was narrow. Arrivals at 12,000 were comparatively small and compared with 18,450 a year ago and with 15,954 two years ago. The two day total showed an increase of 10,500, compared with a week ago, but was smaller than in 1929 and 1928.

"Tops" sorted from the supply of western range lambs sold at $9.00@9.35, while natives cleared largely at $9.00@9.25, the buck lambs going at $8.00@8.25. A few "hand picked" lambs to packers and city butchers brought $9.50. A few feeding lambs are selling at $5.50@6.65, but demand continues narrow.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, against 11,247 cattle, 16,779 hogs, and 16,180 sheep on the previous Wednesday, and 9,428 cattle, 18,894 hogs, and 12,238 sheep a year ago.

INT. MATCH TO BUY $30,000,000 GERMAN BONDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—The directors of the International Match corporation announced today plans to purchase $30,000,000 in German government bonds in accordance with an agreement signed last year.

The bonds are a part of a long term loan of $125,000,000 to the German government by the International Match corporation and the Swedish Match company.

The investment will be made by International Match without any new financing on its own account. Funds for the purchase of the German bonds will be taken from the proceeds of the retirement of International's portion of the French loan.

In October of last year it was announced that the match companies had agreed to the German loan in return for the sole right to sell, export, and import matches in Germany through a new corporation, in which these two companies and the German government would be the principal stockholders. The concession was to extend over a period of fifty years.

COTTON AT NEW LOWS

Lack of speculative buying, fears of an early and liberal sized movement of the new crop, also of hedging pressure, and a comparatively light demand for cotton from manufacturers all combined yesterday to offset the effects of unfavorable crop conditions and lower cotton prices. The close was around the lowest, with losses in Chicago of 14 to 22 points and in other markets of 16 to 23 points, with the finish around the bottom. Spots were off 20 points, equal to $1.00 a bale, with New York 12.35c; New Orleans and Houston, 11.95c, and Galveston 12c. Liverpool was unchanged to 2d higher.

Consumption of cotton in July, as estimated by Garside, 369,000 bales, against 405,181 bales in June and 547,165 bales a year ago. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Messages from the seaboard claiming that there was a much better undertone in cables from abroad were taken as indicating that Europe was on the eve of buying North American cash wheat on a more liberal scale. There were reports that fairly liberal sales of hard winter and Manitobas were made during the day, but quantities were not given. No. 1 hard winter at the gulf for last half August shipment was quoted at 5¼c, and first half September at 5¾c over Chicago September.

Country offerings of wheat to arrive were limited as the result of the decline in futures with local handlers booking 15,000 bu. Offerings in the sample market were readily taken with the basis steady to ¼c higher. No. 1 red was September price to ¼c under; No. 2 red, ¼@½c under; No. 1 hard, September to ½c under; No. 2 hard, ½@¾c under; No. 1 northern, ¼@½c under, and No. 2 northern, ½@¾c under September.

BOOTH FISHERIES NET FOR FISCAL YEAR IS $225,925

The annual report of the Booth Fisheries company, issued yesterday by President K. L. Ames, shows net profits for the fiscal year ended May 3, 1930, of $225,925, equivalent to $4.50 a share on the $4,999,800 of preferred stock outstanding.

This compares with net profits in the previous fiscal year ended April 27, 1929, of $324,704, which was equivalent to $6.59 a share on the preferred stock. There are cumulative dividends on the 7 per cent preferred stock from Oct. 1, 1920, to date. Operating profit for the year before deduction of interest and taxes of $546,703 and depreciation charges of $181,998 amounted to $1,129,956. The report explains that no depreciation was provided for on the salmon and sardine plants of the company.

Consolidated balance sheet shows current assets of $4,768,648 and current liabilities of $2,471,917, as against $4,258,127 and $2,132,247 at the close of the preceding fiscal year.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw market was a little easier today under continued liberal offerings and only an indifferent demand. Sales reported were 31,500 bags of Philippines nearby to a refiner at a derline of 2 points, or 3.16c delivered, while 21,000 bags or Cuban sold to an operator for August shipment at 3.18c. Despite the rather easier tone to the spot market, raw futures were firmer due to increased covering and buying by houses with trade and Cuban connections. According to yesterday's government report, the beet sugar crop of the United States was estimated at 939,286 long tons, as against 937,500 tons promised a month ago. Approximate sales, 25,050 tons. WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Grain prices are considered high enough for the time being, as viewed by a number of the largest operators. They figure that recent advances have discounted all bullish conditions and that care should be taken in making commitments on both sides of the market for the time being. It is admitted that the situation in corn is bullish both from the point of supply and demand at present and ultimately values should work higher.

Corn traders, as well as a number of large operators who are active in both wheat and corn, express the belief that corn has more real strength than wheat and is to act as a supporting influence to the wheat market. The disposition of the trade, however, is to sell all grains on sharp upturns in expectation of increased scattered rains over a large part of the corn belt. It is admitted that there is a large area of corn that is past revival by moisture, but good rains can help pastures and thereby increase the supply of feed.

R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. crop expert, who has recently returned from western Canada, interprets the spring wheat crop of the three western provinces as indicating 350,000,000 bu. He says that his own ideas are for 376,000,000 bu, and estimates all Canada at 392,000,000 bu.

AVAILABLE GRAIN STOCKS

World's available supplies of wheat as compiled by Bradstreet's, increased 5,600,000 bu last week. Corn in the United States and Canada decreased 718,000 bu and oats increased 3,951,000 bu. Details follow:

SHELL UNION OIL DOES BETTER IN SECOND QUARTER

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Shell Union Oil corporation and subsidiaries today reported for the June quarter net profit of $2,874,031 before federal taxes, compared with a net loss of $3,155,008 in the first quarter this year and a net profit of $8,051,082 before federal taxes in the June quarter of last year.

The National Tea company reported June quarter net profit of $164,316, equal to 21 cents a common share, against $386,606 or 54 cents a common share in the preceding quarter and $573,225 or 82 cents a common share in the June quarter last year. A statement issued by the company said the decrease in net profit was due in part to the fact that the company had immediately passed on to its customers the benefit of the decline on commodity prices.

The National Air Transport had June quarter net of $219,959, equal to 34 cents a share, against $127,268 or 19 cents a share in the first quarter this year.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter futures advanced to a new peak price for the summer in an active trading session on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The November delivery touched 41c, with sales exceeding 300 cars for the third time this month. Expectations of a bullish government report on the storage holdings was the principal factor behind the advance. Realizing sales towards the close brought about a slight reaction and the close was at 40¾c, up ⅝c from Monday. Egg futures advanced early but reacted. November closing at 28¼@28⅜c, with prices steady to ⅛c lower.

The Nine Hundred Block
BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

To the nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Deane and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a reporter; also Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom, he reports since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment painting automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has known better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor beau of her own girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Gale, a friend, to secretly give Theresa work. For Christmas he sends her a thousand dollar bond.

Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. When he confesses, Theresa feels he has deceived her and she will not forgive him. He breaks his engagement, and the girl, enraged, sells his letters to a newspaper. Johnny returns to his father's home. Theresa tells her mother she will marry Billy Treadway and writes to her father, who calls and tells Theresa it would be criminal for her to marry Billy.

Johnny, in New York, keeps informed about Theresa through Katie. He tells his father about Theresa. The elder Deane communicates with Arnold Ames and, together, the two scheme to bring about their children's happiness.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

FINE FABRIC.

"I have something I want to talk to you about," said Theresa to her father, after she had greeted the doctor and the doctor had passed on and into the bedroom.

"What is it?" Arnold asked.

"Mother wants me to marry Billy. She's unconscious, they don't think—she'll be conscious again. Should I marry him, because she wanted me to—while she lives—even if she doesn't know—what happens?"

"No," said Arnold Ames.

"I can't help—feeling I should."

"You shouldn't, Theresa," said Arnold, "and what's more—after she knows you should not unless you want to—and very much. I don't know much about the hereafter," he went on slowly, "but I do know—I'm wholly sure of this much—and that is—that, if people go on, there is a development in the next class room that makes them understand the needs of others—and if they don't go on—what goes on here can't matter to them. You see?"

She was sagged from relief.

"Miss Ames," said Miss Willis from the doorway. "She's gone," Arnold Ames thought. A few seconds later he heard from the next room a small thud. He hastened across the threshold.

"The poor little thing's fainted," said Miss Willis softly. Unnecessary, that softness, for Arnold was not touched by blare in voices and no one else in the room could hear.

Ten days later [writing and getting a stamp and "thinkin' up what to say," all taking time] Johnny heard of Elsie Colt's death from Katie. He wrote Theresa with the gentleness that is never found in the young who have not bumped against hard objects in the dark that is called life. Theresa read the letter with heart and face hardening. Then she tore the letter sheet in little pieces, crammed the pieces into the envelope and put this into the waste basket. But later, and after having been drawn toward toward the waste basket at least eight times by some intangible, strong force, she salvaged [with shame] the puffy envelope to put it into the lowest bureau drawer; the one in which she kept the copy of "The House Beautiful," a sachet bag she loved, a handkerchief of Elsie's that had come from Paris, and a glove that had been shaped by Barrington Colt's long hand.

"I shall always love you child, and——I——I understand."

And ten days later, too, and with the world at May, Frank Hillis went to see Theresa. He explained himself—his relation to her—uneasily as he sat on the edge of a chair. He wanted to make Theresa "a little present," he confessed, as he fumbled in his wallet to draw forth a five dollar bill.

Theresa shook her head. "I don't need it," she said, "but my mother needed your kindness." That sure start for her anger, a kindling resentment of the treatment given one she loved, was making her shake again.

"I wish you'd take it——" he said desperately. He sat forward on the chair holding the bill out to her; a worn, torn bill.

[He could see his father now, smiling.]

"I don't want your money," Theresa answered bitterly. "My mother—my mother——" but she couldn't go on with her mother's needs of forgiveness, love and charity. Instead she covered her eyes with trembling hands and she cringed in her chair away from the bill and the man who had so hurt her mother. He rose, still holding the bill—looking lost, sick.

"I haven't slept soundly—in—so long!" he said.

Mrs. Baum saw him leave the house and leave a girl who was shamed by the hardness she could not conquer. "It's a little too late," muttered Mrs. Baum, sharp eyes on Frank Hills, "she's buried too deep to smell yer flowers——"

Then Mrs. Baum forgot Frank Hillis, who, it was rumored, was taking drugs. "That Treadway fellah" had turned into Mrs. Nulman's doorway. He was carrying, and by a gilded, wicker handle, a basket of forced lilacs and, holding his offering high, he made even Mrs. Baum cackle.

Ten minutes after that Billy sat facing Theresa, who was lovelier than ever in black. The basket of lilacs stood on the floor near the kitchen table desk. Theresa was twisting in her hands a black edged handkerchief and she was saying, somewhat breathlessly, "I am—so sorry!"

Billy, whose heart was breaking in sharp pieces that cut, was very nice about it. At one time he had wanted her upon any terms; he had learned since then that his love for her was deeper than he had ever dreamed any love could be and that he wanted love from her, or nothing of her.

"I want you to know," he said in his prim way, but with a little break in his voice, "that you have, for this space, made me a very, very happy man!"

Theresa's lips trembled at that and her eyes brimmed. She hated hurting him and, since she was beyond reach of his arms, she was again liking him so much. Fine fabric, Billy, for a friend, but one who chafed a thin skin into bleeding as a lover.

"I shall always love you, child, and I—I understand!"

Anyway, he decided dolefully, Agnes would be pleased.

"You're—so kind to understand," she whispered.

He stood up. "I think," he said with forced lightness, "that I'll be going on now. I have a few small matters to which I must attend in town. Agnes wants a bottle of capers—but if there's anything that I can do for you, Theresa, any time——"

"Thank you," she whispered. She handed him a small box marked "Pouck," in which was his ring.

He took it, held it, looking down at it for a few long seconds and then slipped it into his pocket. And thus, sometimes, does the gate to a warm garden close.

"Good-by, child," he said. [Again forced lightness.] She moved toward him to raise her face. She had never really kissed him before.

Mrs. Baum saw him cross that small space which was between the Nulman step and his motor and Mrs. Baum remarked a harsh, "Drunk——" And he was, since many are the brands that make intoxication. A little boy who had been playing marbles in the street looked, open mouthed, after a smart car in which the driver had been weeping. "Big baby!" he muttered harshly, then he inspected the taw he had gained by playing for keeps.

Billy, after all, did not stop at McClellan and Gotwald's for the jar of capers. Instead he drove homeward by a back road, hoping he would meet no one and that he could "get hold of himself."

In his house what happened is no one's business. But after he had been in his house for an hour he went to the kitchen.

There he said, "I couldn't stop to get the capers, Agnes. I was not feeling well; I had to get home."

"Humph—" grunted Agnes.

Katie was to be married in June and before a microphone and at the street railway conductors' picnic. After the ceremony Katie and Herman were going to move to a little house on Philadelphia Street Extended. Theresa heard the plans sympathetically the while she shrank from the thought of Katie's empty rooms. She didn't know what she would do without Katie, nor how she could live with Katie.

"What you goin' to do, kid?" Katie asked in the midst of her description of a cherry seed portière Herman was making. . . . Artists everywhere—and do not discount art even though it does not fit your measure—for art is sometimes made by reach and not by result.

It did seem to Theresa as if it must be that way. Lines of days were before her which she must fill with work in order to keep from thinking; lines of days in which she'd "wash and dress and eat and work, and"—to pursue Mr. Housman's chant, in sense if not in actual quotation—"God knows why."

"You wouldn't have nothin' to do with Johnny Deane, would yuh?" Katie rushed on.

Good Morning!

This occasionally musical farce comedy, adapted from the tuneful Schwab and Mandel stage show, gets away to a slow start, but picks up speed and is a lot of fun toward the end. "Ginger" Rogers is featured, but Charles Ruggles and Frank Morgan are the babies who keep the laugh ball rolling.

These two are seen as partners in a garter business, and they get along like a pair of strange bulldogs in a high fenced back yard. They have to stay together, but how they hate it!

Mr. Johns has given his nephew a job in the shop and, to get even, Mr. Nettleton introduces as secretary his niece Polly. The two young people, of course, fall in love.

Things come to such a pass that at last the partners call in their long suffering attorney to dissolve the partnership. He suggests dealing his clients a poker hand. The one with the high cards shall valet for the other for one year, during which time—but the picture'd better show you the rest.

CHINESE GRAB TALKIE THEME SONGS, USING THEIR OWN LANGUAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—The American "talkies" have speeded the Americanziation of the orient in an entirely new direction. Chinese theater audiences, accustomed for centuries to music produced by a primitive orchestra equipped with one string fiddles and some miscellaneous tin pans, have suddenly evinced an overwhelming desire for "theme-song" music, similarly to that which accompanies the new American talking pictures. And wherever there is a demand, a supply is not long in forthcoming.

An enterprising Chinese publisher in Shanghai, unhindered by copyright laws, has amassed a fortune in a relatively brief period of time by producing American "theme songs" on wholesale order. This is how he does it: As soon as the new "talkie" films with the accompanying music arrive in Shanghai, he obtains a copy of the music sheets. A clever translator puts the English words into Chinese characters and these are printed directly on the original copy of the song. Then the entire sheet, Chinese translation as well as the original music and English text, is lithographed and copies turned out by the thousands.

Chinese department stores and book stores report sales running to the tens of thousands at prices ranging from 50 cents per sheet upwards. Since the wholesale prices for reproductions in Shanghai range from 14 to 18 cents, the profit is considerable, particularly in view of the fact that sales are not confined to the Chinese ports but extend throughout the Straits Settlements, Siam and the south seas, where the Chinese emigrants as well as the natives have developed a sudden ear for western jazz music of the theme song variety.

An example will show how the demand is growing: During the first week in July a Shanghai publishing house received a cabled order from a Chinese newsdealer in Singapore for 50 copies each of fifteen different theme songs for which a demand had been created due to the exhibition of American "talkies." Some of the titles were, "The Vagabond King Waltz," "Sunny Side Up," "If I Were King," "Love Me Tonight," "Kiss Me Again," "Song of the Vag," "Just You! Just Me!" "I Am in the Market for You," "Some Day," and so on.

West Branch, Ia., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Surrounded by 21 girls in overalls, Callie Mae Bumgardner, 13 years old, West Branch's "tomato queen," today picked two basketfuls of large, red tomatoes, which soon will grace the White House table, at the farm once owned by Theodore Minthorn, President Hoover's grandfather. The occasion was the annual tomato festival in the President's home town.

Another Group Starts Vacation at Algonquin

Mothers, Too, Happy in Fox River Camp.

Another group of 90 mothers and children from the congested districts of Chicago left yesterday over the Chicago and North Western railroad for a two weeks' vacation at Camp Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE'S Fox river valley camp.

Ten dollars will send a tenement mother to camp. It will give her child a vacation, too. Ten dollars isn't very much to miss from one's own vacation.

Among the gifts for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund yesterday was $5.25, the proceeds from a play given by the children of Park road, La Grange, sent by Jean Georgeson, Dorothy Farley, and Katherine Stover. A lemonade stand brought $1.86 for the fund by Joan Conhaim, Teddy Fischl, Richard and William Kahn and Walter Gruber.

MarionTalley,Farmer, Says Her Wheat Is Fine; Corn Harmed

Marion Talley, the young soprano who gave up her career as an opera singer to manage her wheat farm near Colby, Kas., stopped in Chicago long enough to observe yesterday that her wheat crop this year was "fine," but corn in those parts wasn't much to brag about.

Miss Talley was on her way from Colby to New York where she is under contract to sing for phonograph records. She was accompanied by her mother and sister, Florence, her secretary, who spent the last two months with Miss Talley on the Kansas farm.

When asked about returning to the opera, the singer made her usual reply that she didn't expect to, but she might change her mind sometime. Miss Talley left the Metropolitan opera at the height of her career, declaring that she wished to enjoy life and leisure just like other girls.

Coronation of Carol and Helene Set for Oct. 15

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Aug. 12.—It became official today that Carol and Helene's divorce is to be unscrambled. The reconciled royal couple will be crowned immediately following the annulment of the divorce on Oct. 15 at Albajulia.

The minister of justice and the Supreme court are already hard at work preparing the divorce. The court has begun an examination of Carol's annulment claim, which is based on the contention that he was absent from the trial due to a force majeure; namely, the banishment decree preventing his entry into Rumania.

The patriarch of the Rumanian Greek Orthodox church has begun the preparation of a special coronation service similar to that of the early Rumanian rulers. Carol is the first of the Hohenzollern lineage to confess to the Greek Orthodox faith, unlike his father, Ferdinand, and his grand-uncle, Carol I.

ARE PARIS GOWNS HIGHER PRICED SINCE THIS LITTLE VICTORY?

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The 600 midinettes employed by the famous couturier, Jean Patou, who struck yesterday and treated Paris to one of the most colorful sights it has seen in a long time by parading the grand boulevards, today returned to work after their boss promised them a new and better contract.

According to the terms of the contract offered by Patou and accepted by representatives of the strikers, apprentices will receive an average of $1.25 per week instead of 95 cents. The "petite mains"—unskilled workers who assist the seamstresses—will receive an average of $4.60 weekly instead of $4. The highest class of skilled seamstresses will receive $9 weekly under the new schedule.

The new contract represents a victory for the striking midinettes. In addition to the increase in salary, Patou formally pledged not to take measures against the strike leaders, and none of the girls will lose their slender vacations.

The Paris midinettes are almost a special race which have inspired the romances and studies of a number of writers. There are thousands of them in Paris—nobody knows how many.

Relics Will Recall Ft. Dearborn Massacre; 108 Years Since Then

Commemorating that day 108 years ago when men, women, and children were massacred by the Indians not far from old Fort Dearborn, the Chicago Historical society will exhibit on Friday the relics of the massacre.

These will include a trunk of one of the cottonwood trees under which the massacre occurred, the sword used by Capt. Heald in defense of his people, the wedding trunk of Rebekah Heald, who was taken captive by the Indians; a tortoise shell comb snatched from her head by an Indian squaw. A knife and knee buckles of Capt. William Wells, who was murdered by the Indians, also will form a part of the exhibit.

Of the 93 in the party leaving the fort, only 25 men and 11 women and children were spared in the fight with between 400 and 500 Indians, according to tradition. The massacre was in the vicinity of 18th street, near the lake.

Perhaps the oldest civilization in America, an Indian culture pre-dating the Aztecs, has been uncovered in the Mimbres valley of New Mexico. An expedition from the Frank G. Logan museum of Beloit college, consisting of four college youths directed by Paul Nesbitt, associate professor of anthropology at that college, spent two months exploring the ancient ruins. Mr. Nesbitt yesterday told of the discoveries.

The Indians of the Mimbres valley were a branch of the Pueblo tribe, although their houses were built on a plain as distinguished from cliff dwellings of the better known mountain Pueblos. Their civilization was divided in three periods.

The first period, 1500 B. C. to 1000 B. C., was one of subterranean houses. During that period the dead were buried beneath the floors of the dwellings. The middle period, 1000 B. C. to 300 B. C., was one of transition, with dwellings half above the ground. In the last period, 300 B. C. to 200 A. D., dwelling were above the ground, with separate burial places established for the dead.

A large collection of specimens taken from the ruins have been sent back to the museum at Beloit. From a large ceremonial chamber, exclusively devoted to the pursuits of men, were taken more than 250 fossilized skeletons. Pottery, giving much information through its carvings and said be excelled for beauty by none in the world, was found in perfect condition.

Of special interest was evidence of a highly developed trade between this group and far distant localities. A copper bell, beautifully cast and decorated, symbolic of the Aztec culture of Mexico, was found in one chamber. Only one other specimen of this type has been found outside of the Aztec territory.

Turquoise jewelry, as well as hunting and cooking implements of the Pacific coastal regions, were found. The difference in shaping and decoration is said to preclude the possibility they were made by the Mimbres. Two points were stressed by Mr. Nesbitt. The people were pastoral, living in what might be termed almost "modern apartment houses." The animal and plant life of that time was almost identical to that of the present.

Little has been discovered of the religion, although the finding of skeletons of three burned infants indicated it was of a sacrificial nature. Evidence of a formally ritualistic state religion such as that among the Aztecs was not to be found.

The expedition, known as the Logan Southwest expedition, was one of three financed by Mr. Logan, a Chicagoan. Since 1925 an expedition has been in Algeria each year for ethnological data of the tribal civilizations. This year a third expedition was sent to North Dakota to study the fast vanishing tribe of Mandan Indians, of which a mere handful remain. The three expeditions are composed of college students majoring in anthropology and kindred subjects. They receive university credit for the expeditionary work.

LONDON'S OWN UGLIEST FORM SOCIETY OF MUTUAL ADMIRATION

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The ugliest people in London have banded themselves together for protection against the curiosity and derision of others under the name of the Society of Nature's Misfits.

L. X. Packer is president and claims to be the ugliest diamond broker in Europe. He organized the society for "social self-protection," and has among his members six of the most unhandsome members of the stock exchange, an ugly comedian, and a soap manufacturer.

"We spend every week-end together," he said. "Any member attempting to beautify himself is promptly expelled. We are searching Londo to find the ugliest bus drivers to take us away to the country over week-ends."

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!

Mother Complex Bugaboo Can Do Much Real Harm

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A "Play Booklet" and a "Toy List" will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: My little boy has been living with strangers for a year. A few months ago we brought him home.

"He is bold and defiant and never minds. Whipping him has no effect. Denying him things has no effect, either. He doesn't care. To try to talk sensibly to him is useless, too, because he only acts silly. He is stubborn and impudent.

"Except for these things he is most affectionate. But I never coddle him, for he probably will get a mother complex when a man. My boy kisses my hand and my hair and pats my head and would be forever petting me if I'd allow it. He calls me by an affectionate little name he has made up."

I hate to think of all the babies and little children who have been starved for warm natural demonstrativeness by the schools of psychology which flaunt the bugaboo of "mother complex."

The behaviorists and the psychoanalysts have done some fine work, but they have both done tremendous harm by putting into the heads of inexperienced mothers the idea that warm lovingness will create a neurotic child, tied unwholesomely to his mother. The behaviorists especially, who advocate a pat on the head in the morning and a shake of the hand at night, are talking pure nonsense on this subject. This has been proved again and again. There is such a thing as a mother complex, but it isn't brought about by a kiss, a hug, a cuddle, a warm loving arm around the shoulders, a cozy tuck in and embrace at night. It takes other things—psychological things—to create a "mother complex."

This poor little boy described in the letter is starving for love. He has been obviously mismanaged while with strangers. Now he is with his own mother, and he naturally craves motherhood from her. What he needs to straighten him out is the knowledge that he is loved, approved of—that he counts—that his parents are happy to have him with them again.

What he needs is friendliness, companionship—some one who will give him attention, laugh with him, talk with him, play with him—and love him. When his mother has established that relationship she can easily get rid of his minor faults. Her power will be greater when he feels secure in her heart.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER.

New words have been substituted for "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" by H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist and author of a new circular being put out by the University of Illinois college of agriculture on "rearing turkeys in confinement," in which the new adage is "a young turkey in the pen is worth two on the range."

Range production has usually been considered most logical from a point of sanitation and prevention of disease, such as blackhead and worms, but the latest advice to Illinois turkey raisers is that they cannot afford to overlook the successful results of rearing the birds in confinement.

"Under the confinement system the plan of yarding generally appropriate for this state is similar to the plan recommended in other states. The brooder house, for instance, is not located on ground which has been ranged by poultry for two or more years," Mr. Alp advises. "This insures freedom from blackhead and worms, a highly important precaution. The young birds are let out in one of four small yards that generally measure about 10 by 15 feet each, used in rotation, so that the young turkeys remain in each yard about 10 days to two weeks."

After going through this rotation of yards the pults are expected to be roosting and able to do without brooder heat. A wire floor pen in connection with the brooder house is suggested as an alternative to the yarding system to avoid pests and diseases. From the brooder house the flock can be moved to a rearing range, with one to one and one-half acres of good sod, clover or alfalfa range, usually sufficient from six to eight weeks old until marketable age. The range, too, is divided into four sections, each used about a month, with a cheap roosting shelter provided for the flock.

No House Big Enough to Hold In-Laws, Is Miss Blake's Advice

BY DORIS BLAKE.

More cause for DON'T MARRY if you have to live with the in-laws:

Case 1. She was one of those easy-going individuals who would do anything to avoid a quarrel, but who had a deep capacity for suffering just the same. The in-laws did not like her. Thought she was no "equal" to the brave man of their family. He was not such a prize in circles outside of his own family group. He stood by with ears shut and tongue stilled while the meek one suffered the insults that only the meek may suffer from hostile in-laws. Worse than that, when he was invited out in the family car he went, leaving the one he married to stay behind and wonder what it was all about. He was taken away on week-end excursions by his mother and sister.

Well, he went on one too many. When he returned last time there wasn't any girl there to force a smile and inquire if he'd had a good time. She'd been spirited away by one who couldn't look on peacefully at the injustice of the domestic scene. Once away, she found a courage she hardly knew existed in her. He's coaxing her back but she's adamant. They'll not only have a house of their own but they'll move to a distant town before she'll return to him.

Case 2. She worked until the baby was about due. Up until that time she had turned over twenty a week regularly along with her young husband's twenty to his mother in return for a roof and board. The baby's coming was greeted as a calamity. It cut off half of the old lady's income, which was NOT her only source of financial upkeep. A good-for-nothing son [not the husband] was the real need of the money. Between mother and the good-for-nothing son the girl's life was one long day of misery which influenced her health so that she was not equal to the crisis. The baby died and the young mother nearly passed out. What the outcome will be can only be guessed at the present moment.

Case 3. The girl has written tradesmen to send her bills to her sister's address. Her in-law opens her mail, reads her personal letters and makes biting comment on her extravagance as judged from store bills.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Yacht Racing in Wisconsin Holds Interest

Yatchsmen at nearby lakes are putting their crafts in order for the inter lakes regatta which will open on Saturday and continue all next week at Neenah, on Lake Winnebago, Wis. The country club at Neenah will be the headquarters and entertainment center for the visiting sailors and the throngs who will go up to attend the races. There will be a dance on Saturday night, dinners and luncheons every day during the regatta, and a dance at the conclusion of the races next week-end.

Twelve boats have been entered from Lake Delavan, including those manned by Elmer Stevens, Gordon and Barten Cameron, John Campbell, and Harry Nye. Mr. Nye is looked upon as a formidable opponent by the Delavan contingent, as he has been winning most of the races up there this summer.

Lake Geneva will be represented by Frederick Wacker, Ernst Schmidt, Frank Porter, Marquette Healy, Fredrick Gartz, and Edward Brewster, who will bring his boat from Lake Forest. There will also be delegations from Minnetonka, White Bear, and other Wisconsin lakes.

Chicagoans continue to figure prominently in reports of the Berkshire resorts. The Prentiss L. Coonleys give a large picnic supper almost every Sunday evening at their estate at Great Barrington, Mass. Last Sunday they entertained for Albert Spalding, the violinist, and Mrs. Spalding; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prichard Eaton, and Chester Aldrich. Miss Eleanor and Miss Alice Coonley will return this week from a month's stay at a ranch at Cody, Wyo.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Metz have as their guests at Fernbrook, in Lenox, Miss Harriet Monroe of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. Kurt Offenhorff of Baden Baden, Germany, and William Lindsay of Bournemouth, England. Mrs. Metz gave a tea on Monday for the Stockbridge players.

Mr. and Mrs. Delano de Windt have returned to Great Barrington from Falmouth, Cape Cod. They were among the guests at a dinner and bridge party given by John H. C. Church at the Wyantenuck club for his daughter, Mrs. Edward Heath Peters of Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Forsyth, formerly of 942 Lake Shore drive, have returned to Princeton, N. J., after a visit with the James Ransom Walkers at Fair Acres in Stockbridge. Mr. and Mrs. John H. P. Gould of New York are guests of Mrs. Gould's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson, at the Lodge in Lenox. Miss Gertrude W. Hart of the Ambassador East is at Red Lion inn in Stockbridge for the month of August.

Mrs. Ambrose Cramer of Lake Forest returned on Sunday from a two months' sojourn abroad. She will have within a few days to spend the remainder of the summer in Biltmore Forest at Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. Andrew E. Sherriff of 1320 North State Parkway will leave on Friday for New York to see her mother, Mrs. Bernard Listeman, leave for a year's stay in Europe. Mrs. Sherriff will remain in the east for about six weeks, visiting friends at Lenox, Mass., in the Berkshires, at Gloucester, and in the Pocono mountains in Pennsylvania. She will be in New York for a few days before returning to Chicago in early October.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCulloch of the Drake Towers are to give a house party this week-end at Charnelloch lodge, their estate at Big Sand lake, near Phelps, Wis. The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Allan M. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lobdell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Condon, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Griffin and Col. and Mrs. William J. Sutherland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Matthews Dick, former Chicagoans now residing in Washington, D. C., with their children, Matthews Jr. and Ronald, are at Moorland lodge at Newport, R. I., for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bard of Winnetka and their children have gone to the Wausaukee club in northern Wisconsin for the remainder of the month.

Mrs. John Lester of Macon, Ga., is the house guest this month of Mrs. Ferdinand Wiegand of Highland Park. A number of luncheons and dinner parties are being given for Mrs. Lester by her north shore friends, many of whom have visited her in Macon.

Mrs. Lester is one of the trustees of the Tallulah Falls Industrial school, situated in the mountains not far from Atlanta.

Here's What Awaits Sally's Crowd During Their Next Show

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

No matter what your preferences are when it comes to the theater, you are sure to enjoy the program the Jack and Jill company has planned for our party on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23. Three one act plays of different types and to suit a variety of tastes will provide a few hours of perfect entertainment for us and will mean another successful party added to our list of delightful times.

"Li'l Black Heliotrope," which will open the program, takes us back to pre-civil war days and the era of slavery. Miss Frances Cavanagh, who wrote this play, is famous for her stories for and about young people.

Then there will be "Wee Willie Winkle," by Rudyard Kipling. The young hero's real name is Percival William Williams. It's about British army post life in India.

The next play is about an Irish beggarman. It is called "The Pot of Broth" and was written by William Butler Yeats. The scene is Ireland.

To see these interesting and delightful plays you'll have to write your letter today and have it reach me by tomorrow morning. Tell me why you'd like to attend this party, and if your letter is sufficiently convincing you will be included in the hundred boys and girls winning invitations. Any one may compete. Address your letter to Sally Joy Brown, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago, and have it include your name, address and age.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Maj. and Mrs. Harry Leonard announce the engagement of the latter's daughter, Ellen Ward Thoron, to Francis Wayne MacVeagh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacVeagh. The wedding will be a strictly family affair next month in Washington. Miss Thoron was a debutante three seasons ago. She is a member of the Junior league. She spent last winter in Rome as the guest of her uncle and aunt, the American ambassador to Italy and Mrs. John W. Garrett. Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Leonard were daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Warder, formerly of Chicago, but who lived the later years of their lives in this city. Mr. MacVeagh is a graduate of Harvard, class of '21, and is an instructor there. He will take his bride to Cambridge, Mass., to live.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. H. H. Hough, who spent the week-end at the Mayflower here, went to New York yesterday and will sail for Panama this week. Admiral Hough has been assigned to duty as commandant of the 15th naval district, with headquarters at Balboa, Canal Zone.

[Paul Stone-Raymor Photo.]

Toothbrush Should Massage the Gums, as Well as Brush

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Toothbrush in hand, your duty does not rest with scouring the teeth alone. Not if you want to preserve the healthy, pink, firm tissue of the gums, about which so many of our good advertisements are written, nowadays. The toothbrush may have been originated with the idea of cleansing the teeth, but it has grown appreciably in usefulness since it was discovered that in order to have healthy gums some form of massage had to be given them. And the toothbrush proves about the best little massage manipulator there is on the market.

In the old days when people chewed food and chewed hard on it because there wasn't any other way of getting it down, the gums were provided with sufficient exercise to take care of them. Today, what with the highly concentrated foodstuffs commonly indulged in and the reduced diets of even that, so largely practised, the gum tissue is in a fair way to suffer. Also, it might be here interjected, the common fault of washing food down with water spoils many a good chance for massage that gums might otherwise enjoy.

I do think people are becoming saner all the time about food practices and the value of food in both a health and beauty way. There is still much to be wished for, however, in connection with food and teeth and and mouth hygiene. Few people, for instance, deliberately chew some hard food daily to exercise their teeth, gums, and other oral tissues. Some of the reducers, it is true, learned to chew on thin, hard toast, unbuttered, but more of this sort of thing could be indulged in. Celery could be chewed on. Lettuce, of course, is rather universally used once a day. It can be chewed on. A hard roll can be employed, or hard bread of some kind, and some fibrous vegetable.

And employ the toothbrush for the mechanical aid it is in preserving the health of the gums. Brush if the gums are slightly tender. Keep on brushing and soon the soreness will disappear. A bit of salt on the brush is advocated, but don't consider the toothbrush duty done until it has been employed with vigor on the gums.

White Is Preferred for Summer Evenings

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special.] — Despite the spring wave of pastel tints, Paris has returned to her first love, white, for summer evenings. There are many reasons why white should be a chic warm weather favorite. It suggests cool things: snow drifts, morning clouds, graceful swans. For daytime wear it lets through the healthful, actinic rays of the sun while it keeps out the harmful ones. In the evening it can be worn with any colored accessories and thus may be varied, infinitely. And, if the proper degree and texture be chosen, it is becoming to all types and ages of femininity.

At all the brilliant functions of the final fling of the Paris season white was worn by the smartest women. Some wore it with diamonds; some preferred a parure of plain rubies, or the ruby and sapphire combinations so lately launched by Mauboussin; others accented their effect with jade or turquoise.

From the north coast and the south coast comes the news that white continues to triumph in the seaside haunts of fashion. Madeleine Vionnet makes the evening frock, sketched above, of creamy white in the new delustered satin, that is treated so that it does not shine at all. It follows a cunning line that could only be imagined by Vionnet, that past-mistress of diagonal and circular cutting.

It is princess, fitted to below the hips, where it bursts into wide circular fullness. Four godets entirely composed of small circular flounces are set into the skirt from the waistline to the point where the fullness begins. The skirt is level instep length. Long creamy suede gloves are worn with this frock.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wants Twin Baby Carriage.

"I have become interested in the mother of six children who brings her two months' old twins to the welfare station. The father was injured at work and will have to have a finger amputated. He has been unable to work for some time. Two of the things they need most are a twin baby carriage so they can take the babies out and a dresser or chest of drawers. I know they would appreciate any help given to them. F. L."

If your twins have outgrown their baby carriage here are two eager young applicants for it. Perhaps one of you will have the dresser their mother needs so badly, too.

Use for Wheel Chair.

"An elderly woman living at the same place I do has been confined to her bed for several years, but could use a wheel chair if she had one. Her daughter, living with her, has been unable to take an outside position as she must remain at home to care for her. The family consisting of just these two is without funds except for odd jobs the daughter can get to do at home. F. C."

Food Talk.

Not long ago I heard an experienced housewife make this remark: "There are thousands of women who are extremely careless in the preparation of food." Thinking she was a bit extravagant in her criticism, I asked on what basis her judgment was made. She came back immediately, "One need not observe a woman in action in her kitchen to prove this. The odors of food floating all over her house are sufficient evidence against her."

The more I have thought of that woman's comments the more I think she is about right. Aren't there but few houses free from the smell of food? And isn't the small house, the kind in which many of us live, the most offending?

If one analyzes these smells that displease, one will find in almost every instance they start from carelessly cooked or spoiled food. This being true, then no house need be so invaded. Simple and scrupulous care is all that is necessary.

Will scrupulous care require that a woman spend more time in her kitchen? Perhaps less time will be required. Four hours each day should be sufficient for the preparation of food for the average sized family, provided the housewife is an efficient worker.

Once cooking is begun one must give all one's attention and care to it. No dish, however simple, will cook itself. The kitchen should never be left while cooking is going on, unless of necessity, and then only for a few minutes. This is the only way of avoiding odors. Take unremitting care of the following points and see how soon the house is free of objectionable smells.

Never allow a hot frying pan to remain on the fire with only fat in it. No fat used for frying should be kept for future use. The economy is not worth making.

After food has been cooked and served, lose no time in caring for leftovers, clearing dishes and ridding the kitchen of waste.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.

Letter received by Mae Sicokis, 52 North 1st street, Highland Park, Ill.

"The enclosed envelope came to us from Athos, Greece," Miss Sicokis writes. "The writer is a first cousin, who is a monk in the monastery at Mount Athos.

"Mount Athos, a famous mountain, is located on a peninsula projecting into the Aegean sea, between the Gulfs of Contessa and Monte Santo. In modern times, Athos has been occupied for an extended period by a number of monks of the Greek church, who live in a sort of fortified monastaries, in number about twenty, of different degrees of magnitude and importance. These, with the farms attached to them, occupy the whole peninsula; hence it has derived its modern name of Monte Santo.

positions of strikingly romantic beauty. Except the produce of their own farms and vineyards and the sale of crosses and beads, they depend chiefly on the oblations of pilgrims. They pay an annual tribute and admit no females on the island."

The main peak on the peninsula rises like a pyramid to a height of 6,350 feet, and at sunset can be seen from the plain of Troy on the east and the slopes of Olympus on the west. The peninsula is about 40 miles long, with a width varying from four to seven miles. The rule which bars women and female animals from the island was embodied in a constitution approved by the Emperor Constantine in 1045.

In summer you need this inconspicuous sanitary protection

Never is Kotex so indispensable as in summer—with clothing reduced to a minimum—and frocks so thin and dainty.

ONE of the important reasons why smart women are so very enthusiastic about Kotex lies in its clever shaping.

Wear these dainty things every day, if you like. Just be sure that Kotex — no substitute — is your sanitary protection.

Kotex absorbs 5 times as much as the finest cotton. And even on the warmest days you'll find Kotex retains its light, delicate quality for several hours. This is largely due to the remarkable substance of which it is made — Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding.

Preferred by hospitals

Kotex deodorizes—so appreciated in summer. Dispose of it just as you would a piece of tissue. No washing, no embarrassment.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .
1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

BRITISH 'STAND AND FIGHT' WAR HERO DIES AT 72

Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien Saved Mons Retreat.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—One of the most remarkable figures of the world war a man who saved the allied retreat at Mons by a daring disobedience of orders and battled the oncoming German soldiers, passed today with the death of Gen. Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien. He died of injuries received in an automobile accident yesterday. He was 72 years old.

GEN. SIR HORACE SMITH-DORRIEN. [American Press Photo.]

"Stand and Fight" Order.

The allies were fleeing and Sir John had given orders to Gen. Smith-Dorrien, commanding the second army, to evacuate the territory. Gen. Smith-Dorrien foresaw greater losses because of the proximity of the enemy if he obeyed orders and after he was assured by Field Marshal Sir Edmund Allenby, then major general, commanding the cavalry, of his support, he gave the famous order of "Very well, then, gentlemen, we will fight."

The wisdom of the decision was upheld by Gen. von Kluck, commanding the German offensive, with the statement that his inability to outflank Gen. Smith-Dorrien cost him the success of the drive. The official British history of the war also credited Gen. Smith-Dorrien with saving the retreat and Sir John French lauded him in dispatches, but later changed his mind and brought about his recall by Lord Kitchener. He was transferred to England and there was ordered to take charge of operations against German East Africa, but was taken ill on the voyage out and was forced to return home.

Aid de Camp to King.

In 1910 Gen. Smith-Dorrien was aid de camp to King George. He retired in 1923, finishing his career of nearly a half of a century in the service of his country as governor of Gibraltar. The general was one of the few who escaped the massacres in the Zulu war. He fought in India and in the Egyptian campaign of 1881, and was instrumental in the capture of Gen. Cronje and his army in the Boer war.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Two elderly women died at the county hospital in Wauwatosa today of injuries resulting from falls in their homes, while a third fell dead of heart disease, the coroner's office announced. The first was Mrs. Nora Ryan, 72, 460 Carper street, who fell at her home July 20 and fractured her left thigh. She fell out of bed at the hospital, fracturing an arm, on Aug. 1. The two injuries and her advanced age contributed to the death.

Girl Seeks Death by Leap Into Lake; Saved by Guard

Following a quarrel with her husband yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Fay Hayes, 24 years old, 1728 North Wells street, employed in a candy factory, wandered down to Navy pier and, when she believed no one looking, jumped into the lake. The splash was heard, however, by Joseph Folagstrom, life guard at the pier, who dove and brought her up. Revived at the Passavant hospital, she was sent to the county hospital until fully recovered. She refused to tell police about the quarrel.

MAKE FIREPROOF MAIL BAG FOR AIR ROUTE USE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A fireproof air mail bag, developed by the bureau of standards from asbestos, was exhibited at the postoffice department today preliminary to its inauguration into service on Sept. 1. The first consignment is scheduled for the New York to Chicago night air mail, with other night routes to be supplied later.

An air pocket system, made possible by a quilting arrangement, prevents hot air in case of fire from reaching the interior of the bag. Experiments had proved hot air penetration the greatest difficulty to overcome.

Air mail officials said loss of mail through fire had been only 4,863 pounds during the last fiscal year.

ROOSEVELT NOTE CURBS SARATOGA GAMBLING SPIRIT

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Gov. Roosevelt's letter to three Saratoga officials has put at least a temporary crimp in gambling here.

It already has closed most of the smaller places in the inner district of the city, where the small fry race track followers were accustomed to lay bets on the horses with the handbook men. If it has not entirely closed the more pretentious places about the city and nearby, it has brought about more care in the admission of unknown customers.

None of the three officials, ordered by the governor to "do their full duty" and to report to him by Thursday on what they had done, would talk for publication, except to say that they would report as directed.

RADIO FANS WILL HEAR DIVER TALK TO FLYERS IN AIR

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—A two-way conversation between a man deep down on the floor of the sea and flyers speeding high in the sky, in a passenger plane, is to be put on the air at 6 o'clock Friday night over a nation-wide hookup of the National Broadcasting company.

Capt. A. B. Henderson, a diver, will descend to the bed of the Pacific ocean off Venice, Cal., carrying a special microphone, and as he walks among the fish and marine flora will describe the scenes he encounters in the deep.

Cruising on the water in the immediate vicinity will be a fast yacht equipped with special short wave transmitters and receivers. This apparatus will pick up and relay the diver's story to the riders in the soaring plane, and when the airship's passengers speak their words will be relayed through the same agency to the man on the floor of the sea.

SHERIFF WHO LET PRISONER LEAVE JAIL FINED $100

Portland, Me., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Charged with contempt of court for permitting a federal prisoner his liberty at various times from the Kennebec county jail, Sheriff Chester W. Getchell of Augusta late today pleaded guilty and was fined $100 in the United States District court.

Evidence uncovered by a department of justice operative showed that the officer had permitted Wallace Cormier, serving a sentence for a liquor violation, to leave the jail several times under guard.

The federal charges against Getchell were preferred today a few hours after the Rev. Frederick W. Smith, head of the Maine Christian Civic league, had issued a statement demanding the sheriff's resignation on the grounds that he "had obligated himself to a bootlegger."

After admitting the fact that Freeman Derocher of Waterville, a convicted liquor law violator, had loaned him $1,500 on a personal note which he described as a business transaction, the sheriff today had nothing further to say on the matter.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS
A five year test has proven conclusively that second mortgage loans can be made at a cost which is not out of proportion to the rates charged on first mortgage loans and other types of recognized and regulated financial transactions.
And these rates which we have introduced in this community and all of the conditions attached to our way of loaning have stood the test of prosperous times, and are standing the test of a period of depression in real estate.
We are making second mortgage loans and invite the home owner who may be looking for new funds or who may be desirous of refinancing a part or all of maturing mortgage financing to make use of the facilities which we offer.
We charge 7% accruing interest and a commission of 3½% for 1 year, 6½% for 2 years, and 9% for 3 years.
